NEWS OF THE DAY.

-Gold at New York yesterday closed at Tennyson is writing a poem on the subject of the Prince of Wales's illness. -The Nilsson troupe during her engagement of thirteen nights at Cincinnati received $40,000. -The sentence of Watson, the English cler-gyman who murdered his wife, has been commuted to penal servitude for life. -It is stated that the London Tablet, Catholic official organ, announced on the very morning of the death of Archbishop Spalding that he was to be made a cardinal. -Eliza Bennett, of Cape May, New Jersey, was barned to death one day last week by the upsetting of a coal oil lamp, which she had set on the floor before her while unlacing a

-A Boston physician says he has a patient in charge, married at fourteen, and who at thirty-seven had been the mother of twentyfive flying children, and never more than one child at a birth.

-There is a prospect of a lively contest between Nast, with his administration cartoons in Harper's Weekly, and Morgan, the new acquisition of Frank Leslie's Illustrated Newspaper, with his anti-administration caricatures. Morgan is no mean rival of Nast, and a fair fight may be expected.

The number of deaths in Philadelphia, last week, from small-pox was one hundred and eighty-three, which is a considerable increase over the previous week's report. The whole number of deaths from all causes last week was seventy-three more than the previous one. Under the head, "A Revolution in Paris," the London Globe says: "The Trois Freres Provencaux has closed in consequence of the expiration of the lease. This simple announcement will cause more emotion among Euro. pean and American epicures than could the destruction of a hundred palaces or monuments." -The friends of amnesty seem to have a renewed confidence in the success of the House bill now on the table of the Senate. They do not doubt that Sumner will again offer his civil rights amendment, but they think that a sufficient number will be found to vote it out as not germane to the bill, and, having made their record on the question, will furnish the requisite two-thirds vote.

tends to become intimately acquainted with the military systems of various countries. Not only are youthful Japanese to be initiated into the mysteries of West Point, but the Charge d'Affaires of that country at Paris has recently made application for the services of a body of French officers and soldiers to proceed to Japan. The French Government has acceded to the request, and those desirous of going are requested to enter their names. The pay offered is attractive. Cincinnati has a retail trade protection agency, the office of which is to collect "little bills" for small tradesmen. In extreme cases, the agency "wagons" a man, the process being to send to the debtor's residence or place of business a gorgeously-painted wagon, conspicuously lettered, "Protective Agency-Bad Debts Collected," accompanied by two collectors big enough to deter the mortified victim from attempting personal violence. It is claimed that a few applications will "fetch" the worst cases.

-The great Boston peace jubilee is a fixed fact. Mr. P. S. Gilmore; the great jubileeist, says so. His visit to Europe to recruit for minstrels has exceeded expectations. The English Grenadiers are coming. P. S. G. also received the strongest assurances from the monarchs of Belgium, Austria, Russia and Prussia that their best military bands will be boxed up and sent over in due course, to add their brass to the native production. In June next-always providing the $160,000 are guaranteed-all Boston will gather to the Coliseum, and the doubters of the grand enterprise will hide their heads in shame. _A Paris letter of January 12th, to the Boston Evening Journal, says: "Much surprise was manifested among the Americans on Friday last, when it became known that the celebrated Dr. Helmbold, of Buchu fame, had been conveyed to the insane asylum at Charenton, and it is said at the instigation of his wife. Two French physicians pronounce him insane, while one of our celebrated American doctors is of an opposite opinion. During a short conversation with the doctor a few days ago, he expressed himself as being weary, and thought he should go to some retired place and endeavor to recruit. Excepting a peculiar expression of the eye, he showed no symptoms of insanity. Various rumors are, of course, being

-Late English newspapers report the assemblage in London of a meeting of employers in the shipbuilding, machinists and iron trades, at which over three hundred leading firms were represented. They came from all parts of the kiugdom, and from statements made by each, of the number of persons employed by his establishment, it appears that the aggregate was over one hundred thousand men. They determined to constitute themselves into a defensive association, to resist strikes by their employees. They an nounced that in their action they would be "strictly but resolutely defensive." At present | They would do it because, by stifling comthe hours of labor in England amount to fiftyfour a week, and the workmen in various places have demanded a reduction to eight and a half hours a day, this being a preliminary movement to a demand for eight hours as a day's work. The action of the employers is believed to have been taken with a view to resist these demands.

-The musical critic of the Louisville-Courier journal is making himself ill over the departure of Nilsson. Hear him: "It has been year wrested from the Central Railroad than to write calmly and soberly of Miss Nilsson, with the echoes of her voice still ringing in the ear, and the fervor of her manner still quivering in the heightened senses. How much more difficult is it then to write dispassionately, with nothing but the memory of her to fill the next day and the next; and the next year, and the next-forever. To most of us the farewell of last night was a farewell that shall not know another greeting. Indeed, there is an alloy in the pleasure we have had in knowing her-this of resolving the daily sight of her into what must always be a saddened memory. It is what the parent, the friend, must feel-and we say it most reverently-when death has divided friend from friend." Give him air, gentlemen, give him air. Some ice water and a smelling bottle that way, quick !

