Queen Victoria opened the new St. George's Hospital in person on the 20th June. This immense establishment, which is to have 600 beds, is situated on the southern bank of the Thames, opposite the House of Parliament. and the sum pald for the ground was $450,000. The entire site is over eight and a half acres, and about half of it is land reclaimed from the Thames. The buildings are constructed in seven separate blocks, and are connected on the ground floor by corridors, the longest one being over half a mile from end to end. There is a part of the building specially set apart for training Miss Nightingale's nurses; and laboratories, dispensaries, operating rooms, museum, and everything that skill and money can procure for a first-class hospital. The mortuary is at the southern end, and is reached by an underground passage, so as not to be within ter of this city, and those unacquainted with their superstitions are prone to set the desertions of dying friends down as acts of selfishness. This, however, is not so, as the Chinese believe that if persons die in a house that they lived in before death their spirits will haunt the place ever after, and give unpleasant evidence of their presence to those who remain. In order to prevent the manifestations of the restless spirit, as soon as the doctor gives it as his opinion that a patient cannot survive, he is taken to another place and left alone to die. Yest day case of this kind was reported to the coroner. A young Chinawoman, who had been given up by her attending physician, was carried by her relatives to an untenant house on Allis place, off Pacific street, above Dupont. They then dressed her in her best clothing, spread a new matting on the floor, and laid her on it. Then they brought in preserves. meats, fruits, candles, boiled rice, &c., lighted ome punks and retired, leaving her alone to await the coming of the common destroyer. During the day she died, and was found last night. Coroner Letterman removed the body and it is now in the Morgue, awaiting the further action of the relatives, who will probably leave her to be disposed of by the city, as is generally their practice in all such cases. Many Chinamen-those of the wealthy classes -do not desert their dead friends, and for the furtherance of this desire there are several hospitals fitted up, in order that those about to dle may be removed there until they pay the debt of nature, after which they are buried with all the ceremonies of the disciples of Confucius."

The Public Schools.

We direct attention to the following extract from the Boston Advertiser, true in every particular except in the last line. The present system of public schools was inaugurated some years before the war, and was in very successful operation. The only modification made in it since the war is the education of the colored people, which was fairly set in motion by the Board here seve ral years ago, and worked admirably, as also did the white department. We mean all worked well, till the Radical office-holders, having other use for the people's money, suddenly closed the school-houses. This is all that the "new system" has done for us. The old system gave us superior schools, and the new closed the same. Such is Radicalism-such the boasted party of great moral ideas. The following is the extract from the Advertiser:

"The public schools of the City of Charles ton, S. C., have been closed indefinitely for a reason which implies disgraceful conduct on the part of some public officers. The teachers of the schools have received no pay since the beginning of the year, and the City Board of School Commissioners, in announcing their purpose to close the schools, say they have no reasonable assurance or hope that the means of payment can be obtained for a considerable time to come. The schools will not be reopened until provision is made for paying the teachers what is due them, and for the support of the schools in future. The money for the support of free schools is raised by general tax, and by law is set apart for the purpose. The State Superintendent of Education declines making any state ment as to what has been done with this money, or why it was not forthcoming. There appears to be considerable indignation at the present condition of affairs, but nobody suggests how it is to be remedied. There are grave suspicions that the school fund has been sacrificed by the officers who should have guarded it, in satisfying the profuse appropriatlons of the late corrupt Legislature. The teachers, who have patiently continued their work for six months without pay, have been ignobly abused, but their lot is not as unfortunate as that of the children, who are now de prived of opportunities they will hardly recover. The whole affair must have a demorali zing effect on the new and promising system of public education inaugurated since the

A Republican Advocates "Barbarism.

The Post, a Radical sheet published in Wilmington, N. C., forgot itself as one of the exponents of the great party of moral ideas, when it gave vent to its indignation in the following style:

"There are some instances in which we think the revival of the whipping post would be a desirable thing. A few days ago a human brute, in Ithaca, N. Y., whipped a little girl of eight years until her back was one mass of bruises and inflamed stripes. The only reason given by the monster for his fiendish conduct was, that when he attempted to punish the little one 'she screamed !' There is no punishment_adequate to such a creature, save on the principal or an eye for an eye, a tooth for a tooth. Tied to the whipping post and the blows more plentifully and severely laid on as she suffered, the scoundrel would perhaps learn a lesson in self-control."

