THE SAVANNAH REPUBLICAN has suspended publication temporarily, it is hoped. Cause, financial pressure.

ERROR OF THE TYPES.—In our account yesterday of the celebration of Mr. Bergmann's school, the types played bad havoc with the name of Master C. H. Pat's—one of the pupils was now marked distinction on that occasion.

GERMAN ENTERTAINMENTS.—The Friendschaftsband will have an entertainment at their hall on Monday evening.

The Brudericherband will also have one on Thursday evening next.

COLD STEEL.—On Tuesday morning a collision occurred near the Pavilion Circus, on the Citadel Green, between a white boy and a colored boy. Both parties drew their knives, and would no doubt have made mince meat of each other, had not the watchful Clubs and Stars intervened and escorted them to the Guard-house. They were brought before the Mayor yesterday morning, and the case was referred to a trial justice for investigation.

INQUEST.—Coroner Taff held an inquest yesterday afternoon over the body of a colored boy named Jerry White, who had died suddenly that morning in the hospital of the jail. The prisoner was serving out his term under sentence from a trial justice, before whom he had been convicted of larceny. The jury, after hearing the evidence of the physician, found that the deceased came to his death from "phthisis pulmonalis," commonly known as consumption.

THE ORPHANS' CHRISTMAS TREE.—The inmates of the Confederate Widows' Home, together with a large number of their friends, were made happy on Tuesday evening by the festival of a Christmas tree. It was beautifully dressed and decked with tapers and presents for the children. After the gifts had been distributed, the company, including the inmates, sat down to a well filled board in the dining room of the institution, and closed their festive-trial in discussing the qualities spread before them.

ANOTHER KEROSENE EXPLOSION.—A little before nine o'clock last evening a kerosene lamp exploded at the house of a colored woman named Harriet Douglas, in Archdale street, opposite West, by which her son was seriously burned. The young man, about twenty-one years old, was sitting alone near the table, when the lamp upon it exploded with a report like a gun. He was covered with the burning oil, and had not been for the aid which the noise of the explosion and the screams of the other inmates of the house drew to the scene, he would probably have been burned to death on the spot. The flames were extinguished at once, and the sufferer escaped with bad burns upon his hands and face. They are painful, but not supposed to be fatal.

CHRISTMAS TREE AT THE SCHOOLS.—Some weeks since, the children, who had the cause of the poor heart, determined to establish a Mission Sunday-School at the Mariners' Church, in the lower part of the city, for the exclusive benefit of the poorer classes who were deprived of other instruction. The school has been in operation but a short time, but has already proved a gratifying success. It now numbers nearly fifty scholars, who evince an increasing interest. It was determined that the merry Christmas time should not pass without the school having their Christmas tree. Mr. J. B. Warren, the superintendent, undertook this pleasing task, and the school was assembled last night at the Bethel Church to enjoy the sight of the tree, and receive the gifts that hung from the branches. A screen obscured the view until the arrangements were completed, when it was removed, and the tree exposed with its spreading branches and tempting fruit. After a short address by the superintendent to the children, "Shall we gather at the River," and other hymns. The tree was then illuminated and the gifts distributed to the children, whose names corresponded with the numbers affixed. Among the gifts were comfortable articles of dress, and the collection happily combined the useful and the ornamental. After the distribution the children sang another hymn, and were dismissed with a few remarks from the Rev. W. B. Yates, and carried with them a happy recollection of their first Christmas tree, and an anticipation of another next year.

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

A regular meeting of the Chamber was held last evening, President S. Y. Tupper in the chair.

The report of the committee upon proposed amendments to the constitution was adopted. An appropriation was made for the erection of a memorial of the late president of the Chamber, Mr. Robert Ware.

The following gentlemen were elected members of the Chamber: Messrs. J. N. R. Bacon, H. H. Raymond, Dr. Luhn, V. J. Tobias and E. Perry. The resignation of Colonel L. W. Spratt was accepted.

