Guns-Prizes, &c. The bright, clear spring weather of yester day was most propitious for the merry-makers at the festival, and brought the inhabitants of the city to this holiday retreat in much larger numbers than on the preceding days. A most agreeable breeze had cleared away the dust of Tuesday, and the bright green foliage of the trees and the smooth grassy lawn presented a refreshing spectacle to the visitors as they arrived in throngs from the city. The grounds never showed to more advantage, and the bright and varied colors of innumerable flags fluttering in the breeze from the tastily dressed booths lent a pleasing and animated air to the scene which at once charmed and delighted the spectator. From every quarter the sounds of enjoyment were to be heard; as the children pursued their games, the crowd cheered the sports going on, and from some neighboring booth a chorus of manly voices trolled some favorite air, recalling the memories of the distant Fatherland.

The ludefatigable marksmen began early, and were at work all day. The shooting grows more accurate daily, and centre shots are neither few nor far between. To carry off the first prize was at first the hope of many, but the field has now been reduced to two crack shots, who have distanced all competitors. These two are at the shooting stand early and late, and the precision with which they put their bullets through the white is wonderful to behold. During yesterday's shooting three hundred and twenty-two centre shots were made, a large increase on those of the preceding day, which shows the increas ing accuracy of the marksmen.

THE EAGLE SHOOTING was kept up with unabated interest, and forms the chief excitement at the stand. The first mark in the morning was the sceptre, which, after several rounds, was struck by Mr. T. Hanckel, of the Carolina Rifle Club. It remained attached by a splinter during another round, when, as Mr. Hanckel was again about to fire, the sceptre fell to the ground. The preceding shot was fired by Mr. H. Williams, of the Carolinas. The next aim was the right claw, which, after numerous shots, was neatly brought down by Mr. A. F. Meyer, one of the best shots of the German Rifle Club. The neck was next shot away by Mr. F. Wieters, of the German Rifle Club, and was the last prize won before the firing ceased. The royal bird presents now a most forlorn appearance, the wings and body being only left, but to those parts the most valuable prizes attach. The first mark to-day will be

The target of Honor was also shot at by twenty-one more members of the German Rifle Club. Eleven of the shots struck in the green, but the bull's-eye is yet untouched. While the gentlemen are thus employed the ladies are also busy in the shooting gallery devoted to their use, on the point of land in the rear of the cottage. A neat arbor, about fifteen paces long, is here erected, at the entrance of which is a rest for the markswomen, and at the further end a small target adjusted to the wall. The shooting implements consist of two air-guns with which the fair competitors, at times, strike the centre with the mos creditable skill. They shoot for prizes too, and the following is a list of the articles won and the winners:

First Day-First prize, cordial set, Mrs. H. Harms; second prize, toilet set, Mrs. L. Krae-Second Day-First prize, cup and saucer, Mrs. A. Geilfus; second prize, lady's companlon, won by same lady. Third Day-First prize, satchel, Mrs A. Gellfus; second prize, water caraffe, Mrs. H. Harms; third prize, fas, Mrs. Heinz; fourth prize, cup and saucer, Mrs. Mosimann.

To-day a still more valuable set of prizes will be put up for the contest, and the competition promises to be very exciting.

The afternoon seems to be the favorite time for visiting the Platz, and about four o'clock the crowd thickened, and the throngs increased until between two and three thousand persons must have been congregated upon the greunds. The amusement committee were fertile in resources, and each hour some novel, mirth-inspiring device greeted the crowd. The pole-climbing, egg-hunting, clgar smok ing, bucket tilting, &c., were all in full blast, and in every quarter apes, minstrels, games, &c. drew their own particular circle of admirers. Prominent among the amusements is the fine bowling saloon of Messrs. Semken & Pleper. It contains four fine alleys, which are in constant use, and afford an unending diversion to the male visitors. The proprietors keep their saloon well up to the mark, and deserve the large patronage which they receive. The dancing hall is always a favorite resort, and one continuous ball, with the best of music, makes the happiness of the Terpsichorean artists complete. At four o'clock Professor Bond appeared upon the top of the main building, and for an hour kept the crowd in an excitement by his daring perambulations and break-neck gymnastic feats upon the tense wire. A new feature in his exhibition yesterday was his walking over the wire with a chair, and when in the centre taking his seat in it Turk-fashion, with the bars of the chair resting upon the wire.