Just think of it, an editor of the sublimated morality school actually putting in a good word for the whipping post. Fie! Fie! But speaking of "adequate punishment," an idea strikes us. Is it a punishment to put a young negro thief in jail, where he is sure of his board and lodging, and then pamper him in idleness for three or six months, at the expense of the State? We would not return to the barbarism of the whipping post; of course not? But we sometimes think that the old fashioned "forty "save one" would have answered a better purpose in these cases, than a simple registration in Sheriff Mackey's Hotel. Punishment certainly should imply something to be dreaded, whereas the vast horde of culprits that now fills our jails are having a very good time of it-plenty to eat, and nothing to do. As soon as their term expires, they at once return to their avocation, not in the least deterred by the fear of confinement in the jail, proving most clearly that our present primitive system is a mere farce.

The Outlook for the South.

The Washington Patriot concludes an article reviewing the condition of the Southern crops, in the light of the latest and most marks:

"The decline of the cotton crop in pounds will at least be compensated by an increase in price, and this will show a net gain on the part of the South of 25 per cent. saved by the planters in freight and factors' charges. The in-Chinese have many customs peculiar to their | crease in the corn crop will represent a clear | their obstructions, leaves them in a healthy, vigmoney gain to the full value of that increment orous condition. It seems unnecessary to state, as being unnatural and strange. As the South never raises The most striking of these superstitions are this crop must be estimated not by its field dving and dead relatives. Very often the dead where and delivered at the plantation. In licat large. "But this prosperous outlook for the forebodes disaster at the West. Their wheat values are already beat down in Mark Lane, by the cheap competition of the Visibilia and Dnieper plains, and without an outlet at the South for their surplus corn crop, which promises to be enormous, the prices of corn and provisions must fall to a point lower than has been reached for many years. Taxes and tariffs bear inordinately heavy upon the West already; labor is scarce and disproportionately high; the whole country is in debt, with interest costing from 10 to 20 per cent, and there is little chance of things bettering. Unless such a speedy and effectual modification of the tariff and revenue system can be reached as will lighten the pressure upon the overburdened agricultural classes of the West, we shall witness before a year has passed such a gene ral prostration and ruin as have not occurred since 1857. The barometer is ominously low, the storm is brewing; let those embarked in the deep sea look well to their topsalls."

New and Interesting Books.

"Fragments of Science for Unscientific People," and "Heat and Electricity," are the titles of two works , by Professor John Tyndall, lately brought out in American editions by Messrs. D. Appleton & Co. The first named volume contains the well-known treatise on "Dust and Disease," which naturally created so marked a seusation when it appeared several months ago, besides lectures on the "Chemical Rays and 'Structure and Light of the Sun," "Radia-"tion," and other kindred topics. "Heat "and Electricity" is a compact presentation in a popular form of all that is known to the scientific world of these subtle but mighty agencies. The style of Professor Tyndall is clearness itself; his thoughts are set forth with words that are sunbeams, and the facts of science as evolved by his pen become invested with a strange fascination which every reader must feel and admit. The hooks may be had at Russell's.

DE OUR SKINS ARE SEIVES, AND arough millions of orifices cozes the transparent fluid which nature does not need for vital purposes. This is a wise provision of Providence; but excessive perspiration is, nevertheless, extremely weakening. During the heats of summer all hard-working men perspire to an extent that is more or less debilitating. They, of all classes of the community, require a wholesome invigorant at this season. Let them not seek it in the liquors of the bar-room; they will not find it there. A medicated stimulant, pure and undefiled, is what they need; and among this class of remedies, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS stands alone. No valid plea can be urged against its use, even by the genius of Temperance itself; for even the M line law permits the sale of diffusive stimuli for medicinal purposes. As a general rentrustworthy reports, with the following re- ovating preparation, the Bitters has no equal anywhere. But this is only one of the merits of this famous invigorator. Its regulating properties give it an immense superiority over all the tonics of the Pharmacoræia. In cases of chronic constipation it is the most useful and certain of all aperients. It creates no violent commotion in the discharging organs, but gently relieving them of in view of the mass of testimony as to its effects in dyspepsia, that it is a permanent cure for that terrible and but too general complaint. The numerous "Bitters." under various names which mercenary dealers endeavor to substitut for Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, should be avoided, for their own sakes by the sick and the pubbottles only, and never sold in bulk.
