showed, to the satisfaction of every notes, its ener, that the House was pledged to the Impeachment of the Governor by adopting the report and recommendations of the special committee; that the argument that the present proceedings should fail because half a dozen other State officials had not been included was as captions and silly as it was dishonest and hypocritical; that two of the members who were opposing the impeachment (Jones and Byas) had stuitlified themselves by first signing the report recommending impeachment and then raising therefeeble and unnecessary howl against it. At this point Byas, who had, during the whole of the speaker's remarks been shouting out the most unseemly interruptions, asked him to yield the floor to him for an explanation. Mr. Frost replied that as an answer to this request he would make two statements; first, that he would always yield to a gentleman, but to a gentleman only, and secont, that in his case he could not yield. This blow sent Byas to grass very effectually, and nothing

Mr. Frost was proceeding with his remarks and administering some teling blows in favor of impeachment when an opportune diversion was received by the supportune of "message" when the supportune of "message" was supported to "message".

peachment when an opportune diversion was created by the announcement of "a message from his Excellency the Governor." There was at once a remarkable silence in the House, and when the message, which had been rather dramatically announced by the Governor's good looking secretary (Noah, not Mackey.) was found to contain simply the Executive apparatus of the high temporation for the pay and was found of the bill to provide for the pay and mileage of the members, the shrewdness of the Governor's diplomacy was at once aimit-

ed. The further announcement was privately

The further announcement was privately circulated that the freasurer was ready to cash the pay certificates of the members at sight, and the certificates for the first time in eleven months went up to par. Mr. Frost, resuming his argument, and after begging the pardon of the House for bringing to notice such a contemptible object, proceeded further such a contemptible object, proceeded further to excorlate Bras, whom he designated as "the sixth member of the committee of five." He read from the journal of the 9th last, to show that Byas had not been appointed on the investigating committee of which Mr. Bowen was chairman, but had in some mysterious way put himself upon it, and had then eagerly signed the report which had brought on the impeachment proposition, and which he was now as eagerly opposing; and he drew the ir-resistible inference that he had gone on the committee to be bought up by the Goversor, and had since effected the sale.

Mr. Frost concluded at two o'clock, and was succeeded by General Whipper on the ame side of the question. General Whipper an-nounced that he did not propose to submit to he would yield the floor to no one except to ask a question. He then said that before going into the merits of the question he would remark that the parties who were then arraigned had proclaimed that he dared not open his mouth in denunciation of their acts, and that they had facts in their possession which would send him to the Penitentiary. But he was not to be stopped by threats, and he defied the Governor, and all his satellites and minions, who were even then sneaking about the House seeking to avert their im-

The charge that he had received compensation

The charge that he had received compensation for his share in effecting the sale of the Blue Ridge Railroad was a lie. He admitted that he had agreed to the sale, but declared that they had not to-day got a certificate of sale that bore his signature, or that was made while a majority of the sinking fund commission-rs were present, or white he was present. The impeachment proposition had had oneffect that was precisely what he had expected. It had brought down upon the head of its author the vilest vituperation and abuse as he had known it would, because the hardest man in the world to fight was a man who est ne nau known it would, because the hard-est man in the world to fight was a man who had an abundance of ready money, obtained by dishonest mean. The committee's report showed an over-issue of $6.314,000. This statement had not even been denied, and could not be disproved. Every one of those bonds thus fraudulently issued had been signed by the Governor and countersigned by the treasurer. Whoever else was responsible by complicity in the frauds, they were certainly responsible who had signed the bonds, and what course he asked, therefore, was more legitimate or natural, if it was desired to bring the guilty ones to punishment, than to move for the impeachment of the Governor and treasurer. He continued for some time with this argument, but not without frequent and annoying interruptions, until at a few minutes before three he turned upon Mobley, who, with Jones and Byas, had been the most persistent in his interruptions, and silenced him as follows: He said he understood perfectfully why he was so anxious to get the floor. It was so that he might move to suspend the rule to adjourn at three o'clock, because the Governor nad told his employees that they

He said he was extremely sorry to upset their little arrangement, but they had forced the exposure from him by their repeated interruptions, and they had themselves to blame; and while General Whipper was administering this little consolation to the Hessian trio, the speaker's gavel descended, and the House was declared adjourned till, twelve ofclock to

The question before the House being the adoption of Bowen's impeachment resolution, W. J. Whipper resumed the floor. He claimed the right to introduce as a privileged question a motion to close the debate now pending and to vote upon Mobley's motion to strike out the enacting clause of Bowen's resolution. The speaker, as might have been expected, ruled in flyor of Lee, who introduced his motion, which was carried by a vote of sixty-seven to twenty-five. Byas moved to suspend the rule requiring an adjournment at three P. M., which motion was carried by a vote of sixtyseven to twenty-five.

At one o'clock the House came to a vote upon the motion to strike out the resolving clause of Bowen's resolution for the impeachment of Scott, which motion to strike out was carried by a vote of sixty-three to thirty-two.

