MONDAY, JULY 15, 1872.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

...The highest honors of Princeton College, N. J., have been borne off for the last three years by Southern students. -One of Gladstone's sons was last month formally received by Archbishop Manning into the Roman Catholic Church. -The dying gift of Bennett, of the Herald, was $250,000 toward completing the Catholic Cathedral in New York City.

-The New York Sun says: "Mr. Elilott, one of South Carolina's colored congressmen, is about to select a boy of his own race to be a cadet midshipman in the Annapolis Naval Academy." -The French treasury has just paid the damages and interest required by the German Government on behalf of the Germans who were expelled from France at the outbreak of The Germans expelled from France, after the breaking out of the late war, comprised 19,300 Prussians, 4423 Bavarians, 6578 Wurtembergers, 8329 Badois, 1800 Hessians and 2200 others, making a total of 46,632. -The postoffice department at Washington have received large orders for the new postal cards from business houses in all parts of the country. It is believed that the cards will at first be extensively used for advertising. -A lump of pure gold, weighing half a pound, was recently found by a negro woman on the plantation of Mr. Hugh C. Nisbet, in Union County, N. C. The woman was hoeing cotton, and knecked the lump over with her -Walnut stumps have become an article of merchandise, and many of them are very valuable. The curly grain of the roots is used for veneering, and some stumps are worth one hundred and fifty dollars after being properly worked into shape. The sale of the Empress Eugenie's jewel in London netted fifty thousand pounds. The first article which attracted attention was a marquise ring, with a pink diamond, surrounded by brilliants, formerly the property of the Empress Josephine.

-Mrs. Greeley, it is said, is hopelessly ill, and of a disease that forbids all freedom of locomotion. The daughter Ida, who takes the deepest interest in her inther's success, and who is very thoroughly educated in books. and in what books teach, is now the head of the farmhouse at Chappaqua.

-Nearly one thousand pounds of ice were thrown into the fountain of the New York Gold Room on Tuesday last. It didn't cool the air, however, and the brokers amuse themselves by chipping off small chunks of ice and dropping them down the backs of each other's necks.

_M. Anguste Rouzand, Miss Nilsson's pro spective husband, has reached thirty-six, the age when Byron thought he was in the sere and yellow leaf. Gustave Dore, who has vain ly tried to win the heart of the Swedish cantatrice, is in despair at the thought of another becoming the sole possessor of her charms.

-Mrs. Gratz Brown, it is said, is a handsome and winning lady, mother of seven chilnot ever fourteen years of age. Of these children five are girls. It is related of the Governor that he married for love, when Mrs. Brown was a country malden, and that he first saw her swinging on a gate in front of a country farmhouse, as he and two or three other members of the Missouri Legislature were strolling out of town after one of its ses

-A food strike, which has been going or for some time in the North of England, begins to assume serious dimension, and threatens a violation of the peace. At Consett, which is one of the headquarters of the movement, groups of women severely handled one of their own sex who ventured to make a purchase from an obnoxious butcher. The police had to interfere, but so determined is the resistance to high prices that the butchers have ceased to kill meat, and the population is reduced, in spite of itself, almost to a vegetarian dlet. ... The reports of large deposits of guano on the coast of Peru are said to have been exaggerated. The stock in the Chincha Islands is almost exhausted. The stock of guano of good quality on the Guanape, Macabi and Lobos Islands does not exceed one million tons, and is of very inferior quality in the Lobos Islands. Another million tons is the outside quantity. In the south the only deposit of any consideration is on Pabellon de Pica, and this does not amount to half a million tons. The small quantity of guano which remains on the Ballestas Islands is of an inferior quality. Should no new deposits be discovered the present stocks will not last more than four years. -Every collection of English verse, made within the last quarter-century, has contained a certain poem on the birth of Christ, through which runs the refrain, "In the solemn midnight, centuries ago." Thirty-five years ago, its author, Alfred Domett, gave a royal entertainment to his friends; left them, leaning on Robert Browning's arm: left him and vanished. Many years after, he was seen, in a boat the party to support Mr. Greeley. Any manned by savages, off the coast of New Zealand, but this was the only glimpse vouch safed his friends. He was long ago given up for dead. Browning's poem of "Waring" is founded on this strange career. Recently the supposed dead man came back, wearled with wandering, to tell the story of a life spent in ruling the barbarians, among whom he had hid himself from civilization. He has brought with him the fruit of thirty-five years practi- foes of the party. But the leaders at Baltical solitude, in the shape of a poem of fourteen thousand lines, which is soon to be published. Its author's life will be an advertisement such as no book has ever had before.