Altogether, yesterday was one of the pleasantest days at the Platz, and the most successful. The fine day was partly the cause of this, but much is due to the orderly and decorous manner in which the whole festival is conducted. As hosts the German Club pay the strictest attention to the comforts and pleasure of their guests, and every effort is made to amuse the visitors. Those who have not yet gone have pleasure in store, and all who wigh to laugh and grow fat, and spend a few hours in pleasant recreation, should pay a visit to the Schutzenfest.

The steamers of the Mount Pleasant and Sullivan's Island Ferry Company will leave South Atlantic wharf at 12.30, 3 and 5.15 P. M. and returning will leave the wharf at the Schutzenplatz at 1.30, 4 and 7.15 P. M.

The South Carolina Railroad trains will leave Ann street for the Piatz at 9 A. M. and every twenty minutes thereafter, and will leave the Platz for the city five minutes after their arrival. The following is

TO-DAY'S PROGRAMME. 1. The riflemen meet at the Platz.

2. Prize target shooting for gentlemen from 9 o'clock A. M. to 4 P. M. For ladies from 1 to 4 o'clock P. M.

The shooting at the eagle takes place from 9 o'clock to 4, and at the target of honor from 12 M. to 1 o'clock P. M. 3. Dancing from 12 M. to 7 P. M.

4. General amusements as on Monday, including Professor Bend, in his daring feats on the tight-rope at 4 o'clock P. M.

SACRED CONCERT.—We understand that some of the most accomplished amateurs in the city have tendered a complimentary concert to Mrs. P. J. Barbot, the accomplished organist of St. Mary's Church. The concert will take place about the 8th of May, and will unquestionably be a musical treat.

THE DRAMA.

Engagement of Mr. John E. Owens The sale of tickets and reserved seats for the three nights of the engagement of Mr. John E. Owens will begin this morning at the Academy of Music. Mr. Owens opens at the Academy next Tuesday evening, and continues Wednesday and Thursday evenings only, the pressure of Northern engagements preventing a longer season. He deserves and will, doubtless, receive an enthusiastic wel come, as he is beyond a question the most accomplished actor in his peculiar line of comedy now on the American stage. On his first night Mr. Owens appears in his great specialty of Solon Shingle, in which character he i simply irresistible; and all who desire a hearty laugh should go to witness his droll adventures in search of that "barr'l of apple sass" that was "strayed, lost or stolen." On the following nights Mr. Owens appears in the Heir at Law, The Happiest Day of my Life, Everybody's Friend, and The Forty Winks.

A Suggestion. CHARLESTON, S. C., April 24.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE NEWS. As the approach of warm weather makes it unlikely that our theatrical firmament will be dazzled with the presence of any bright professional star for some time, the introduction of amateur performances for laudable objects should be encouraged. To further this end will THE-NEWS consider a movement to invite the members of our Legislature to repeat the play of "The Robbers," (recently presented at the understanding that the proceeds of the exhibition be devoted towards defraying the expenses of the State Lunatic Asylum?

If the members act naturally, they must necessarily "take." They always do. TAXPAYERS.

THE FEAST OF PASSOVER.

This memorable Jewish festival commenced on Monday evening last, the 22d instant, and will continue during eight days, during which time no leavened bread is found within the habitation of the orthodox Israelite, nor any solid or liquid food which is produced by fermentation.

Among the orthodox portion of the Jewish community the first and last two days of the festival are kept as strictly as the Sabbath. Business is entirely suspended, the morning and evening services in the synagogues are well attended, and the religious duties of the season are rigidly complied with. The intermediate days are of no particular import, except as to the abstinence from the use of un eavened foed, and the eating of matzoth, or unleavened bread, which is composed of flour and water, and baked so quickly as to preclude the possibility of fermenting. The orthodox Jews hold in great reverence the first two evenings of the testival, which are denominated "Sedar nights," from a peculiar family service. On these occasions the whole family, from the venerable grandfather and grandmother to the youngest child, scarcely able to lisp a prayer, gather about the table. When all are seated, a religious service commemorative of the deliverance of the children of Israel from Egyptian slavery is recited by the head of the family and is joined in by all those present. A repast more or less sumptuous, according to the means of the family, follows, and the rest of the evening is spent in feasting and reloicing.

