ICE BLANKETS, from Fifty Cents up.

Horace Greeley, the very same who is candidate for the Presidency, is a writer of sonnets-at least he has written one. We presume but few of the present generation have ever read a line of Greeley's poetry, and we will not keep them waiting. In a book of Typographical Miscellanies, published thirty-three years ago, when the Tribun was young and its editor vigorous, we find the Sonnet-A Portrait of a Lady. BY HORACE GREELSY.

The blissful June of Life: I love to gaze
On its aweet wealth of ripening loveliness,
And lose the thought that o'er my saddening days
Grim care has worn clouds which will depress
In spite of stoic pride and stern resolve:
B+anty like this the waste of life redeems
'Round it—their sun—the coldest hearts revolve, Warm'd back to youth and gladdened by its beams.

But lady ! in that mild, soul-speaking glance,
Those lustrous orbs, returning heaven its hue,
I greet an earlier friend—forgive the france?
'Tis nature only, imaged here so true
That, briefly. I forgot the painter's art
And halled the presence of a Queenly heart.

A ROYAL RADICAL ROW.

The Waning Faction at Thirty-two-Pinckney against Campbell—The Cry to Arms, and the Campbellites Driven from the Field-Trial Justice Pinckney Elected.

[FROM AN OCCASIONAL CORRESPONDENT.]

ST. JAMES SANTEE, S. C., June 8. A meeting was held to-day at the Thirtytwo-mile House, St. James Santee, by the rowdy Radicals, liberal and unliberal, for the purpose of electing a chairman of their party in the parishes. The meeting was organized by electing Moses Reid chairman, and P. B. Drayton secretary.

Trial Justice W. G. Pinckney then assumed the duties of the chair, and explained the the object of the meeting, as well as a great many other things, which he has often done before, such as his original birth and training, also what he had done for his people, alluding often to "Old massa" and his government, abusing Nortnern men who had settled among us most bitterly, and appealing to the sympathies of his hearers at great length. The party, however, being divided into the Pinckney and the Campbell parties, both leaders aspiring to the office to be filled, the Campbellites became impatient, and called on the chair for the election. The chairman tried in vain to call the meeting to order. Pinckney still stubbornly retused to surrender the stand, and his opponents began interrupting him by interrogating him, and denying his assertions, and accusing him of repeatedly selling them out and of trying to do so now; also of being bought with bacon and red corn by the candidates he supported. He in turn denied the charges in a profane and sacrilegious manner. He, however, in due time gave way and allowed one of his opponents to take the stand, who had not spoken long before he assailed Pinckney's character in such a way as to prove subsarable. Pinckney interrupted him, and being backed by his followers, all talking so as to render any distinctions.

Pinckney interrupted him, and being backed by his followers, all talking so as to render any distinction impossible, the excitement grew high and words ripened to blows. The speaker was pulled down from his stand, when he made straight at Pinckney, and they closed for the opening of a general row. A rush was made by both parties at them and on them, also into a room where there is an armory of State guns.

a room where there is an armory of state guns.

Bifles, pistols, knives and clubs were now fourtshed in fory, everybody doing or wanting to do something to somebody. The secretary left table, books, papers, &c., and leaped over the balusters on to his mule. Away home he went. Some were running to and fro, wild with excitement, and some with lear. Jabbening women with hoes charged the mob, and, finally, the Campbellites were driven from the field with no one hurt. Pinckney's face was somewhat bunged. The victorious champion now returned to his stand, and calling his crowd around him, and with heart and eves too full to speak, rebuked his tear. Jabbeting women with hoes charged the mob, and, finally, the Campbellites were driven from the field with no one hurt. Pinckney's face was somewhat burged. The victorious champlon now returned to his stand, and calling his crowd around him, and with heart and eyes too full to speak, rebuked his followers for allowing him to be imposed upon and boasted of having shed blood for them, said he was now truly a soldier of the cross. He now went on with the business, and accomplished his election without a dissenting voice (so much for a peace officer.) There were a few white spectators, who considered tequal to a theatre in point of amuserient. But on reflection ours is truly a sad condition. Hope.

A FATAL RAILWAY ACCIDENT.

[From the Anderson Intelligencer.]

A terrible accident occurred at the Anderson depot on last Saturday afternoon, resulting in the death of Mr. Sanders Smith, a welling in the death of Mr. Sanders Smith, a welling in the death of Mr. Sanders Smith, a welling in the death of Mr. Sanders Smith, a welling in the death of Mr. Sanders Smith, a welling in the death of Mr. Sanders Smith, a welling in the death of Mr. Sanders Smith, a welling in the death of Mr. Sanders Smith, a welling in the death of Mr. Sanders Smith, a welling in the death of Mr. Sanders Smith, a welling in the death of Mr. Sanders Smith, a welling in the death of Mr. Smith was desirous of taking the county. It seems that Mr. Smith was desirous of taking the train for Belton at halt-past two o'clock, and went to the depot for that purpose. He was considerably intoxicated, and went near the edge of the platform. The cars were being shifted at the time, and the freight cars were run out on the track next to the platform with the intention of leaving the hindmeet car. When this was "cut off" from the train, one of the hands called out "all right" as is customary, and it is supposed that Mr. Smith concluded that this signal meant to get aboard, which he attempted just as the train moved rather briskly, when the car striking him, he was thrown down next to the platform, and was caught between the car and the platform, in which position he was turned round several times within a space of lees than six inches, crushing him most horriribly, and breaking his left arm and right thigh. Although the alarm was instantly given, the train could not be stopped until the entire length of the car was passed, with the unfortunate man being crushed within this narrow space. His mangied body was taken into the reception room of the depot, where he breathed his last in a short time.

