late riot. Mr. Beecher advises the Orangemen to parade next year without a banner less or an inscription erased. They have, he says, become by accident the representatives of a principle which underlies modern civilization, and if they fall to march through the streets of New York on the occasion of their next anniversary, they will betray a sacred duty. -The prison of Bowen is described as having been the most comfortable place in Washington during the hot weather. There were no bars to the windows, and the door opened into a cool and shady yard, where the immur ed Congressman lolled at ease, read the papers, received company, smoked cigars, and ate the well-cooked meals which were brought to him from his home. It would appear, on the whole, that one of the most desirable pleasures of Washington is to get put into

A New York letter fells us: "Mademoiselle Misson has shipped her lover and her dame de compagnie, Mrs. Richards, back to Europe together, and has gone off (with only her maid) with Judge Stoughton and wife to their country home in Yermont. From there she goes to Newport with them, they having taken the old Governor Gibbs house for the summer. The story is, that Mrs. Richards has been gotten rid of for the reason that she is the person who made the match between Madem and the young Frenchman who has recently been here, and whom Mademoiselle does not now intend to marry. So Madame Richards and the lover were dispatched together, and Misson is going to manage affairs herself no v.

according to the approved American plan." The earthquake, which about once a year shakes up unrepentant New England in the midst of its sinjulness, has come around again, and this time even rang the church bells en route to give emphasis to its promonitory purport. The "quake" seems to have been first experienced at Portland, Maine, a little before 1 o'clock on Thursday morning, as announced in our dispaiches. Telegrams state that the shock was felt during the morning at Saco and Brunswick, Maine, about the same hour, and the direction of the "wave" was from north to south. It was felt also at Boston, Massachusetts, Portsmouth and New Hampshire. At Concord, New Hampshire, at five minutes to I o'clock the shock came heavily along, accompanied by a deep rumbling noise. Buildings were violently rocked and church bells rung. Reports from different parts of New Hampshire fadicate that it was very general through that State.

The Utica Herald gives an account of a singular balloon chase which occurred in the clouds over Poughkeepsle. A Mr. Squire and a Miss Thurston—the latter said to be a well-educated young lady of nineteen—started together, but in separate balloons. Squire scended nearly to the clouds, but, seeing that Miss Thurston was not following him very fast, descended to give her instructions. Before he reached the young lady, however, she threw out the contents of two sandbags, and shot up like a rocket into the clouds. Squire allowed his balloon to drift under the clouds, and in sight of the earth, until over Hyde Park, when he threw out ballast, and went up through the clouds into the clear sunlight. He says he must have ascended nearly half a mile above the clouds before he caught sight of Miss Thurston's balloon, which was then at least four miles above the earth and looked to him no bigger than a man's hat. In due time both the erial voyagers made

-The roll has been called in Paris, and the the remarkable result of showing 30,000 men, ession of the Commune, and 90,000 prison ers taken. We may well doubt the accuracy dition to this vast multitude already disposed t, there are 50,000 Communists still in hiding, sought after by the police. The cost of the Communistic insurrection in Paris is in any case beyond computation in very definite manner. The loss in property may be fixed with olerable accuracy; but the long list of murdered prisoners, citizens slaughtered by Versailles shells during the bombardment, others killed and buried with the falling buildings in the week of incendiarism, and the uncounted files of maddened wretches shot down by the captors on the bank of the Seine, can never be satisfactorily filled out. Perhaps 30,000 including 6000 women and children, is a tolerable guess; but, whether it approaches the truth or not, the fact of its acceptance as accu rate goes far to show how terrible must have been the carnage and how indiscriminate the well the Riff-Raff Prevail ?

We have trustworthy information that terrible discord reigns in the Radical ranks in the city. The "respectable" members of the party can no more agree among themselves than the Riff-Raff. Even a Sunday caucus last evening failed to beget harmony. It is likely that, after all, the Riff-Raff will have their own way in nominating a ticket, and that the respectable folks will be whip ped in, as usual, toits support. Respectability and Radicalism, hereabouts, like oil and water, will not mix.

"Carpet-Baggers."

Mr. Horace Greeley tells us that, when he hurls his plain Saxon at the mixed crew of new-comers in the South, among whom are included so large a proportion of unscrupulous adventurers and political outcasts, he notices a prodigious "ducking of heads," as of those who feel suddenly conscious that the card, stamping as an utter and outrageous cap thrown out by the Tribune man may be found an unpleasantly close fit for themselves. Nowhere, we venture to say, has this "ducking" been more conspicuous or more frequent than in the case of certain heads here in Charleston. The term "car-"pet-bagger," even without the complimentary and classifying adjective used by Mr. Greeley, never fails to bring them down. Daily they break forth into a woeful jeremiad over some imprudent wight who has chanced to use the awful phrase, and the vials of wrath to come are liberally poured out upon our devoted city which has echoed, if not

It is useless tell the self-constituted apostles of New England civilization that the genuine carpet-bagger is he who comes hither with the sole object of grabbing our offices and plundering our people, and that all new-comers not answering to this description are thrice welcome in the South. This is a point which neither Mr. Greeley's representations nor those of the whole Southern press can make clear to their comprehension. In their misery they crave company. They affectionately throw their arms around every resident who is not a native of South Carolina, no matter how honest or respectable, and claim him, willy-nilly, as brother carpet-bagger.

