THE COTTON MOVEMENT.

OPENING OF THE NEW COMMERCIAL

Falling Off in Receipts of the Staple and Increase of the Export.

NEW YORK, September 10. The movement for the week shows a decrease in the receipts and an increase in the exports, as compared with those of last year. We commence with this week the new cotton year, and make comparisons accordingly The receipts at all of the ports for the week have been 9137 bales, against 7579 the last week, 7844 the previous week, and 7630 three weeks since. The total receipts since September 1st have been 9137 bales, against 11,104 for the corresponding period of the previous year, showing a decrease of 1967 bales in favor of the present season. The exports from all the ports for the week have been 10,193 bales, against 3704 for the same week last year. The total exports for the expired portion of the cotton year amount to 10,198 bares, against 3701 for the same time last year. The present stock, as compared with that of last year, is as follows.

The weather South during the week was generally unfavorable. Rain-storms have prevailed on the south Atlantic coast. These nave extended into the Interior to a certain extent, and there is reason to fear damage to the crop thereby.

ALL ABOUT THE CROPS.

The Out-Look in Chester.

A correspondent of the Lancaster Ledger, who has been through the whole county, estimates the crops of Chester at one-fourth of that of last year. Corn will average better than last year.

Sad Accounts of Cotton and Rice. A Charleston factor allows THE NEWS to make the following extracts from the letters of trustworthy correspondents:

WADMALAW ISLAND, September 5.

The crops were severely injured by the late storm, certainly cut off one-third.

EDISTO, September 4.

The cotton crop has been very much damaged by the storm, and we are just realizing the extent of the injury. Good judges estimate the damage at one-third of the promised yield of a few weeks back; this is considered tile minimum loss.

OCALA, FLA., September 4.

OCALA, FLA., September 4.
The crops have been seriously damaged by storm; do not think more than a third of a crop can be made. The storm here was frightful. No mails for two weeks.

Grahamville, S. C., September 7.
We have just passed through a severe storm, and now are having weather ten times worse; constant showers, with damp, hot weather, which is enough to sprout the rice standing in the fields. The accounts from all directions are of heavy losses in rice and cotton. If we do not have cool and clear weather soon, the crops will turn out badly. crops will turn out badly. The Harvest in Georgetown.

The Harvest in Georgetown.

The Times says: "The rice harvest is in full blast, and the rice birds are in swarms of thousands and tens of thousands. The weather has been unusually cool and clear until Tuesday night, when it commenced to rain. As we write, just before going to press, the temperature is much warmer, and the clouds indicate that more rain may be expected, and to the great inconvenience and probable loss to the planter."

Laurens Falls Short.

A correspondent, writing on the 7th, says:
"Since my last we have had a plenty of rain, succeeded by pleasant weather, which has enabled the farmers to put in a large breadth of turnips. The corn crop will be better than was feared for a while, but the cotton will fall far short of any crop of late years. Much fod-

Mr. William M. Lawton, of Charleston, in a letter to General Hagood, dated Eastham, August 8. says: "If our crop of cotton falls below 3,500,000 bales, high prices will surely refle the coming season; but it must not be pressed too freely on sale. The consumption is very large, and spinners fully employed. I know of one firm of sea Island spinners who are clearing £4000 per week at their mills."

A Half Crop in Union. The Times says: "Cotton has improved a little since the drought ceased, but the crop will be a very short one. The rain has enlarged the boils and improved the fibre, but done nothing more; and if the crop reaches one-half an average, we shall be agreeably disappointed. Although it will be much short of last year's yield, it has been made at less expense; and if it is not forced into market too instily, we believe the advance price will make it more remunerative to the planters than the heavy crop of the year just closed."

Bad for Breadstuff.

Bad for Breadstuffs. The Walhalla Courier says: "In our county reports of great injury to the corn crop from the late freshet comes from every quarter. The bottoms of the Keowee, Tugalo, Little The bottoms of the Keowee, rugalo, Little River and Cane Creek, with their tributaries, were completely flooded, and several farmers consider the injury from this cause will prove more serious than from the drought. The uplands cannot average a half crop."

age to Crops and Railroads.

The Cyclone in Georgia-Immense Dam The Augusta Constitutionalist says:

The Augusta Constitutionalist says:

Last Wednesday a terrific gale, accompanied by heavy rain, swept over the county, between Milledgeville and Macon, prostrating the cotton and blowing down fences. The floods did great damage to the Macon and Augusta Railroad and the Central Railroad. On the latter, the track was washed up for some distance, and several culverts and trestle porks were carried away. The passenger train which left Augusta at 12 o'clock Wednesday, on this road, was stopped at Roberts's Station by employees of the road who gave the conductor information of the break in front, and almost at the same time news was received of the damage which had happened to the track in the rear of the train since its passage, thus in the rear of the train since its passage, thus cutting it off completely. The cyclone extend-ed as far down as Burke County, doing great ed as far down as Burke County, using great injury to the cotton in that section, and was more severe than any storm experienced there for years. Other counties yet to hear from, no doubt, have been equally damaged. This storm has, perhaps, done greater injury to the crops than the cyclone which daysastated the coast some time since, as it passed over a larger tract of country and immediately through the cotton belt.