-The reception of their nomination by a powerful party, in addition to that effected some time ago by the wing of another one, was modestly received by both the distingaished gentlemen who now see themselves at the head of a movement and ticket that have gathered accretions in the last month are better than those of Grant and Wilson.

til, upon the swelling, resistless wave of this great popular reform, the candidates find line in August. In that State the contest themselves borne next November to the national capital and the highest offices in the people's gift. Mr. Greeley was at the Lincoln Club as nomination news came in. He smiled blandly and kindly as the good news of the flattering confidence reposed in him was reported, and the hand-shake prolonged and hearty that he was compelled to undergo must have been even a greater strain on his physical system than his wood-chopping experiences. He did not forget his family, and telegraphed the results to his daughter Ida, who has shown herself so much interested in her father's chances. In the evening the philosopher was at the concert of the Garde Republicaine, and another round of congratulations was given, M. Paulus being among others to personally express himself. Graiz Brown was at New Haven when the news reached him, and he couldn't but have felt satisfied with himself as he thought that twenty-five years ago he was just leaving that classic old city to make his way in the world.

The Liberal Movement in South Carolins.

South Carolina occupies an exceptional position in the sisterhood of States. The colored voters have 30,000 majority, and no reform movement can succeed which does not obtain 15,000 colored votes, and the entire white vote. With a few exceptions, the whites are Liberal Democrats. Most of them are enthusiastic advocates of the Baltimore nominees; all of them are ready to vote for Greeley, as opposed to Grant. But, so far, not a single Republican of prominence has declared his intention to espouse the Liberal cause. It is possible that men like Schurz, Cox, Gilbert C. Walker and Charles Sumner might change the aspect of affairs if they could devote themselves to this State; but, as things stand, Mr. Greeley could not obtain more colored votes in South Carolina than would be given to a Democrat. The leaders of the negroes, to whom these look for guidance, are Grant men. They slander and misrepresent Mr. Greeley in every imaginable way, and persuade their illiterate hearers that they run a risk of being returnod to slavery if the Liberal candidates are successful. Thus, the negroes on the coast, who hold the balance of power, are kept solidly together on the side of the regular Republican candidate.

A number of influential members of the Republican party are striving vigorously to parify the State Government. They are, nevertheless, the staunch supporters of the presen' administration. Most of them are actual or potential office-holders under the National Government. They are guided in their opposition to the Scott-Moses Ring by the tacit or expressed wishes of President Grant, far more than by a love of reform for its own sake. It would cost them their official heads to raise a finger for Greeley. They are ready enough to talk and write against Scott, Moses, Neagle and Parker, and to demand the election of good men in October, but it is indispensable that they should, upon all occasions, chant the praises of Grant. Even Mr. C. C. Bowen, who, in other things, has them at his beck and call, could not persuade the colored voters of the low-country to support the Cincinnati ticket. He has convinced them that they should fight to the last against the Columbia Ring. This they will de. But he cannot, for the reasons elready given, induce them to wage war upon Grant. With these facts before them, outsiders can understand why it is that there is no Liberal Republican party in South Carolina. They will also see that such a movement, as soon as organized, would repel the Radicals whose cry is Grant and State Reform, and force them into a new alliance with the corrupt crew whom they are now denouncing, and whom, if let alone, they will probably overcome. A Liberal organization would, of course, receive very nearly the entire white vote, and the Grant ticket would be elected by the usual thirty thousand majoridres, six of whom are still living, the oldest ty. For the sake of casting a complimentary vote for the Democratic-Republican candidates, the Conservatives of the State would have sacrificed every hope of accomplishing, within a few months, something substantial in the way of local reform.