But this little game is about played out. The people-white and black-know the carpet-baggers. The carpet-baggers know themselves. They always "duck their "beads." The good citizen can anord to laugh at the name. To illustrate: We have two candidates for Mayor. Neither can claim the South as his birth-place. One is a carpet-bagger; the other is not. There is no danger that anybody will make a mistake as to which is which.

vative Party-The Virginia Plan.

In the month of December, 1867, a. memorable convention assembled in the City of Richmond, Virginia: Two years of tyranny, following four years of war, had driven the people almost to despair. Something was to be done, and that speedily. Great evils existed, and greater evils impended. An address, issued by the convention, stirred the people like a trumpet call. Better still, an organization; semi-military in its character, was perfected and put in operation. There were captains of hundreds, captains of fifties, captains even of tens. The entire State became a political "camp of instruc-"tion."

We know the result. When the day of hattle came the State was carried by storm. Organization accomplished the work, and accomplished it easily.

Why should not the Virginia plan be applied to the whole country? It may be said that the Northern people cannot be made to realize the extreme perils which environ them. They cannot be awakened to the dangers which await them if Radical misrule continue during another administration. The reply is that organization, thorough organization, will arouse them: Nothing else will, nothing else can.

Virginia papers are calling for another convention. John Quincy Adams, one of the clearest and strongest heads in the country, perceives that the tug of war is to be in Virginia, and thinks it high time to consider the matter of candidates. Organization must precede candidates, and the Virginians seem to have anticipated Mr. Adams. The convention will be called. The State will be put in trim for the battle of 1872. There will again be captains of hundreds, of fifties, of tens; and Radical money will again be lavished on the Old Dominion in vain.

This we cannot doubt. We would suggest that the thorough organization which will obtain in Virginia, or something analagous to it, be applied to the Union in its length and breadth. We suggest further that'a man of the first order of ability be called at once to the chair of the executive committee in Washington, there to remain until the campaign is over. Senator Thurman is such a man. He has the intellect, the sagacity, the experience, the reputation needed in such a position; and he has that complete love of country which will induce him to sacrifice personal for high public interests. He has the enthusiasm born of passionate love of liberty, and he can inspire his countrymen with a similar

Let him come to the front.

A Contest in Prospect.

Colonel J. G. McKissick, of Union, who, it will be recollected, was the candidate of the Reform party for Congress in the fourth district of this State, is at present engaged in visiting the several counties with the view of procuring sufficient testimony to enable him to contest the seat held by Hon. A. S. Wallace. His ground of contest is that he was defeated by fraudulent means. The Yorkville Enquirer is not sanguine of the colonel's success, as "the frauds practiced 'at the last election," it says, "were so carefully covered up that it will be next to impossible to get anything tangible upon 'which to hang a tale."

South Carolina College.

Professor M. LaBorde, for many years a nember of the Faculty of the South Carolina College, and now one of the professors in the University of South Carolina, proposes to publish a second edition of his book, the "History of the South Carolina College." The first edition closed with the year 1857; the second will embrace the whole period of its existence, commencing with the original act of incorporation in December, 1801, and concluding with the act establishing the university in December, 1865. It will have ncreased interest imparted to it, by containing several new sketches and additions to the sketches of those presidents and professors who have died since the appearance of the work. Among the new sketches will be those of Judge Longstreet, Rev. Robert W. Barnwell, and Professor Venable, of the University of Virginia. It will be embellished by portraits of the presidents of the col-

A Model Community.

A thoroughly peaceable country is the northwestern section of this State. At the recent Term in Oconee County the Court of Sessions had scarcely anything whatever to do. Only three indictments were tried, resulting in the conviction of one person of assault and battery. Commenting on this fact the Walhalla Courier says:

"A population of twelve thousand souls scattered over a wide area, could scarcely have behaved better, if put on their best conduct. This, however, has been the proud record of the citizens of our county for many successive courts. Ours is a white population, and mainthe honorable record of the Caucasian race for order and industry. Every honest man, white or black, rich or poor, native or foreign, is welcomed here, and is protected in all the ights of a citizen."

New Counties.

The Laurensville Herald, speaking of the ew county movement, adverted to several times heretofore in The News, declares itself sceptical as to the present Legislature making arrangements for additional senators from that section of the State, (the up country.)

THE PRIZE STORIES of wit and Humor; together with Entothias on appropriate topics; a compend of the News, at home and abroad; Commercial and Market Re-ports, and being one of the lagest papers pub-lished in the South, printed in the best style on a steam press, the ENQUIRER will supply the want of every freside, and sustain its reputation as a ewspaper for the family circle.
PRIZES TO SUBSCRIBERS.

With the determination to keep up with pirit of the times—the distribution of Prizes with the determination to keep up with the spirit of the times—the distribution of Prizes being a popular idea—the proprietor has determined to adopt a system of GIFT DISTRIBUTION among the subscribers of the ENQUIRER, but upon a plan different from that so prevalent, in which brass jewelry, "dumb watches" and shilling pictures are the chief attractions. It is deemed preferable to award a substantial gift, in an equitable manner, upon the following plan:

Commencing with the first week in January, 1871, the name of each yearly subscriber on the list, who has paid in advance, will be placed in a boxprovided for the purpose. On each Wednesday morning throughout the year, after thoroughly mixing the names, one name will be drawn from the box—the person whose name shall be so drawn to be entitled to a prize of FIVE DOLLARS in cash. 23 As names are added to the list they will be placed in the box.—24. The name of the person drawn each week will be announced in the issue of the paper succeeding the drawing. the person drawn each week will be announced the issue of the paper succeeding the drawing, d the money promptly forwarded to the ad-TERMS, IN ADVANCE.
