THURSDAY, NOVEMBER 30, 1871.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

Gold closed yesterday at 10 1/2 @ 10 3/4. -In New York cotton closed quiet and easier; uplands 19 cents; sales 1743 bales. -In Liverpool cotton closed easy; uplands 9 1/2 @ 9 3/4. Orleans 9 1/2 @ 9 3/4. -The Utah Saints mitigate the evils of polygamy by marrying as many sisters as possible, thus securing a minimum of manmarriage.

The Height of Impudence.

This phrase, in future, will have a sharper significance than has been given to it by either flesh weeklies or comic annuals. The "height of impudence" is the Annual Message of Governor Scott, written, according to common report, by the notorious Thomas Jefferson Mackey. It is filled with acrid abuse of the respectable white people of the State. It is without parallel in its brazen effrontery. But it will, we suppose, accomplish its dual purpose of patching up the tottering financial fabric, and of giving the Radical journalists and Radical politicians ample ground for defending the despotic acts of the soldier-President of the United States. The gross exaggerations and bold falsehoods of the Message will be swallowed without salt by the administration organs. Against the florid declarations of our Executive, the naked truth will not, for the moment, prevail. And yet we owe it to ourselves to point out the more prominent of the vicious untruths to which Governor Scott gives the sanction of his official signature.

New State Papers.

We have received copies of the first issue of the Aiken Tribune and of the Abbeville Medium. The Tribune is a neatly printed and well arranged sheet, edited by Mr. Henry Sparhawk, who is, also, the proprietor. It will advocate the principles of the National Republican party, but promises it will be liberal and just as well as fearless and enterprising. This is far more than we have been in the habit of getting from the Radical presses in this State.

Hostetter's Bitters.

THE TRUE GROUNDS OF CONFIDENCE.—Whereas those who are firm in their faith, absolute, undoubting faith in the efficacy of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS as a remedy for indigestion, bilious disorders, intermittent and remittent fevers, which notoriously prevail in all parts of the United States; this confidence has been growing for twenty years, and it is still increasing. It is not the result of credulity; it is not the result of any human device; it is the spontaneous and natural consequence of experience. What people see daily going on under their own eyes they cannot question. When families in unhealthy districts, that resort to this wholesome vegetable tonic as a preventive, escape periodical fevers, and the immediate neighbors, who neglect that precaution, are prostrated by the disease, how is it possible that the phenomenon should be without its lesson? In like manner when it is seen that obstinate cases of dyspepsia, of liver complaint, of constipation, of nervous weakness, and of general debility, yield to the operation of the famous remedy, how can even incredulous individuals withhold its endorsement? Eye-witnesses of the salutary effects of the Bitters are to be found in every civilized settlement on this continent. The thousands upon thousands who owe their restoration to health and strength, or their preservation from sickness to its extraordinary medicinal properties, are evidence in its praise. The multitudes who regard it as a household remedy, as well as those who make public their estimate of its virtues, are always ready to state their reasons for the faith that in them. They have all either felt it or witnessed its beneficent operation. nov25-28m3c

Educational.

MILLE LEPRINCE BEGS TO INFORM the public that she has returned to the city and has opened a school, No. 23 Wentworth street, very far from striking at the credit of the State, affirmed and recognized the validity of the public debt, as reported to the Convention by the Comptroller-General. We fail to find in this course any evidence of the existence of a conspiracy to break down the public credit. The Convention warned the public against receiving the Sterling Funding bonds and any other bonds thereafter issued, but this did not hurt the bonds already issued. On the contrary, it added to their value, and, when the action of the Convention was known, the bonds, which had just before advanced, fully maintained their price. A few months later a fresh decline set in, and at the time of the Chicago fire the new bonds were selling at 50. There was a fall in the price of all securities.

ant or Trumbull can counteract it. The people of this country are growing indifferent to public affairs through their disgust at the way in which they are controlled. Now, there are the Germans. They will never support Grant a second time. I look upon Carl Schurz as one of the most thorough, sensitive plants in existence. He knows, by intuition, what the Germans as a mass intend doing. We had a demonstration of that in the latter part of Mr. Lincoln's term, when the Germans became somewhat disaffected towards his administration. The Germans have a thorough national spirit. They have a natural hatred to oppression in all its phases, and this made them the most determined opponents of slavery. It was of this spirit that the Republican party was built up in Texas and Missouri. It has been victorious in several of the leading Northern States. The Germans would vote for a Democrat before they would support Grant for another term."

Thanksgiving Day.

This being Thanksgiving Day, under the proclamations of President Grant and Governor Scott, the public offices and banks will be closed, and there will be a partial suspension of general business. A number of picnic parties have been organized, and the school boys, at all events, will hail with joy their holiday. The men of business will turn a nimble sixpence as long as they can, and the fortunate folk who are not compelled to work, will doubtless devote the morning to pious supplication. Just at this time there is much to be thankful for, and more to pray for.
