BOTANICAL TEXT-BOOKS.

By Professor ASA GRAY,
Of Harvard University,
Author of "How Plants Grow," "School and Field
Book of Botany," "Manual of Botany," "Structural and Systematic Botany," &c., &c.

"Botany should be taught in every school, and these Volumes should be the Text-Books."—Prof. J. S. Davis, University of Virginia. The publishers beg to call the attention of those

The publishers beg to call the attention of those about forming classes in Botany to the well known works by Professor Gray. Having been carefully revised, they present the latest and most accurate principles and developments of the science and it is sufficient indorsement of them to state that they are used in almost every noted College, fligh School and Seminary in the country, and are recommended over other series by nine-tenths of the leading Professors and Botanical Teachers in the United States.

No author has yet approached Professor Gray in the rare art of making purely scientific theories and dry details popular and interesting. From his charming elementary work "How Plants Grow," to his more elaborate "Manual" the e is one simple, concise and yet exhapsitive inched of teaching the various grades of the study.

CHARLESTON, S. C. THE YORKVILLE ENQUIRER FOR 1871 With the first of the year, the YORKVILLE EN-

RIORDAN, DAWSON & CO.,

With the hist of the year, the lower than En-QUIRER will enter upon its seventeenth volume; and the success with which the proprietor has met in the past, in his efforts to publish a first-class Literary and Family paper, has induced him to present attractions in the future, superior to any heretofore offered. With this view, and for the purpose of securing
ORIGINAL SERIAL STORIES ORIGINAL SERIAL STORIES of a high order, remunerative prizes were offered for the three best competitive stories. From a large number that were submitted, a committee, composed of distincerseted and competent literary gentlemen, selected as the most entertaining.
"AVLONA," "TEMPTATION," and "THE LOST DIAMOND;" which, on opening the seals containing the authors' names, were found to be from the pens of some of the most popular story writers; and these productions are pronounced equal to the stories issued from any weekly press in the country.

country. THE PRIZE STORIES will run through at least twenty-six numbers of the paper, and will be followed by three other Original Stories of absorbing interest, written ex-Original Stories of assoroing interest, which ex-pressly for the ENGUIRER, entitled, respectively. "DESTINY—A TALE OF BEFORE THE WAR?" "BROKEN GISTERNS:" and "UNKNOWN"—inak-ing not less than three hundred columns of Origi-nal Stories to be published during the year, which, in addition to the "Miscellaneous Read." which, in addition to the "Miscellaneous Reading," adapted to all classes, the Agricultural Department, containing practical and useful information for the Farmer; "Reading for the Sabbath," under the supervision of a clerical gentleman of marked ability, whose graceful pen embellishes his department in overy number; a column of Wit and Humor; together with Editorials on appropriate topics; a compend of the News, at home and abroad; Commercial and Market Re-appropriate topics; a compend of the News, at home and abroad; Commercial and Market Reports, and being one of the lagest papers published in the South, printed in the best style on a steam press, the Evquirer will supply the want of every fireside, and sustain its reputation as a newspaper for the family circle.

With the determination to keep up with the spirit of the times—the distribution of Prizes being a popu ar idea—the proprietor has determined to adopt a system of GIFT DISTRIBUTION among the subscribers of the ENQUIRER, but upon a plan different from that so prevalent, in which brass jeweiry, "dumb watches" and shilling pictures are the chief attractions. It is deemed preferable to award a substantial gift, in an equitable manner, upon the following plan:

Commencing with the first week in January, 1871, the name of each yearly subscriber on the list, who has paid in advance, will be placed in a box provided for the purpose. On each Wednesday morning throughout the year, after thoroughly mixing the names, one name will be drawn from the box—the person whose name shall be so drawn to be entitled to a prize of FIVE DOLLARS in cash. 23 As names are added to the list they will be placed in the box.—60. The name of the person drawn each week will be announced in the issue of the paper succeeding the drawing, and the money promptly forwarded to the address.