Mr. C. F. Hanckel read a highly interesting paper in relation to the condition of the rice interest, and the proposed reduction of the import duty on rice.

After a discussion, in which the liveliest consideration for the welfare of the rice planters was expressed, the whole matter was referred, on motion of Captain W. A. Kelly, to a special committee of five, with instructions to consider the question of memorializing Congress, and report to the Chamber. The chair appointed Messrs. W. C. Bee, C. F. Hanckel, W. A. Kelly, E. H. Frost and Wm. Leiby.

Mr. Cameron submitted a memorial in relation to the establishment of a National Exchange of the United States, with a capital of $100,000,000. The matter was, on motion, referred to a committee of five, to report at a special meeting. The chair appointed Messrs. George S. Cameron, Wm. M. Lawton, C. F. Hanckel, George A. Trenholm and William Rarrel.

CLUBS AND STARS.—Josephine Brown, lodged for being drunk and raising a disturbance in Elliott street, was sentenced to pay a fine of two dollars, or spend ten days in the House of Correction.

C. Ridenhard, for lying down at the corner of Reid and Meeting streets, was visited with a similar sentence. Both offenders paid up.

THE DAY OF FORTUNE approaches. The Academy of Music, with the other grand prizes of the Scheme, will be drawn for January 8th. Get your tickets in time, from Ebenezer C. Hill, sub-agent, at No. 23 Broad street.

THE SAVANNAH REPUBLICAN has suspended publication temporarily, it is hoped. Cause, financial pressure.

AMUSEMENTS.

The First Moulton Concert To-Night.

The first Moulton concert takes place to-night, when the fair lady who charmed Rosina and took New York by storm will make her appearance before a Charleston audience.

It is not often that beauty and vocalism meet, and when they do the public are prompt to place the possessor upon a high pedestal in the temple of fame. Of Mrs. Moulton the New York World says:

Mrs. Moulton's method is quite as admirable as her voice. For exactness of execution we must accord her unusual praise. For charm and "volubleness" in the use of all the ornaments of her art she must take rank with the most gifted cantatrice of our time.

This is hearty praise, and the successful tour which Mrs. Moulton has made through the Northwest and South proves it to be well deserved. There is no doubt that Mrs. Moulton is an extraordinary singer, and no lover of music should miss the present opportunity of hearing her in all the ripeness of her talent.

SIGNOR P. Ferranti is well known in Europe as a fine artist. He is said to have a splendid baritone voice, and was a great favorite with both Rossini and Lablache. Mr. Wehl is an eminent pianist, and Mr. Brookhouse Bowler, as Charleston knows, is a sweet singer of ballad music.

The concert promises to be an admirable one in every respect, and it is not surprising that the music-loving public should be on the tip-toe of expectation.

THE ACADEMY.

The last appearance of the Watkins Troupe at the Academy last evening drew a large audience, for whose entertainment the dramatic romance Kathleen Mavourneen was performed.

The play itself is full of striking pictures and noble sentiments, and the two principal characters, Terence and Kathleen, were sustained in their best style by Mr. and Mrs. Watkins. The audience testified their approbation by frequent applause, and the troupe terminated their engagement here in a highly successful and flattering manner.

THE CIRCUIT.

The large pavilion on the Citadel Green was again crowded last evening. Among the audience were a large number of ladies and children, and Dan and his company gave a performance which fully sustained his high reputation and merited the enthusiastic applause it obtained.

The programme is changed each night, and at a second visit spectators are not greeted with the same sights they have witnessed before.

This evening the celebrated Indian act will be on the bill for the grand entry, and, during the performance, the "melancholy Dan-e" will introduce both of his trained horses, "Excelsior, Jr.," and "Stephen A. Douglas." On Saturday afternoon, Mr. Rice has invited the managers of the Orphan Asylum to be present with the orphans, when he will have a programme arranged with special reference to their amusement. The public are also requested to notice that the prices of admission for the remainder of the week will be fifty cents for adults; children under ten years of age twenty-five cents.