THE REV. CHAS. BETTS .- The members of the District Conference, at their recent meeting in Georgetown, determined to erect a suitable stone, in Marion, over the restingplace of this venerated minister. Rev. Messrs. J. W. Kelly, R. R. Pegues and Thomas Mitchell were appointed a committee to attend to this business, and something over two hundred dollars was pledged for the purpose.

GRAND DIVISION, SONS OF TEMPERANCE .-This body assembled last night at the hall of Palmetto Division, King street, and will continue its session this morning. The Grand Division will be opened at 10 A. M., and all members of the subordinate divisions, and lady visitors who may be in the city, are fraternally invited to be present during the session. They will be admitted under the rules of this order.

THE IRISH VOLUNTEER RIFLE CLUB .- AD extra meeting of this spirited organization was held last evening at the Hibernian Hall, at which a large number of applicants were elected members of the club. At the conclusion of business a large punch bowl made its appearance, and the members and their friends passed a pleasant hour in discussing its contents and in the interchange of sentiments congenial to the occasion.

THE ORANGEBURG TOURNAMENT.-Cards of invitation have been received to the grand tournament ball to be given at the Fair Ground Building, Orangeburg Courthouse, on the eve ning of the 1st proximo. It promises to be an elegant affair, and is under the management of an efficient committee of gentlemen, consisting of Colonel A. D. Frederick, Dr. T. B. Legare, and Messre. J. W. Patrick, James S. Heyward, J. S. Albergotti, P. G. Cannon, Geo.

THE SUNDAY-SCHOOL CONVENTION .- A meeting of the general committee of the State Sunday-school Convention was held last evening at the rooms of the Young Men's Christian Association, at which quite a number of the friends and workers of the Sunday-school cause were present. Mr. R. G. Chisolm presided, and the Rev. W. S. Adams opened the meeting with a prayer. After discussing some minor details, the following resolution was passed: "That an invitation be extended to the clergy of the State to attend our convention as delegates." The chairman then called for reports from the various committees, among which Mr. W. S. Adams presented an interesting report on the subjects to be discussed by the convention. The report was considered and received, and the meeting was closed with prayer.

States, with a view of observing their financial condition and prospects. Henry Johnson, a colored youth, was arrested yesterday morning for catching chickens in Charlotte street and offering them for sale. The chickens belonged to some one else, and Henry is held for examination.

THE COURTS YESTERDAY.

United States Circuit Court. THE KU-KLUX CASES. There were no trials in any of the Ku-Klux cases yesterday in the United States Circult Court. Andrew J. Martin, James A. Sanders and William D. Barnes, of York County, pleaded guilty upon charges of conspiracy in viola tion of the act of May 31, 1870; and David Ransier, indicted for conspiracy and the murder of Tom Roundtree, pleaded guilty to the first charge, upon the charge of murder being abandoned by the government. District Attorney Corbin then stated that the rosecution had no other cases prepared for trial except that of Robert Riggins which had een fixed by the court for Thursday. He had, he said, proposed to the counsel for defendant to begin the case then instead of waiting until Thursday, and, as it would doubtless occupy all of one day to get through with the wit nesses for the government, the defence would not be called upon to produce their witnesses until Thursday, the time fixed by the court for

Colonel Hamilton, the counsel for the de fendant, replied that he could not commit himself to that course. The court had assigned Thursday for the trial of the case, and the defendant had summoned his witnesses accordingly. They would be ready for trial on the day that had been fixed, but were not prepared to go to trial then.

Judge Bond decided that the case could not be called unless the counsel consented, and the Academy by the Bruderliche Bund,) with Mr. Corbin announcing that there were no other cases of this kind ready for trial the court proceeded with the other criminal busi ness upon the docket. REVENUE CASES.

A FIND .- About four o'clock yesterday, a roundsman on his way through Washington street startled a thiel, who fled, leaving a bag behind upon the pavement. It was found to contain five chickens, a turkey, a pair of shoes and a blanket. The atticles were all brought to the Guardhouse, and ordered to be delivered to the owner upon proof of property.

