The prince's papa has ceased to send anxious telegrams inquiring if that frigate has arrived yet, and it is presumed that he has abandoned himself to despair. In consequence of the State law which forbids the calling out of the milltia, except in case of riot, for five days preceding an election, the committee of first-class citizens have been obliged to issue a notification that if his Highness arrives between this and Tuesday no public reception will take place. It has been arranged to land him incognito and whisk him off to Washington to be presented to the President. The great Industrial Fair at the Rink, which has been open for the past six weeks, closes to-night. That enormous building, the largest in New York, and probably in America, has been so filled with the products of the lagenuity and industry of American clizens, that even the crowds of visitors which have entered there have found difficulty in getting space enough to inspect the articles. The fair this year has been the most successful of the series of forty held since the American Institute was incorporated. Horace Greeley is the head of the institution. At the opening this year, perhaps you will remember, Walt. Whitman lifted up his voice and uttered another of his barbaric yawps. The exhibition is to be closed this evening with a yawp from another barbarian, Senator Morton, of Indiana, the champion Radical fabricator of the United States. This man ought to be a social outlaw. The depth of his mendacity cannot be fathomed. If he talsifies at the Rink to-night upon "American Progress" as he does on the stump "Imerican Progress" as he does on the stump about the South and the Democratic party, he will be hissed off the stage. THE MASSACRE AT LOS ANGELOS.

Bloody Work-The Chiuamen Killed, nd their Quarters Plundered.

According to all accounts the affair at Los Angelos was little better than a brutal massacre. The correspondent of the San Francisco Chronicle savs :

The tragedy of yesterday arose from an ill-feeling of long standing, between two rival Chinese companies. These parties had a diffi-culty with one another on the previous day, and a preliminary examination was held in the afternoon at one of the justice's courts, which was adjourned until the next morning. On returning to their quarters and just as night set rest the combatants. Some of the Chinese, however, turned upon their pursuers and fired their pistols at them, wounding one officer in the right shoulder, shooting a boy in the leg, and a citizen named Robert Thompson through the breast, from the effects of which he died within an hour and a half. They then sought refuge in their quarters. The block in which these Chinamen secreted themselves was surrounded by a mob, and none were permitted to leave. Shortly after the block-ade commenced, one Chinaman attempted to escape, and, with a hatchet in his hand determined to cut his way through the human band encircling the Chinese strong-hold. He was quickly captured, and the con-stables endeavored to carry him off to jail, but the announcement of the death of Thompson being made generally known, the mob be-came infuriated, and several attempts were made to wrest the prisoner from the officers. When within about two hundred yards of the jail the crowd closed upon the officers, and, overpowering them, seized the Chinaman and overpowering them, seized the Chinaman and marched him up Temple street to the corner of New High street. Here the cross-beam of the sliding-door of a corral offered a convenient glober. A rope was immediately procured, attached to the victim's neek, thrown over the cross-beam, and amid mad shouts of the mobbe was hojsted in.

he was hoisted up.

This mob, consisting mainly of native Callfornians, returned at once to the scene, drunk with their flendish work. It was not until ten o'clock that any real attempt was made to storm the strongholds of the Chinese, who had barricaded their doors. In the meantime sevbarricaded their doors. In the meantime several futile attempts to fire the block were made. At ten o'clock an entry was made into one of the houses and the inmates, more dead than alive, were dragged out and hurried to the first hanging place at hand. Four were suspended from the sides of a wagon. Six were hung from the awning of some dwellings on Los Angelos street—one was a mere boy of eight or nine years of age. All of these were tearfully mangled before reaching the place of execution. Ropes were placed around their necks immediately upon being captured, and some of them were strangled before being banged.

Thieves made good use of their opportunity, breaking open every trunk in the Chinese quarters, and taking everything of value. Two or three dozen Chinamen took refuge in the city jail, where they new remain in custody.

Hints of a repetiti n of last evening's proceedings having been thrown out, the old vigilance committee has been reorganized, and will act should such occur.

The city is in the greatest state of excitement. It is reported that about forty of the Chinese belonging to the other company left town during the time of the disturbance last evening. Only one of the parties who shot at the officers and citizens has been identified among the dead. The other guilty ones have escaped, while the rest of those hanged are supposed to be innocent.

THE KU-KLUX OF FINANCE.