The action of the Baltimore Convention meets with the approval of both Democrats and Liberal Republicans. Since the adjournment of the Convention there has been no sign of a bolt, and most of the "straight-"outers" have gracefully given way. Senator Bayard, who held out to the last moment, advises his constituents to support the party nominees. Congressman Dan Voorhees is to stump Indiana for Greeley and Brown, and the Mobile Register holsts the Liberal flag. The New York Journal of Commerce takes no part in the contest; and The Nation continues to explain that Grant is far safer than Greeley; but Senator Schurz is at work in earnest, the New York World loyally accepts Mr. Greeley as the Democratic candidate, and converts like the Baltimore Gazette are unstinted in their advocacy of the Liberal-Democratic ticket. So far, the result of the Convention has not been attended by any marked desertions from the Grant party. It has, however consolidated the Democratic vote. This was the first thing to consider, and the Convention, seeing that a simple recommendation could not bind the members of the party, made Mr. Greeley their regular candidate They were convinced that the movement could not succeed unless the Cincinnati candidates received the entire Democratic vote. and, in their judgment, the only way to secure that vote was by formally pledging other course would have left the straightouters at liberty to vote for whom they pleased. In our opinion, it was better to recommend the Democracy to vote for Mr. Greeley, so as to avoid the howl, already heard, that the Cincinnati nominee had relinquished all claim to Republican consideration in becoming the candidate of the old more had the whole field before them, and we acquiesce in their decision. They have made sure of a popular vote of three millions, and of fourteen or fifteen Democratic-States. A change of four or five per cent.

The prospect is decidedly good. At this moment, the chances of Greeley and Brown in the vote in the doubtful States will give

like a snowball rolling down a mountain side | Hard work during the next three months in a damp day, and will continue to do so un- will make the defeat of Grant certain; even if the Republicans should carry North Carois both sharp and severe. The Liberals are sending their best men to the front, and the Administration leaders are flooding the State with speakers and greenbacks. It will be a close contest. The Liberal-Democrats, at this time, have slightly the advantage. They are working like Trojans, and have the hearty sympathy and best wishes of every lover of his country.

Let Her Rip!

Judge Willard decides that the Revenue Bond Scrip is unconstitutional. This shucks off $1,800,000 of State debt. Major Corbin has submitted an argument to show that the guaranteed bonds of the Blue Ridge Railroad are invalid. This will wipe out $4,-000,000 of contingent liability. At this rate, the total of the State debt will run down as quickly as it ran up.

General Sherman is snobbish enough to complain that he was snubbed by General Von Moltke and Prince Frederick Charles. Doubtless he was treated as well as he de served. Our military parvenues gad about too much, and forget that such exploits as the burning of Columbia are not likely to commend them to the love and respect of the men who never make war upon women and Direct Damage as the Result of Conse quential Claims."

Matt Morgan sends Nast more than that coarse caricaturist bargained for. Last week the readers of Harper were treated to Nast's cartoon upon the Alabama claims, showing "our President' with his foot firmly planted on the tail of the whining British llon. This week Morgan gives, in Frank Leslie, his cartoon upon the Alabama business. 'It shows the "royal beast" flattening out Bancroft Davis and President Grant under his forepaw, while Grant yells, "Oh, sir, please, sir, don't, sir; we didn't mean it, sir. Please, sir, only our fun." England and America chat cosily together, and rather enjoy the Presidential collapse. The inscription is, "Direct damage as the result "of consequential claims. Where the British "lion puts his foot, to the great satisfaction of "John Bull and Brother Jonathan and the rest "of the world." As a bit of artistic work, without regard to its political force, this cartoon ranks amongst Matt Morgan's best.

The Success of the News

[From the Laurensville Herald.] Messrs. Riordan, Dawson & Co., the enterprising proprietors of THE CHARLESTON NEWS, we are gratified to learn, have purchased the building known as the Southwestern Railroad Bank, a handsome structure, and one well adapted to the purposes to which it is designed by these gentlemen to convert it. The building was purchased at a cost of $13,500. This is an evidence of thrift, a reward THE News and its proprietors fully merit. We wish all concerned continued success, and deserving it, as they do, they will surely receive it.

-Mr. T. C. C. Featherston, of Anderson denies that he is in accord with the Grant and Wilson movement. As between Greeley and Grant he chooses the former, and will vote for the best Republicans for State offices if there is no Democratic or Reform ticket.