More Bad Accounts from Georgia. The Alabany (Georgia News says: We are now in possession of renable data from the whole of Southern and Southwestern Georgia, relative to the condition of the cotton crop, and it is our painful duty to report a disastrous failure. This is no sensational announcement, failure. This is no sensational announcement, and is not based upon doubtful information. The best sections of this portion of the State cannot possibly reach two-thirds of an average crop, while the poorer sections will scarcely exceed one-third. The acreage of the latter being much the largest, the plain deduction is that a half crop will not be realized. Before the recent storms and continued rains, the better lands promised a good yield, but not a full crop. Now the rust is making fearful ravages, and the caterpillar is spreading with destructive rapidity. We have direct lutelingence from nearly all the large plantations in the Oakwoods belt, and the concurrent testimony discloses disaster everywhere.

Alabama and Mississippi.

Alabama and Mississippi. The following responsible factors of Mobile have been interviewed in reference to the cotton crop prospects: Crawford, Walsh, Smith & Co., Toomer, Sykes & Billups, Charles Hopkins & Co., Bellmore & Co., Sims, Harrison & THE SYBSTANTIAL RESULTS OF THE Co., Murphy, Agnew & Co., Milhouse, Shield & Co., Stollenwerck Bros., Baker, Lawier & Co., Kirk ey & Carpenter, Foster & Gardner, John A. Game & Cc., who say the accounts received A. Game & Cott, who say the accounts received from friends in Alabama and Mississippi are of the most unfavorable character. The general complaint is damage to the growing crop by worms and rust. The crop is variously estimated at from half to two-thirds of that of

Another anti-Ku-Klux mass meeting is to be held in Orangeburg on the 16th instant.

—There has been an "Intense" public meeting at Laurensville in favor of a railsoad from hat place to Pine House, on the Columbia and Augusta Railroad. At a meeting of the citizens of Union Township, on Monday last, a tax of five per cent was levied upon the State and county tax of the township for school purposes.

CRIME IN THE STATE.

A Desperate Kuife Duel in Chesterfield. The Lancaster Ledger prints the particulars of a desperate rencontre, which took place near Zoah campground, in Chesterfield County, on Saturday night last, between Mr. Ransom Arar and Mr. Lasanh Delger, the Campaign of the County of the Campaign of the som Arant and Mr. Joseph Plyler—the former a citizen of Lancaster, and the latter living just over the State line in Union County, N. C. It appears that a difficulty had sprung up be-tween the parties that evening, while riding along the road on their way to attend preachalong the roan of their way to attend pactar-ing at the campground, which was quieted down, and, as it was thought, satisfactorily settled. Upon returning home Pyler's horse happened to kick Arantor the leg, which caused Arant to make some idle threats against the horse. From this a quarrel sprung up and both of them sprang from their horses, drew their knives and went for each other about the same time. Two gentlemen who were in company with them endeavored to keep them apart, but both the compatants being stout men and resolute in purpose, they rushed at each other as madmen bereft of reason and each other as madmen bereft of reason and insensible to danger. The content continued until Arant's knife (whose hand was wet with the blood of his antagonist,) slipped from his hand, when he selzed a plece of rail and knocked Plyler down three times. Other parthes arriving at the scene about this time the combatants were separated. Both Pilyer and Arant had been drinking cider and were a little intoxicated. Plyler was cut in seven and Arant in five different places. It is thought both of them will recover. Another Stabbing Affray.

The Union Times states that a difficulty oc-curred on the night of the 31st ult., at Cross Keys. between Joseph Smith and Wesley Bobo, in which the latter was so severely condition. It appears that a party of young men were out serenading, when a part of one of the musical instruments was dropped. In hunting for it Smith and Bobo came in con-tact and one of them was pushed down. A slight difficulty had occurred between them ome time before, and this collision renewed some time before, and this contains renewed the ill-leeling. A scuffle ensued, when Smith plunged his knite deep into Mr. Bobo's side, reaching the liver. It is hoped, however, the wound will not prove to be mortal. Smith immediately made his escape. A warrant has been issued for his arrest. Both were young rean one agard nighteen and the other twenmen-one aged nineteen, and the other twen-

PITCHING INTO GRANT.