COTTON THIEF .- Sam Middleton, an enterprising youth of color, was captured at halfpast eleven o'clock on Tuesday night, at the corner of State and Queen streets, with a large bag, containing cotton, upon his shoulder. He could give no plausible account of how he got the cotton in his possession, and was taken to the Guardhouse. After an examination yesterday morning, before the Mayor, he was sent to the House of Correction for thirty days under the vagrant law.

THE LICENSE QUESTION .- In reply to a query from the auditor of Charleston County, the State auditor decides that all employees in railroad workshops and sub-teachers in schools are exempt from the operation of the license act. All pastors of corporate churches and the agents of insurance companies, who have already taken out licenses from the comptroller-general, are liable to the provisions of the act. To-day is the last day during which the auditor's office will be open for the receipt of taxes under the license law. apr16-1mo

A Forthcoming Work, by Wm. L. King.

Our State has a history, and a glorious one on these shores to the present time of manly our history that is not calculated to inspire at Port Royal 17th March, 1670, brought with them the laws of civilization of the "mother which are as follows: country." Such a people could not long be without their schools and printing offices and newspapers. A newspaper was the journal of civilization then as it is now. It re corded then, as it does now, every item of historical importance.- A continuous file of newspapers is nearly sufficient in itself for the compilation of a local history. Customs and manners, trade and commerce, agriculture and mechanical improvements, statistics and religion, biographical notices, the prominent incidents of peace and the stirring news of war, are all brought before us as vividly as bough we lived at the time and received fresh from the press the weekly or daily chronicle of events.

We offer our friendly recognition of the service rendered by Mr. Wm. L. King to all lovers of old Carolina by his volume on "The Newspaper Press of Charleston, S. C." For a white we torget the present; we live in the past. The Colonial Assembly is passing resolutions to encourage a printer to come hither a small weekly paper is issued-the forerunner of half a century of many of stronger wing and flight; the war of the revolution approaches, and, like a dark cloud, passes away; new days dawn upon an independent people, and self-government evokes their mental energy in essay and discussion. The editor becomes as important a character as the popular erator; he wields an influence as great; he speaks daily to the people and for the people. In this record of "The Newspaper Press of Charleston" there come before us, with editorial pen in hand, Thomas Whitmarsh, the Timothys, Wm. Crafts, Edmund Morford, Henry L. Pinckney, Isaac Harby, James Wright Simons, Wm. Gilmore Simms, John A. Stuart,

The history of the newspaper press of ne other city can exhibit a superiority to ours in the unselfish patriotism, the ability and courtesy which should characterize journalism. While this is prominently set forth by Mr. King, he traces the varying fortunes of the newspaper enterprises began in this city—the rising and setting of larger and smaller luminaries-and intersperses his volume with blography and history, and entertaining extracts making up, altogether, an instructive narra tive from 1731 to our own cloudy days. With this brief introductory notice, we heartly commend this coming volume to all our read ers, and add that lists for subscribers to this work, which is quite limited in the edition. are suspended at the book establishments of Samuel Fogartie, John M. Greer & Son and F. S. Holmes, on King street, and at Mr. Doscher's periodical depot, Broad street.

"THE NEWSPAPER PRESS OF SEWING MACHINE SALES FOR 1871 .- The megnitude to which the sewing machine business has grown is only surpassed by the rivalry of the various competitors, few of whom are unfamiliar with the numerous artifices resorted to for the commendation and sale of From the day the English Colonists landed the particular machine sought to be sold. We are told that the applicant in every cas has designated the kind of machine desired. Occasionally a whole covey or flock of facts springs suddenly to the view of the public and draws universal attention. As very few sportsmen every enjoy the good fortune to fetch down a whole flock at a shot, it rarely falls to the lot of any business marksman to bring to the ground so great a swarm of "gamey" realities. But occasionally there is a business establishment which uses a long-range gun that both spreads and concentrates in discharge. The Singer Manufacturing Company is one of these extraordinary calibres. To the point of our illustration: The bird in this case is the Singer Sewing Machine; whole number brought to market in 1871, 181,260, being in a word fifty-two thousand more than was bagged by any other company. If, therefore, the number of sales be any criterion of the merits of the different machines, it cannot be denied that the Singer, owing to the popularity of what is known as their "New Family" machine, far surpasses all others, for the fact is shown by sworn returns of the companies, which returns are made under the licenses granted them by the owners of the sewing machine patents.