The Conspirators Unmasked.

Notwithstanding the virtuous denials of the Savannah newspapers, we have now a plain avowal of the fact that the Central Railroad of Georgia is endeavoring to lease the South Carolina Railroad. From whom does this declaration come? No less a person than Mr. John H. James, Mayor of Atlanta, who runs James's Bank, and has an interest in a street railroad besides some eighteen hundred shares of South Carolina Railroad stock! From him we have full confirmation of all that has been said in this paper as to the plans of the public enemy. If the people, with the twanging declamation of Mr. John H. James ringing in their ears, refuse to believe that the commerce and trade of Charleston are in imminent jeopardy, they will richly deserve the fate which, unless they move promptly and vigorously, is unquestionably in store for this city and State.

The leader in the attack upon Charleston is Mr. William B. Johnston, of Macon, who affects, we believe, to have no desire to injure this people in any manner. This gentleman was present at the meeting of stockholders of the South Carolina Railroad Company, held yesterday, in this city. At a nod from him, Mr. Cubbedge, of Macon, offered a resolution requiring the Board of Directors to call a special meeting of the stockholders to consider any proposition that might be made to lease the road upon the basis of a guaranteed dividend of five per cent. or more. This was instantly seconded by Mr. John H. James, the connection between the members of the triumvirate being so plain that we are justified in assuming that Mr. John H. James is the authorized spokesman of the party. What, we may ask, were the admissions made by Mr. John H. James? Far from denying that the Central Railroad of Georgia desired to lease the South Carolina Railroad, he took as the foundation of his argument the fact that a lease of the road, with a dividend guaranteed by the Central Railroad, would cause the price of the stock to advance, and put two and a half million dollars in the pockets of the stockholders. It is true that he said that the lessees would not and could not injure Charleston! And why? Because, according to Mr. John H. -The Japanese Government apparently in- James, the Directors of the road could prevent any discrimination against Charleston; nd because, if there, were any discrimina- a regulating and corrective medicine more needed tion against Charleston, the Port Royal Railroad could be completed for less than blockede, and from the softening soil arises that the profit which the stockholders might expect to realize upon their stock. We might ask Mr. John H. James whether he would be willing to put his profits into the Port Royal Railroad if he found Charleston going to the dogs? So unsophisticated and disinterested a person would not, of course, refuse to offer up John H. James, and his street railroad, upon the altar of the City of Charleston. For the rest, we would say that it is an absurdity to tell a body of intelligent gentlemen that any means could be devised of preventing the Central Railroad, as a lessee of the South Carolina Railroad, from injuring South Carolina and Charleston. Mr. John H. James admits that the present management of the road have done all that all morbid matter, strengthen the nerves, and men could do to extricate it from its difficulties, and place it upon a sound footing. If the road is now in a position to earn, in the future, a dividend of five per cent., this can be done by the present management as well as by the proposed lessees. And, in that case, with the certainty that interest and sentiment will combine to urge the management to strain every nerve to increase the business of Charleston, and give even greater transportation facilities to the people of the State. In other words, the pres ent management can do all that the Central Railroad can do in the way of making dividends. But the Central Railroad offers to guarantee a dividend. That dividend will either be earned or it will not. If it can be earned, it will be made and declared by the present board without the hazards of a lease. The stockholders, as absolute owners of the road, will get their dividend, and see their stock advance in price. Where, in that case, is the advantage of a lease? But the dividend, proposed to be guaranteed, may not be earned; in which event the Central Railroad will be paying out of its own pocket a dividend to the stockholders of the leased line. Would they do this because of their unselfish love for Charleston? No!

petition and advancing rates, they could gain more upon the Central Railroad and its connections than they would lose by the South Carolina Railroad. They can, in short, afford to pay two or three hundred thousand dollars for a few years to save themselves from a competition which last often said that nothing could be more difficult | nearly half a million of dollars. And this would not last. They would ruin Charleston by turning its business to Savannah, and would then find an easy way to cause the South Carolina Railroad to be sold out, and the stock and the lease to be extinguished.