A REPORTED OVER ISSUE OF $20,000,000 STATE BONDS.

The Way the Money Goes-Startling Revelations of the New York World -Governor Scott Rises to Explain-What the Press Say About it.

[SPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE NEWS ] NEW YORK, November 6.

The alleged frauds in the treasurer's departnent of the State of South Carolina continues to cause much excitement. General John B. Dennis makes a lame attempt at denial that any frauds have occurred, and promises a full statement in a few days. But as this gentleman, with the Governor and treasurer, have published a card admitting the printing of twenty million and ferty thousand of bonds. there is no doubt that the statement of frauds, as published, are entirely true.

[FROM THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

NEW YORK, November 6. The World states that the entire State Government of South Carolina is here, and that the American Bank Note Company printed twenty million dollars of State bonds for Mr. Kimpton, the financial agent of the State. It is said that Governor Scott admits that the bonds were printed, but denies that all were issued. He does not, however, state the amount actually issued. Kimpton, it is asserted, brings a claim against the State for services and commissions amounting to four millions and the other State officers have not dared to resist payment thereof, though much of it is for renewals which were credited. As to the new loans, the commissions, it is said, more than swallowed up the original loan. The expenses of the last Legislature were eight hundred thousand dollars, which have not been paid. The World concludes by stating that its in formation is from a source entitling it to the highest credit. The persons giving it express their confident belief that a fraudulent issue amounting to $20,046,000 of State bonds has been negotiated and the money misapplied, and are convinced that if it should prove that the State is involved to that amount it will be irrevocably insolvent.

lovernor Scott's Statement-He Admit the Printing, but Denies the Issue. NEW YORK, November 5.

The following card is published:

To the Public: Many false representations and attempts have been made and published against the credit of the State of South Carolina. It is true that $20,204,000 of bonds have been printed, of which amount $2,000,000 have never been signed or issued; nor were they printed with the intention to increase the State debt, but are in possession of the State authorities; also, $3,500,000 of sterling bonds have been printed, but not issued. $2,500,000 of registered stock are now in the hands of the treasurer of the State, being the balance of $5.040,000 issued. The Legislature, from time to time, passed several acts for the issue of bonds to pay the indebtedness of the State. Subsequently it passed an act for the conver sion of its securities. To provide for this, the above amount in bonds was printed, which has given rise to many groundless misrepresentations and gross fabrications.

R. K. SCOTT, Governor of South Carolina. NILES G. PARKER, Treasurer. JNO. B. DENNIS.

Chm'n of the Committee on State Accounts. PRESS.

Most of the New York papers, of Saturday, offer some explanation, in their money articles, of the "break" in South Carolina bonds. It will be noticed that Governor Scott promises that the January interest shall be punctually

What the Tribune Says.

In State bonds there has been a pretty fair trade. The chief activity, however, was in South Carolinas, new January and July bonds which declined from 37 yesterday to 322 to-day, though later reaching in the street to 352. The late depression in these bonds is due par-tially to the large sales of bonds hypothecated on loan, and which the borrower was unable

What the Herald Says.

The Southern list was generally dull and quiet. The new South Carolinas were excepionally active and weak, a sudden pressure of sales at the morning board carrying the price of the July issues down to 32‡. Subsequently the price recovered to 35‡. The sales eferred to were for the account of parties who had pledged the bonds as collaterals and could not redeem them, the owners being unable to change the place of hypothecation because of sensational rumors as to an enormous over-

What the Times Sava. At the Stock Exchange there was a serious break in South Carolina bonds, following up the very weak market of yesterday. The price broke to 32 per cent. on the panic report that an excessive issue of bonds had been made to meet the emergencies of the State, but later in the day there was a recovery to 35½a35½ per

What the Sun Says.

There was quite a flurry of excitement this morning caused by a sharp decline in the South Carolina gold 63 State bonds, the January and July issues having been the principa point of bear attack, and under the influence of heavy sales the price was forced down to 324, a decline of 4 per cent. as compared with 321, a decline of 4 per cent. as compared with yesterday's transactions. A rumor of overissue was freely circulated in street circles, which caused quite a stampede among holders who had hypothecated the bonds at much higher figures, and whose margins had been absorbed. The State officials, as also the finance committee, are at present in this city, and the want of harmony in the mangement of the finances of that State has been for some time well known in business circles. It is the duty of these gentlemen to at once apprise the investing public of the exact condition of its finances, and relieve holders of the suspicion that its securities have been improperly employed for personal profit. employed for personal profit.

