An Acr to Empower the Judges of the Probate Court, in their respective Counties, to issue Executions. Whereas doubts have arisen whether judges of the Probate Court in this State are authorized to issue executions to carry into effect any order, sentence or decree of such court; therefore, Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of South Carolina, now met and sitting in General Assembly, and by the authority of the same: SECTION 1. That from and after the passage of this act the Judges of the Probate Court, in the several counties in this State, may, and they are hereby, fully authorized and empowered to issue executions, when that is the necessary and proper process to carry into effect any order, sentence or decree of such court.

SEC. 2. That all acts and parts of acts incon sistent with this act, be, and the same are hereby repealed. Approved January 31, 1872.

An Acr to Regulate the Granting of Divorces. SECTION 1. Be it enacted by the Senate and House of Representatives of the State of South Carolina, now met and sitting in General Assembly, and by the authority of the same:

When the validity of a marriage shal! be denied or doubted by either of the parties, the other may institute a suit for affirming the marriage; and upon due proof of the validity thereof, it shall be decreed to be valid, and such decree shall be conclusive upon all persons concerned.

2d. Where either party wilfu'ly abandons or deserts the other for the period of two years: Provided, That when the suit is instituted by the party deserting, it appears that the desertion was caused by the extreme cruelty of the other party, or that the desertion by the wife was caused by the gross or wanton and cruel neglect of the husband to provide suitable maintenance for her, he being of sufficent ability so to do.

SEC. 3. That the Circuit Courts of Common Pleas shall have original jurisdiction of suits for annulling or affirming marriages or for divorces. No such suit shall be maintained, unless the parties, or one of them, is a citizen of this State, or shall have resided therein at least one whole year previous to instituting the same. The suit shall be brought in the county in which the parties last cohabited, or (at the option of the plaintiff) in the county in which the defendant resides, if a resident of this State; but if not, then in the county in which the plaintiff resides.

SEC. 4. That suits for divorce shall be commenced by summons and complaint, in the same manner as other actions; and, whether the defendant answers or not, the cause shall be heard, independently of the admissions of either party in the pleading, or otherwise. Costs may be awarded to either party, as justice and equity may require.

SEC. 5. That the court, in term, or the judge, in vacation, may, at any time pending the suit, make any order that may be proper to compe the man to pay any sums necessary for the maintenance of the woman, and to enable her to carry out the suit, or to prevent him from imposing any restraint on her personal liberty, or to provide for the custody and maintenance of the minor children of the parties during the pendency of the suit, or to preserve the estate of the minor, so that it be forthcoming to meet of the minor, so that it be forthcoming to meet any decree which may be made in the suit, or to compel him to give necessary security to abide such decree.

SEC. 6. adultery, the divorce shall not be granted if it appear that the parties voluntarily cohabited after the knowledge of the fact of the adultery, or that it occurred more than five years before the institution of the suit, or that it was committed by the procurement or connivance of the plaintiff. SEC. 7. Upon decreeing the dissolution of a marriage, and also upon decreeing a divorce, the court may make such further decree as it shall deem expedient concerning the estates and maintenance of the parties, or either of them, and the care custody and maintenance of the children, and make a new decree concerning the same, as the circumstances of the children may require.

SEC. 8. When a diverce is granted for the cause of adultery or wilful desertion, committed by the husband, the wife shall be entitled to her dower in his lands, in the same manner as if he were dead; but she shall not be entitled to dower in any other case of divorce from the bond of matrimony. SEC. 9. Upon the dissolution of a marriage by a decree of nullity or divorce for any cause, except that of adultery, committed by the wife, the wife shall be entitled to the immediate possession of her real estate, in like manner as if her husband were dead; and the court may make a decree restoring to the wife the whole or any part of the personal estate that may have come to the husband by reason of the marriage, or awarding to her the value thereof in money, to be paid by the husband.

The amount for which the attach-values, though a number are desirious of having the market fully sustained until they can work off some of their high-priced goods. No further advices are looked for from Rio Janeiro for several days to come, but the late accounts are considered by importers as a fifteently encouraging to require something of a very unexpected and decided character to counteract them, and all the cargoes on spot or to arrive which may now be unsold are held at extreme figures and quite indifferently offered. East India grades are held firmly and the bulk of the supply here is so concentrated as to be under pretty easy control, but some odd parcels are available to arrive, and pending the disposal of these the market does not improve, though prices are not as high in proportion as on other qualities. West India stock c mparatively scarce in first hands and some of the second-hand accumulations becoming reduced, with prices very firm and sellers less anxious than buyers, though the latter move with caurion. The movement at this port to-day has again proved moderate, and we hear of no transactions worthy of record. At the outports, however, there has been a little doing in Brazils, with sales at Baltimore of 4500 bags per "Campanero," and at New Orleans 2999 bags, balance per "Pavid," the latter clearing out the entire stock in first hands at the port named. The stock of Brazils at the ports, as made up this morning by Messrs. Wm. Scott & Sons, was as follows: Galvesion 5000; New Orleans 2999; Mobile 5087; Savannah 1600; Baltimore 5920; New York 79,259. Total 99,295. We quote Rio, gold, in bond, as follows: Ordinary cargoes 16%a16%; fair cargoes 174/a18%; good cargoes 174/a18%; prime cargoes 181/a18%c.