Those voting in favor of impeachment were: Bass, Bosemon, Bowen, Bowley, L. Cain, Crittenden, T. A. Davis, Derrick, Doyle, Duncan, Ford, Frost, Glover, Goodson, Goggins, Hunter, Hurley, Jervey, Logan, Miles, Sellers, Shanklin, Smith, Taylor, W. M. Mr. Arnim's resolution appointing a committee to investigate the affairs of the sinking fund commission provoked a long debate, which resulted in the adoption of a substitute similar in terms to the original resolution, but providing only for a committee from the Senate instead of a joint committee.

Mr. Whittemore introduced a resolution requesting a report from the Governor as to the following points: "To whom has been sold the building material in the Statehouse yard, and in what quantity, and at what price, and Also to whom the real estate on Arse nal Hill and Main street, in the City of Colum-bia, has been sold; at what price, and when. COLUMBIA, S. C., December 22. In the Ku-Klux court to-day Attorney-Gene ral Chamberlain argued the case for the prose cution against Whitesides and Mitchell, of York, going over the same ground as to a general conspiracy as in the previous cases, and relying mainly on the written document purporting to be the oath, constitution and by-laws of the Kian. The rest of the argument was directed against the proof of an alibi set up by the defence.

THE PROCEEDINGS ON THURSDAY.

The Testimony in the Cases of Whitesides and Mitchell.

[FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT.]

· COLUMBIA, S. C , December 21. At the convening of the Ku-Klux court this morning, the case of the United States vs. Dr. Thomas B. Whitesides and Captain John W. Mitchell, of York County, indicted for conspiracy, were continued, and the defence in troduced further testimony to prove an alibi. Several important witnesses were examined, among the number a colored man named Major Guyton, who testified in positive terms to the general good repute among the colored people of both the gentlemen; and, indeed, this reputation has thus far escaped even the usual taunts and malignity of the prosecution. Guyton swore that he had lived in the neighborncod with Mr. Mitchell for many years; that he (Guyton) was a Radical, and had voted the Radical ticket at the last election, at which there had been no hinderance whatever at the polls; that Mitchell knew him to be a Radical. and he had never heard any wrong of him on account of political differences, neither had any been exhibited towards the witness; that any been exhibited towards the witness; that he had heard frequently of plots to burn the houses of people both in York and Union Countles, and named as among those that had been designated to be burned the houses of Dr. Whitesides, Mr. Smith, Captain Mitchell and Mr. J. M. Whitesides, of York County, and those of Mr. Sam. Jeffries, Mr. John McCollough and Colonel Jeffries, across the river in Union County. Witness stated that this was fold him by several parties, all colthis was fold him by several parties, all col-ored, and that the reason they gave was that they were going to stop this whipping. For one, Reuben Canada, colored, had told him, one, Reuben Canada, colored, had told him, (witness,) and he had told Dr. J. B. Whitesides and others that this was the plan as fixed upon by the most of the colored people in that vicinity, and this was before any raiding had been heard of as being made in that vicinity. This witness, Guyton, who appeared to be a very intelligent colored man, stated further, that after there had been whippings in the neighborhood, during the excitement about the arms, and incendiarism. Captain Mitchell

the arms, and incendiarism, Captain Mitchell had on one occasion warned him, and several other colored men through him, to look out for danger; that several in that neighborhood or danger; that several in that neighborhood were threatened in a paper which he, Captain Mitchell, had found in the road; and that in accordance with the warning of Captain Mitchell, witness had notified Jack Dowdey, Butler Askins, and other colored men, who were afterwards whipped by unknown parties. Captain Mitchell had told him to tell them they must be very careful how they waiked and how they talked. The cross-examination of this witness was very severe and prolonged, great endeavors being made to trap the witness on the old principle of "how many potatoes were in the pile." Nothing was accomplished, however, except to bether and confuse the witness a little as to dates, which, under the circumstances, was not to be wondered at. During this ordeal the witness frequently stated that Mitchell seemed very anxious that he should tell the colored people anxious that he should tell the colored people to get out of the way; he didn't want them hurt Witness had also told Mr. Hood about the plans to burn the houses, and he replied that the whites and blacks ought to come to-gether, talk over the matter, said have peace; he had never heard any of the colored people express any belief that Captain Mitchell had ever been among the night-riders. There was much excitement in the neighborhood, and a very uncertain state of feeling among all par-ites; he had heard of Roundtree, who was killed, and had also heard the report that there was to be a killing "from the cradle up." Several parties had told him that any co'ored man who minded his own business would not be disturbed. The defence rested their testimony at the conclusion of the cross-examination of this witness. Another colored witness who could have testified to important facts was not to be found. A number of such witnesses have been deterred from giving their testimony by threats of violence, and the court yesterday signified its will nguess to bring any party so interfering with witnesses to justice, but the detecting of them is another matter altogether, and it will probably be a long time, it ever, before we shall hear of one of them before before we shall hear of one of them before any grand jury.

