CLUBS AND STARS .- Jacob Ladson, arrested or disturbing the neighborhood of the corner of King and Vanderhorst streets, by his loud cursing and swearing and for resisting the police, was sentenced to pay a fine of five dollars or go to the House of Correction for ten

Thos. Middleton, for being disorderly and abusing a policeman in Rutledge street near Bee, was visited with a similar sentence. Jas. Smith, a colored youth, arrested for throwing stones in King street, was sentenced to pay a fine of five dollars or spend five days in the House of Correction. More of the Mocking Bird .- Benjamin

Bee, the small colored lad who was tried a few days ago, charged with stealing a mocking bird from his emyloyer, and acquitted, brought an action against his employer for assault and battery and false imprisonment. This case was tried yesterday before Trial Justice J. G. Mackey, both sides being represented by counsel. The testimony and arguments having been heard, the case was submitted to the thal justice, who found the defendant guilty, and sentenced him to pay a fine of twenty-five dollars and costs, or go to jail for thirty days. The defendant appealed from the sentence, and the case will come up before a jury at the next term of the Court of General Sessions. THE FORT JOHNSON TRAGEDY.—The prisoner

Moses Washington was brought before Trial Justice Magrath for examination yesterday morning. A number of witnesses testified substantially to the facts as heretofore stated in THE NEWS, and nothing new was developed. The wounded man is still lying at the hospital, and has not yet been able to speak. His condition is critical, and when last heard from he was very low. The captain whose ship was hailed by Washington as the flat drifted down the river, and the two sailors who came to the flat in the boat, will be examined to-day, and their evidence, it is expected, will throw considerable light on the matter. Washington was committed until this morning.

THE ORSEOTIES OF WILLIAM M. CARLISLE .-The funeral of this young gentleman was of which his father, the Rev. J. M. Carlisle, is the pastor. The services were conducted by the Rev. John T. Wightman, assisted by the Rev. T. E. Wannamaker, and were peculiarly solemn and Impressive. The deceased had been a clerk at the house of Messrs. George W. Williams & Co., and in the sad procession yesterday we observed all the members of the firm, present in the city, together with nearly all the employees of the house; as also representatives from all the Methodist Churches of the city, and many triends of the family. Willie Carlisle gave promise of a fine manhood, and was highly esteemed for his sterling and lovable qualities by all with whom he came in contact. Although unacclimated, he bravely determined to take his chances of the fever, as he was desirous to make Charleston his future home. His family have the sympathy of a large circle of friends in their present deep affliction.

CRUMBS .- Joe Crews, the living evidence of Ku-Klux tender-heartedness, threatens that he will answer some of the "false and outrageous charges" which his enemies have brought against him.

The Governor has appointed George W. Tuck trial justice, of Spartanburg County, vice John Epter, removed.

Columbia boasts of three attempts at burglary in one night. The proximity to Radical headquarters will tell ! The Columbia Union is informed that J.

Adam Crews "has commenced suit against S. D. Garlington, of Laurens, to recover payment for a watch and chain, pistol and money, forcibly taken from him on the night of the 26th of October last, during the riot at Laurens, and while he was making his way from Laurens to a place of safety."

Mr. John W. Smith, of Lexington County, killed a catamount, a few days since, near the Watering Ford, on Black Creek, which measured three feet and ten inches in length and seventeen inches in height.

PICKING A POCKET .- Prince Doctor, a deck passenger on board of the steamer Water Lily, on her trip last Wednesday from Edisto Island to the city, had his pockets picked, according to best of his knowledge and bellef, by Dandy Wright, Sam Gaillard and James Chisolm of all the funds with which he intended to purchase his supplies in the city. Prince got on board at Wadmalaw Island, and soon became very intimate with a young colored beauty, who was also on the boat. Soothed by her blandishments, and with his careworn head pillowed in her lap, Prince reclined at full length upon a bale of cotton, and give himself up to alternate dozes and reverles. While in this situation, the three colored lads beneft him, and proceeded to execute their design on the unconscious dreamer. The entrance to his pockets being well secured by the hands of the prudent Prince, the trio were forced to cut them open, and gently drew forth the handkerchief of Prince, with his money slyly motted in one corner. The dismay of the aleeper on discovering his loss, and the corse. quent rumpus he kicked up on that boat will long be remembered. Upon reaching the city the three youths were arrested by the detectives, and yesterday brought before a trial justice for examination.

THE HEALTH OF THE CITY.

The weather yesterday was somewhat warmer than on the previous day, and no frost is yet reported from the upper part of the State. Every one was curious to see the effect of the cool spell on the common enemy, and the crowds who inspect THE NEWS builetin board, as they pass along bustling East Bay, read the following report at noon with considerable satisfaction:

THURSDAY'S REPORT. Office of Board of Health, CHARLESTON, September 28, 1871, 12 M. Three (3) certificates of death from yellow fever received since last report.