What the Standard Says. In State bonds the feature was the "break" In State bounds the reattire was the "break" in South Carolinas, the price having dropped on a pressure of sales from 36½ to 32½ for new, January and July issues. At first there was a report of an over issue of bonds, and from official sources it was learned that certain parties were trying to damage the credit of the State. In the late dealings there was a recovery to 35½. The April and October issues were crucked at the heard of 21622.

were quoted at the board at 31a33. What the Daily Bulletin Says.

In Southern State securities new South Car-olinas have been the feature. In the morning iness have been the reature. In the morning these bonds (January and July) sold down to 321, but afterward reacted. The transactions in these bonds now partake so much of a speculative character, that it is impossible to account for the fluctuations. Political affairs in the State are, as it is well known, in a very unsatisfactory condition, and it is thought this has been made a pretext for speculative movements. One story we heard to-day was that Charleston parties had been forced to sell about $500,000, that it was known they would be forced to sell, and that the price was broken down so as to get the bonds cheap.

What the Evening Post Says.

In Southern State bonds the features at the board were the new South Carolinas, which advanced to 38, after selling yesterday at 322. The assurance of the Governor that the State will continue to promptly pay its interest obligations, undoubtedly contributed to the upward reaction. The April and October bonds sold at 35.

Governor Scott's Effort to Restore Confidence.

Statements and reports having been made by interested parties to the effect that it was doubtful whether the State of South Carolina would meet the interest on her public debt, due January 1, 1872, we deem it proper to announce to all whom it may concern that com-plete arrangements have been made for meet-ing said interest promptly, out of the income of the State derived from taxes. Holders of South Carolina securities can be fully assured of the certain and punctual payment of interest whenever it falls due.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE NEWS. We have received the enclosed letter in relation to obtaining and forwarding English laborers and settlers, and as we consider it a matter of public interest to the South, we desire that you would give it publicity. We have also received many letters from persons residing in some of the Northern and Western States, making inquiries for lands that can be purchased by actual settlers, as to their char acter, location, price, terms, health, &c.; and also inquiries from others who desire to move South, and obtain employment as agricultural and other laborers, as to the amount of wages that would be paid, and other particulars.

With the view of promoting immigration we invite all persons who desire to obtain reliable white labor to send in their orders to us, in conformity with the terms of the accompanying letter, and stating the amount of wages they would pay, and we will forward their orders free of charge.

We would also invite land-owners in healthy localities, who may desire to dispose of lands to actual settlers, to make propositions, giving the number of acres, location, adaptation for different crops, price, terms, character for health, and all other particulars that may be important, and we will do all in our power to carry out their views.

DEAR SIRS-Your esteemed favor of August 18th is duly received, and would have been replied to by return mail, had not the letter remained over for the writer of this (our Mr. Reed, who is in America,) to answer.

In the first place, let us assure you that our sympathies and best wishes are with you and your State, and we shall be happy if (through yourselves or any other way) we can be of any service to her or yourselves.

As regards emigrants, we can assure you that there are no better and nobler set of men than the farmers' sons, gardeners, &c., of this country, and now that the Alabama business is settled, we can send you just as many of the very best of these people as you can handle. THE OPINIONS OF THE NEW YORK Some have just enough to pay passage, others not enough, requiring aid say to the extent of $10 each, to be paid out of their wages. Now, it we can get you to ald some, say to the extent of ten dollars per head-that is per adult-to be afterwards repaid, and for which we take a due bill, (to be sent to you,) payable on demand, you can have all the good, square, honest, capable, sober, intelligent, hard-working people you want. Can we say more? We send none whose capacity and character are not good, and this we take care of. Among the thousands we send, we think it would be difficult to find a bad character. It is the cream, the bone and sinew we select, not the profligate, worthless or indolent. We shall be happy to do all we can to serve the purpose you have in view, and will send the people to you by our line of steamships running to Norfolk and Baltimore, and forward them to Charleston by rail, unless you prefer sending some one to Norfolk to meet and take parties on to Charleston. Let us hear from you at your early convenience, and let us hear all you can do and will do for such people, as we may send you.

We remain, dear sirs, yours faithfully, REED & KEIM. (Signed)