General J. B. Kershaw, Cartain W. L. DePass and Mr. A. M. Kennedy, of Camden, nave been invited by the Lancaster Division of Sons of Temperance to deliver an address on Wednesday, the 19th June, on the great importance of temperance.

The postoffices at Blackville and Barnwell village have within the past week under-mportance of temperance.

The postoffices at Blackville and Barnwell village have within the past week undergone a change. Miss Mary Maher has taken charge of the office at Blackville, and entered upon the duties of the office on Tuesday last. J. C. Buckingham has received the appointment of postmaster at Barnwell, and takes charge on the 1st of July.

Miss Rebecca Sanders, aged seventeen years, daughter of Seaborn Sanders, Esq., living in the vicinity of Barnwell, was terribly burned several nights since by the explosion of a kerosene lamp. The accident occurred while filling the lamp from a three gallon can, which contained about a gailon of oil.

A division of sons of temperance was organized at Lancaster last Saturday by Deputy Grand Worthy Patriarch of South Carolina, Mr. W. T. D. Cousar, of Chester. Dr. W. J. Hickland, P. M. P., and M. R. Kee, of Beaver Dam Division; D. S. Henderson, W. P., D. B. Rothrock and W. A. R. Wilson, of Chester Division, assisted in the organization.

—Two penitentiary convicts have escaped, one on Tuesday and the other on Wednesday of this week. The first one, it is stated, escaped from the penitentiary, and is number 772, known as Bullhead. He made a desperate effort for liberty and swam the Congaree. He was in for seven years, for grand larceny. The other was known as Peter, in for larceny. He escaped from the guard while the square was at work.

The cotton house of Mr. Geo. Douglas, of Camden, was broken into on Monday night and some corn and other articles abstracted. On the same night the cook of Mr. Douglas was robbed of about fifteen dollars in currency.

The thief entered her apartment, forced open her trunk and carefully removed everything until the money was found. The things were then replaced in the trunk. One night last week, the house of Mr. T. W. Prgues, of Camden, was entered and various sricles of clothing feloniously taken and carried away. RHEUMATISM AND NEURALGIA. In all arthritic complaints, as rheumatism, gout, neuralgis, &c., this practice is almost perfect. The most intense pains are almost instantly relieved, enormous swellings are reduced, limos which have been contracted and stiff for years are relaxed. Cases of twenty, thirty and forty years' standing have been cured by me after all other means have failed.

A great accomplishment is my triumph over pain by which I can often, in a few moments, soothe and carry off the most excruciating sufferings. If this system did nothing more than to relieve pain, it would stand superior to any other system extant.

CATARRH.

Stopped-up Head, Running of the Nose, constant Hawking and Spitting, constant Blowing of Thousands soffer from that most annoying, disagreeole and offensive complaint, Catarrh, without knowing what it is. Often the secreted mucous, flowing down the throat, clogs up the lungs and lays the foundation for consumption.

The most skillful physicians fail to care it. I care any case of obstruction, stopped up head, discharges of greenish, thick, thin or glairy mucous from the mose, internation external, pain or failness between the eyes, constant blowing of the nose, infamination of the nasal passages, theeration of schudderian membrane, ac., in the coarse of a few days.

Nervous Deafness, Noises in the Head, Otorrhœa Olitis (Discharge from the Ear,) Paralysis of Auditory Nerve.

I am daily treating all affections of the ear wit the most gratifying results. Some who had paid aurists nearly $1000 without benefit have been cured by me in a few weeks at a moderate ex-MERCURIAL DISEASES.

Mercury, injudicitiusly used, has filled the earth with wrecks of immanity. Thousands sufer from its effects who have been unconsciously drugged by their physician. It is vain to attempt the cure of the majority of diseases while it remains in the body. Although I have heard of several so-called antidotes for mercury in the human body, I have never yet seen a physician who could eliminate it from the system. from the system.
I can satisfy any patient or physican that I can beloutely abstract mercury, lead, zipc, and ther mineral poisons in every case.

CANCERS. Noll-me-Tangere, Lupuse, or Wolf Cancer, Scir rhus Cancer, Fungous Cancer, Rose Cancer, Spider Cancer.

I make a great specialty in the treatment of every description of Cancer and Tumors. How many Cancers and Tumors are wronfully treated by certain charlatans styling themselves "Cancer Doubors." After being pronounced incurable, I will take any one of these cases in hand and make a permanent cure.

My terms for treating Cancers, &c., will be based on the age and condition of the patient, and the positive certainty of cure.
