A Good Move!

Some days ago we reminded the General Assembly that a statutory provision that no addition should be made to the State debt without the consent of the people, was of no value, inasmuch as the next Legislature could, if it chose, repeal the prohibition, and issue new bonds and stocks at discretion.

The Drawing of the South Carolina Land and Immigration Association.

It was to be expected that the drawing of the South Carolina Land and Immigration Association should cause far more disappointment than gratification. The number of prizes was large, and the public did not pause to reflect that the number of tickets was very much larger. There is hardly a village in the State where some sanguine ticket-holder had not counted on winning the Academy of Music or the one hundred thousand dollar prize.

How to Secure our Gains.

The commercial future of this fair city is doubtful, only because of the danger that it may be deprived of the advantages which have caused trade and commerce to increase with gratifying steadiness, in spite of war, of pestilence and of vicissitudes of legislation.

Aggravated Indigestion.

Persons who are predisposed to dyspepsia, find their sufferings from this cause greatly aggravated by damp weather, chilling winds, and sudden changes from a mild to a chilly atmosphere.

figures are certified to by the bookkeeper of the Association, and are strictly correct. We receive them as convincing evidence, if such were needed, that the drawing was managed fairly, and that the Association did not make any profit by the enterprise.

A Dainty Volume.

Legends and Lyrics. By Paul H. Hayne. Philadelphia: J. B. Lippincott & Co., 1872. In Mr. Hayne, South Carolina possesses a true poet. Long ago his tender verse had earned for him a place among the foremost devotees of the Southern Muse; but these