Sharp and Decisive Talk from Horace Greeley.

Mr. Greeley was recently in the West at tending agricultural conventions, but he nevortheless did not leave his politics at home. n passing through Chicago he was met by Mr. Ventworth and Mr. Grinnell, formerly n. ...ver of Congress from Iowa. In reply to some personal suggestions from the latter, he is reported to have said:

If we nominate Grant we shall certainly be deteated. The public will stand no more horsejockey and present taking Presidents; we have had enough of them. I tell you, gentlemen, we must take a new departure, and I can asfar short of any crop of late years. Much fodder has been damaged, but the hay that is generally being saved, with a good turnip crop, will perhaps be equal to the wants of the stock that will be kept here."

The Prospect of High Prices.

Mr. William M. Lawton, of Charleston, in a war warpoard, or we shall be deep. throw Grant overboard, or we shall be defeated.

All I want is to have a good man nominated, who, it elected, will consent to give up the office at the end of his term. Besides, I want to nominate a man who, if elected, will elevate the office to where it was in former days—a man who will not take presents or use the military or his office-holders to advance his own aspirations for a second term, and in the own aspirations for a second term, and in the meantime neglect the interests of those whose ruler he is. Besides, I want a man who is ruler he is. Besides, I want a man who is above mere pleasure-hunting; a man who will not dawdle away one-fourth of his term amid the follies and trivolities of a watering-place, and one who when called upon for an expression of his views on political and other subjects of national interest, can give them in clear, comprehensive language. That's the kind of a man the people want, and (bringing his fist down on the table) that's the kind of a man the people want saw grantenes. his fist down on the table; that still still of a man we haven't now. I want you, gentlemen, to tell your people here in the West that we are going to fight against Grant to the extent of our ability. We will not remain passive or indifferent, but, to use his own words, "we are going to fight it out on this line."

VERSAILLES, September ! M. Thiers, replying to congratulations of the municipality of Versailles upon the extension of his term of office, expressed the hope that the tuture of France would be fortunate, and that simultaneously with the moral and mate-rial recovery of the country, its present form of government would become a peaceful and glorious reality. La Patrie announces that the Chevelier Mera read to the Minister of Foreign Affairs a dispatch from the Cabinet of Rome favorable to the preservation of triend-ship between the two nations. Recorder Gurney, who is about to sail for the United States as commissioner under the treaty at Washington, replied to-day at some length to the address presented to him by the people of Southampton. He remarked that he halled the treaty with satisfaction and delight. He was not going to Washington as an advocate of British or the opponent of American claims. He had been instructed by his government to treat all claims alike; the question of amount was unimportant. It was better to pay any sum than to raise even a suspicion of London, September 9 pay any sum than to raise even a suspicion of uniairness. Gurney paid a compliment to his colleagues upon the commission, and said he colleagues upon the commission, and said he was sanguine their labor would be brought to Abatement of the Cholera. The cholera epidemic in the Baltic provinces of Prussla begins to abate. At Konigsberg, where the disease has been most virulent, there were forty new cases and twenty-eight deaths on the 4th instant, and on the 5th only seventeen new cases and fitteen deaths. There has been but one fatal case at Stettin, and at Dentile the disease, has been proposed specified. Dantzic the disease has been pronounced spo-radic. The few cases of cholera that have ap-peared at Paris and in London are now said to peared at Paris and in London are now said to have been of a different type from the Aslatic scourge. The anxiety which was felt at Berlin and throughout Germany is decreasing, and it is confidently hoped the precautions taken, aided by the approach of cold weather, will stay the progress of the epidemic.

The Levant Herald says the deaths at Tabvez, Persia, still average two hundred and forty per day. Christians and Mussulmen are camped in the mountains, and business is entirely stopped. The Persian army has been disbanded.

THE CHAIN OF CRIMES. Additional Evidence of the Guilt of Conklin in the Bowlsby florror.

It would now seem that very little doubt was left as to the identity of the person who was so intimately associated with poor Alice Bowlsby previous to her death. By many of the triends of young Conklin, it was stated that the cause of his suicide was the receipt of certain news from Russia which would be certain news from Russia, which would be brought out in the translation of the letters he that day received from that place; but this plea must have failed, for the letter has never been made public. Further investigation, principally of a private character, has brought to light several important circumstances connected with various visits to New York made by Conklin. By these it is shown that on the by Conklin. By these it is shown that on the Sunday previous to Alice Bowlsby's departure from Newark, Conklin called at her aunt's house, and after a long conversation, left for New York on business, which Alice said was of a very important nature. The next day (Monday) she received a letter from him, which probably contained money, and instructions in reference to Dr. Rosenzweig. Other evidences of a less positive nature have been brought to light, all kaving the same general bearing.