> But Mr. John H. James did not stop here. He went on to say that Mr. Moses Taylor, of New York, was worth thirty millions, and if he were aroused would buy out the South Carolina Railroad if he had to pay par for the stock. We have a better opinion of Mr. Taylor's sense. But the monstrosity of the threat is none the less evident! Here comes Mr. John H. James to say to the people of South Carolina, "We are rich "and you are poor. Take the crust we throw "to you, or you shall have nothing at all." The temper of this people has wonderfully changed if these threats have any effect. We can be led, but we are hard to drive. Now come back to us the words of Light Horse Harry Lee, whom the Tories tempted as Mr. John H. James and his colleagues would tempt this people. He said to them "I am a poor man; but your King, with "his millions, is not rich enough to buy "me!" And this is a fight for homes and firesides as much as was the war in which Sumter and Marion fought. The alien and stranger are upon us. Goths and Vandals rould strip us of our birthright. Every onsideration of interest and patriotism, of hard cash and public spirit, require this people to defeat Messrs. Johnston and James, and their allies of the Central

> To-day the fight may be renewed. The Ring must once more be handsomely repulsed. And, in the meantime, every citizen, according to his means, should put his money into South Carolina Railroad stock—to be bought and held for the guard ng of our trade, to be so held that all the wealth of purse-proud millionaires shall not steal it away. What it is worth to them it is worth to us. If the South Carolina Railroad is worth seven per cent. to the Central Ring, it is richly worth ten per cent., and more, to this State and people.

[From the New York Tribune.] We imported in 1866 no less than 76,209,397 ounds of rice, and the first quality sold for 134 cents per pound. We have imported less amount in each subsequent year, because our home product, which was 20,118,600 pounds in 1866, has risen rapidly and pretty steadily since, till it amounted, in 1871, to 92,000,000 pounds. Meantime the price of the first quality has fallen to 9 cents per pound. Our rice is grown by the seacoast negroes of South Carolina, Georgia and Louisians, who are charged with inveterate idleness and beg gary. They grow this important crop where little if anything would be produced if rice were not. Can't Congress be persuaded to let them alone?

fostetter's Bitters. THE YEAR ROUND, AND IN all parts of the world, the elements of disease are present in the air, the soil and the water, in a reater or less degree, and therefore the Great Vegetable Antidote to these invisible enemics of health, HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, is invaluable as a household medicine at all seasons and in every latitude. At no period of the year is and rain are beginning to break up the winter terrible miasma, whi h weighs like an incubus upon the vital machinery and depresses the animal spirits. It is then that the seeds of intermittent and remittent fevers, of rheumatism and rheumatic gout, of obstinate stomach complaints of disorders of the liver and bowels, and a whole host of pulmonary and nervous complaints are sown. The best, the surest way to prevent this disas rous seeding is to invigorate and refresh the system with a course of the B.tiers. If this precaution be taken now, there will be no danger of the miasmatic germs taking root in the fluids and tissues of the body, and bringing forth terrible fruit in the spring. Now is the time for prevention. Remember that vigor is the only safeguard against the virus of disease, and that Hosterter's Bitters is the purest, the safest, the most powerful and perfect invigorant ever administered, either as protective medicine or a remedy. A change of season approaches which almost always proves more or less disastrous to persons of a weak, ner vous organization. Brace up at once with the leading Tonic of the age. PROSPECTUS. CHARLESTON DAILY REPUBLICAN.

We propose to issue on Monday next the first number of an Afternoon Paper in the City of Charleston. This journal will: ea revival of the Charleston Daily Republican, under better auspices, we hope, and on a surer basis. We are auspices, we hope, and on a surer basis. We are glad to announce, as an earnest of success, that Charleston Daily Republican, under better auspices, we hope, and on a surer basis. We are glad to announce, as an earnest of success, that the enterprise has met with the most cordial assurances of support from Democrats as well as Republicans.

The principles of this paper will be thoroughly Republican, and we will strive to square its course with the doctrines of that gr. at party which saved the nation in its hour of peril, made it honorable at home and respected abroad, which has enlarged the limits of civil liberty within our own borders, and furnished new ideas on the subject to the world.

We shall strive to illustrate that liberality of sentiment which believes that men may disagree with regard to public measures, without the rancour of bitter hostility; and we will always be ready to extend the largest charity towards opinions which we may even deem unwise if only we are convinced that they are honestly entertained. We believe, and will maintain, that the present State Administration has contributed largely to the improvement of all our people—especially of the humbler classes, both white and colored, to whom it has, by wise and wholecome legislation, anorded an equal chance in the race of life, and sore and just protection in all their rights and privileges.

While we will not attempt to deprecate the exalted qualities of that class which, up to the late revolution, ruled the State—qualities, indeed, of which we are justly proud—yet we cannot consent to sacrifice the welfare of the mass of the people to any individual development, however appliedd and pre-eminent. We will contend that the civilization of this State, up to the rise of the Republican party within its borders, was narrow, exclusive and selfect the welfare of the mass of the people to of the many. We shall at pre-ent with joy, and will strive to foster it in the future, the rise of the lower classes of the State, both white and colored, from their long humility us der evil institutions to full citizenship and compete manhood. We rejuce in make the Daily Republican a lively and instruc-tive sheet, and we will strive to adapt it to the tastes and necessities of all our people. The Weekly Republican will be issued every Sat-urday, and will contain, in a dition to the news of the week and full editorial matter, an abund ance of well selected light reading, which will make it an accept tole companion in every house hold in the State.

In conclusion, we call upon all liberal, moderate and enlightened men, and especially upon all true Republicans, to lend us a prompt and full sup-