The prosecution put upon the stand several winesses to weaken in rebut, at the evidence elicited by the acfence. In some instances point blank contradictions were made. These rebutting witnesses included among their number the personages who have figured so extensively in every case, and who would seem to have taken some sort of a contract, to indee from the fraquency with which they to judge from the frequency with which they turn up whenever wanted by the prosecution, and the ready manner in which they testify. and the reasy manner in which they testify. Among these, the most prominent are the men who state they have been members of the Klan, and have made confessions: Charles Foster, Rozert Wigzins and Akerman's two hundred dollar witness, K. L. Gun.

The testimony closed. W. B. Wi son, Esq., of York, counsel for the Whitesides, reviewed the testimony; and impressed upon the jury the importance of their decision, claiming than not an ion of the exidence that had been that not an iota of the evidence that had been adduced in this most searching investigation connected his client with any of the proceedings mentioned at the time named in the in-dictment. On the other hand it had been clearly shown that on the night in question Dr. Whitesides had been performing an act of charity and duty to a fellow creature; that he had spent the whole of the night in the sick room of an aged lady.

Mr. C. D. Melton, of this city, counsel for Captain John W. Mitchell, followed, and, as both the parties were together on the night in question, he claimed an alibi proven by the evidence. Mr. Melton said, that in the face of the uncontradicted testimony given, he could not stand up and say his client was not a member of the Kian. That he had ever par-ticipated in, or committed any outrage, was, however, denied, as it had been proven by the nowever, denied, as it had been proven by the colored people themselves he was always considered a kind-hearted man, and was esteemed by them. Mr. Melton held that any organization that existed in York was no more political than the league, and that to hold every individual member of the league liable for the acts of all the others would be unjust. He believed that men were embraced in the organization of the temper was the provinces. lieved that men were embraced in the organization that existed in York County as noble and high-minded as any in the country, and that they had joined it for protection against bad men who committed outrages, and for the protection of the colored laborers on their

VOUNG & RISING GENERATION IN POULT DE SOIE AND JAPANESÉ,

The vegetative powers of life are strong, but in few years how often the pallid hue, the lack lus tre eye, and emaciated form, show their baneful influence. It soon becomes evident to the observdevelopment of the body. Consumption is talked of, and perhaps the youth is removed from school worst movements. Removed from ordinary diversions of the ever-changing scenes of the city. the powers of the body, too much enfeebled to give zes: to healthfu! and rural exercise, thoughts are turned inwardly upon themselves.

If the patient be a female the approach of the menses is looked for with anxiety as the first symptom in which nature is to show her saving power in diffusing the circulation and visiting the cheek with the bloom of health. Alas ! increase of appetite has grown by what it fed on. The energies of the system are prostrated, and the whole conomy is deranged. The beautiful and wonderful period in which body and mind undergo so fascinating a change from child to woman is looked for in vain. The parent's heart bleeds in anxiety, and fancies the grave but waiting for attended with the following symptoms: INDIS-POSITION TO EXERTION, LOSS OF POWER, LOSS OF MEMORY, DIFFICULTY OF BREATH-ING, General Weakness, Horror of Disease, Weak Nerves, Trembling, Dreadful Horror of Death, Night Sweats, Cold Feet, Wakefulness, Dimness of Vision, Langor, Universal Lassitude of the Muscular System, often Enormous Appetite with Dyspeptic Symptoms, Hot Hands, Flushing of the Body, Dryness of the Skin, Pallid Countenances and Eruptions on the Face, Pain in the Back, Heaviness of the Eyelids, Frequently Black Spots flying before the Eyes, with temporary Suffusion and Loss of Sight, Want of Attention, Great Mobility, Restlessness, with Horror of Society.

Nothing is more desirable to such patients than Solitude, and nothing they more dread, for fear of themselves; no repose of manner, no earnestness, no speculation; but a hurrled transition from one question to another. THESE SYMPTOMS, IF ALLOWED TO GO ON

occurred to two patients. Reason had for a time eft them, and both died of epilepsy. They were of both sexes, and about twenty years of age. Who can say that their excesses are not fre quently followed by those direful diseases, IN SANITY and CONSUMPTION? The records of the NSANE ASYLUMS, and the melancholy deaths by Consumption, bear ample witness to the truth of these assertions. In Lunatic Asylums the most melancholy exhibition appears. The countenance is actually sodden and quite destitute; neither mirth nor grief ever visits it. Should a sound of the voice occur it is rarely articulate

Low sullen sounds their grief beguiled."

" With woful measures wan despair

While we regret the existence of the above diseases and symptoms, we are prepared to offer at invaluable gift of chemistry for the removal of

HELMBOLD'S EXTRACT BUCHU

IMPROVED ROSE WASH

Cures secret and delicate disorders in all their stages, at little expense, little or no change in diet, no inconvenience, and no exposure. It is pleasant in taste and odor, immediate in its action, free from all injurious properties, superse ding Copaiba and all other nauseous Compounds

HELMBOLD'S

FLUID EXTRACT OF BUCHU.

There is no tonic like it. It is an anchor of hope to the physician and patient. This is the testimony of all who have used or prescribed it. Beware of counterfeits and those cheap decoc ions called Buchu, most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, from deleterious ingredients, and offered for sale at "less price" and larger bottles," &c. They are unreliable and frequently injurious.

Ask for Helmbold's. Take no Other.