A SHOCKING MURDER IN CHRIST CHURCH PARISH.

A Man Waylald and Shot-The Murderer Absconds.

24th instant, a freedman named Peter Johnson was shot and killed on a plantation called Bermuda, in Christ Church Parlsh, belonging copies or more, with business cards, two and to Mr. M. W. Venning. The plantation is at present leased and cultivated by Mr. Heath, of Hayne street, Charleston, and the tract KING STREET consists of two plantations-Bermuda, where the colored settlement is, and Bellevue, the residence of the planter, which was at the time occupied by two white men superintending the planting for Mr. Heath. The night in question was very dark, the rain pouring down n torrents. Johnson was walking quietly along in the midst of the colored settlement, on his way home, through a small path, when he was fired upon at the distance of a few feet. The whole charge from the gun, consisting of large shot, passed through his left sleeve and the breast of his coat, and entered his left side between the hip and his lower ribs, making a hole about as big as a half dollar. The report of the gun spread the alarm, and a large number of colored people were soon gathered from the settlement around the wounded and dying man. They found Peter lying on the ground bleeding profusely. He gasped out the words: Take me in out of the weather-Davenport has killed me." He was dragged a short distance to a shed, and expired there about an hour after he was shot. Before his death, he repeated to his wife that Davenport had shot him. James Davenport was the colored foreman on the plantation, and there had been an old grudge between him and the eceased, which everybody thought had ended, as usual, in idle threats. A short time before the murder. Davenport had asked for and received a shot gun, for the purpose, as he said, of guarding the fields against depredators. On > things." An inquest was held over the body of Johnson at the Bermuda settlement by Mr. George F. Kinjoch, trial justice and acting coroner, at 3 o'clock on the afternoon of the succeeding day, Monday. The ovidence there given substantlated the foregoing facts, and the jury four I that the deceased had come to his death from a gunshot wound inflicted by James Dav-

into the house of his wife, whom he told that he enport. A warrant was immediately issued for the arrest of Davenport, but it was found he had packed up and absconded on the night of the murder. He is a Virginia negro, who came thence after the war and settled in Christ Church Parish about five years ago. It is supposed that he will try to make his way back to his old State. Thus far no trace of him can be found.

THE BATH PAPER MILLS, which were compelled to suspend operations two months ago, by the breaking of their dam, have pushed the repairs so vigorously that work will be resumed in about a fortnight.

FEAST OF TABERNACLES .- This evening commences this Jewish festival, also sometimes called the feast of huts or booths, which is celebrated by the orthodox Israelites for nine days. The first and second, and the eighth and ninth days only are observed as holidays; the intervening five being only distinguished from ordinary work-days by the ritual in use at the synagogue on those days. The Hebrew term for the festival is Succoth.

HCMICIDE NEAR HAMBURG .- A negro named Henry McKinne was shot and killed near Hamburg, S. C., Tuesday, by William Quarles, a white man. Quarles and McKinne had had some previous difficulty about the wife of the latter, and meeting on this occasion a quarrel sprung up between the two, ending in the death of Mckinne from a ball fired from a pistol in the hands of Quarles. Both of the partles had been drinking, and were slightly intoxicated. Immediately after the shooting Quarles fled and has not yet been appre

A RUSTIC SCENE.-The thick crop of grass which has been growing so luxuriantly on the White Point Garden, and which added so much to the attractive appearance of that popular promenade, is being cut down, and the mowers, with their scythes, may be seen daily at work. Most of the plots have already been mown, and the green carpet quickly reappears in the wake of the workmen. The mowers plying their scythes, followed by the workmen tossing and spreading the grass, and the pitching of the dried hay upon the cart, presents a scene uncommon in a city. The operation is now nearly concluded, and the fresh hay will, no doubt, be applied to the use of the numerous city horses at the Guardhouse BUSINESS NOTICES.

THE ACADEMY OF MUSIC GRAND GIFT CONcerts, as advertised by Messrs, Butler, Chad wick, Gary & Co .- Mr. Eben Coffin, sub-agent for this splendid and attractive scheme, is now prepared to sell tickets for the same. Appli cations to be made to him at the office of Mr C. Clacius, corner East Bay and Central wharf.

Nothing will be left undone in imparting to the pupils confided to their care a thorough education, in the highest sense of the word—not alone instructing the intellect, but with maternal care building an i training the heart.

The situation of the Convent is all that can be desired for health and beauty. The buildings are on elevated ground, about two miles from the Capital, and in the milet of an oak grove of twenty acres. It is within half an hour's drive from the depot, where omnibuses and baggage wagons await the arrival of passengers.