-The fate of Vigneron, a Frenchman, who was killed on the sands at Boulogne-sur-Mer on the 19th, in the presence of many hundred spectators, is, like Renforth's, a proof of the foolishness of over-exertion. He was a man of extraordinary strength, aged forty-five, and was known in most parts of Europe for his feats of strength, and particulerly for litting a cannon weighing six hundred pounds upon his shoulders and firing a full charge of gunpowder. He was going through this performance with his usual success; but while in the mance with his usual success; but while in the act of litting the cannon to lower it he slipped and tell. The whole weight of the cannon fell on the face of the unfortunate man, splitting his skull completely in two. Death, of course, was instantaneous

OUR MAYOR ELECT.

A Sketch of the Character of General Wagener.

[From the Walhalla Courier.]

General John A. Wagener, Mayor elect of the City of Charleston. Is spending a few weeks in our town. He is regarded, in a great degree, as the author and founder of Walhalla, and as such is highly esteemed by all our citizens, both German and American. Under his auspices the German Society was formed, lands purchased, the town laid out and the thriity German colonized in our county. What is now the flourishing Town of and the thrifty German colonized in our county. What is now the flourishing Town of Waihalia, was then a poor, sandy ridge, the land being considered a hard bargain at twenty-five cents per acre. The county was without a market or railroad. What a change has been affected in the last twenty years, much of which is justly attributed to General Wagener. He is man of atrong native intellect, good physique, sound judgment and practical information. In manners he is a polished gentleman, affecting no ostentation in dress or conversation, the man ners he is a poisined gentleman, anecting ho ostentiation in dress or conversation, the man to be popular and to retain the good will of the people by a fair and dignified bearing towards all and a fearless and faithful discharge of the duties of a good citizen. During the first session of the Legislature after the war, he seemed to appreciate, more fully than any other mem-ber of that body, the great danger, both politi-cal and industrial, which threatened the peoole of the South from emancipation. To prevent or mitigate the evils impending over South Carolina, he strenuously advocated the encouragement of foreign white immigration and introduced a bill into the Legislature askand introduced a bill into the Legislature asking ald for that purpose. After much opposition the pititul sum of $10,000 was granted, a sum totally inadequate to any extended benefit. How much might then have been done to permanently better our condition and prospects by a liberal appropriation and the adoption of generous inducements to settlers who would impure to our State? Before anomy. would immigrate to our State? Before another session, the storm cloud, which has desolated our State with oppressive taxes and an army of corrupt and extravagant officials, had army of corrupt and extravagant officials, had arisen. The golden moment was lost; but the fulfilment of the prediction of General Wagener illustrates his good juggment none the less forcibly. He is to day perhaps the most popular man in the City of Charleston. In the late contest for city officers he was selected by the Conservatives as the man who could concentrate the greatest number of all classes and races, and bore the banner of that party to victory. We predict that his administration of the city government will be a success, fair and just to all races and conditions, and satisfactory to the public. With the characteristic of his race he will doubtless use every exertion to inaugurate With the characteristic of his race he will doubtless use every exertion to inaugurate economy, reduce taxation, improve the financial condition of the city, preserve order and enforce a system of cleansing and policing, which will in the future dety all epidemics and maiarial fevers. The prospects of Charleston are brighter by his election, and if she will be true to herself and spread her banner before the public, she will soon regain and retain her old prestige as a market and prosperous searour city. sep9-stuth3 INFLUENCE OF TEMPERATURE ON HEATLH .- In the fall the difference between the temperature of night and day is greater than at any other time of the year. In the early autumn the quicksilver sometimes rises as high during the day as in the most fervid summer weather; while at night it often sinks to an almost wintry point. The human body not being made of steel or India rubber, sensibly feels these tremendous changes. To fortify the system against them, a genuine tonic is required; and the public has long on the first trial. since discovered that among this description of medicines HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS is infinitely the best. It gently quickens the circulation, regulates the bowels, tones the liver, braces the nerves, and thus puts the whole physique rature in our climate. Few, if any cases of epidemic fever are heard of in localities where it is in common use. As it becomes more and more widely known, and the demand for it increases. chills and fever, and the billious remittent seem o recede before it, and if ever it should come into univers it use, these diseases would cease to be known as the scourges of our low-lying and marshy districts. That homely bit of proverbial philosophy, that "prevention is better than cure," should be especially borne in mind in the autumn months; and indeed in all seasons, together with the fact that, among all the preventives of malarious disease. Hostett r's Stomach Bitters is the most safe and potent.. Be certain, however, to obtain the genuine arti-
