LOCAL LACONICS.

-There was no meeting of the Board of Health yesterday.

-The chief of police designates, by advertisement, the streets where spring carts may stand for hire. -On and after to-morrow the first bell wil ring at 7 P. M. and the last bell at 9 P. M. ...The third annual session of Miss E. A. Kelly's flourishing school begins on the first Monday in October.

-The garrison at the Citadel is to have rifle practice at Rhett's Farm, near the Race Course, every week.

-The summons against Mrs. Wingate, for keeping a disorderly house, was instantly dismissed, there being no foundation for the charge. -An accident to the engine attached to the early morning train on the Northeastern Railroad, yesterday, caused the train to be delayed for two hours.

-Isaac Reid, a prominent colored politician of the Bowen-Tomlinson persuasion, died on Tuesday afternoon of country fever. His funeral took place yesterday afternoon.

-A subscriber asks that the city authorfties will out down the bush fence on the west side of the King street plank-road, which fence prevents drivers of vehicles from seeing the trains approach.

—The Tomilason Republicans hold elections to-day in the various wards for delegates to their County Convention, which assembles in this city on the 25th instant. The polls will open at 6 A. M. and close at 2 P. M.

One hundred and twenty-eight cars, loaded with freight of various kinds, arrived in Charleston by the South Carolina Railroad, between the hours of 5 A. M. and 5 P. M., yesterday. They constituted seven long trains. -In consequence of the rush of freight the

New York on Friday, and the steamship James Adger, which is expected from New York this day, will probably leave again on Sunday.

—It is understood that a perition for the reappointment of Trial Justice Lovett, who was removed a few days since, was signed by a large number of citizens, and it is most likely that the request will be granted.

A horse attached to the buggy of Dr. Bosemon, while turning the corner of Meeting and Chalmers street in a trot, about halfpast twelve yesterday, slipped and fell upon its side. The horse was uninjured, but one of the buggy-shafts was broken. -Mr. Pritchard, the engineer at Bennett's at the east end of Wentworth street, was accidentally struck on the head by an iron crow-bar while at his post on Monday afternoon. He fell to the ground insensible, but had recovered sufficiently the next morning to return to his duties. -A colored youth, a son of Eugene Wall, while playing base-ball in Calhoun street, Tuesday afternoon, received a severe blow upon the forehead from a bat which slipped ont of the hand of a playmate. The injury may prove serious. This should serve as a warning of the danger of allowing boys to play base-ball in the streets.

-The Regular Republicans of Ward No. 7 elected the following officers on Monday evening in compliance with the call of their county chairman, E. W. M. Mackey: J. A. Mushington, president; Abram Taylor, first vicedent: P. H. Gordon, second vice-presi dent; James Perronneau, secretary, and E. P. Wall, treasurer. A committee for rallying the voters on election day was also elected.

THE BANK OF CHARLESTON.

A handsome luncheon was served at the offices of the Bank of Charleston National Banking Association yesterday morning, in celebration of the conversion of the old Bank of Charleston into a National Bank. Most of the leading bankers and merchants of the city were present, and took the opportunity of congratulating the officers of the bank upon its bright prospects.

The business of the bank, we are glad to say, is steadily and rapidly increasing, and the certain continuance of the energy, liberality and fair-dealing, which were noteworthy in days gone by, may be relied on to raise the bank to its old and honorable position as a leading monetary institution.

RATHER WARM .- The subjoined extract from a letter from De Soto Parish, Louisiana, gives the people of South Carolina a mild idea of the torrid heat which this season has parched up the crops of the South in general. The letter is dated August 30:

It is so hot and dry here, and no rain, that the peaches are cooked on the trees. We will make very little cotton. All near here in the

A LIVE PAPER FOR ADVERTISERS .- Mr. John Kershaw, the editor and proprietor of the Camden Journal, is now in the city." The paper which he represents is conducted with both ability and vigor, and has a large circulation and wide influence. Advertisers cannot find a better medium for communicating with the public of its section than is offered them in the Camden Journal. Trade is opening, and the progress of Charleston largely depends on the persistency with which the claims of the city are published in the columns of the press.

SUDDEN DEATH .- Morgan Sweeney, a negro man, sixty years old, fell dead about six o'clock, yesterday afternoon, while working as a laborer upon one of the new houses in course of erection in St. Philip street near Wentworth. The coroner was notified, and a jury of inquest was impanelled, which rendered a verdict of death from apoplexy. After the inquest the body was carried to the City Hospital. The deceased had been a slave of Mr. C. C. Trumbo. He is represented as having been a faithful servant. He leaves a famCITY IMPROVEMENTS.

The New Plank-road in Alexander Street-A New Storeho ... Upon a New Wharf-Addition to Arnold's Stables.

The contract for laying the new plank-road through Alexander street, from Calhoun to Chapel, which was proposed by the Mayor and sanctioned by Council at its last meeting, has been awarded to Mr. Patrick Brady, the contractor who laid the plank-roads in King and Spring streets. As this road will be used principally for the transportation of heavy merchandise, such as cotton and naval stores, the planks are to be laid upon five sleepers. instead of the usual number, which is four. Mr. Brady has agreed to do the work at one dollar and ten cents per running foot, and the distance from Calhoun to Chapel streets being about one thousand feet, will make an aggregate cost of about twelve hundred dollars. The lumber has already been carried to the spot, and the work will be commenced this morning. It will be finished by the 28th inst. A new wooden store-house, one story, of twelve feet high, forty-five feet long by thirty broad, with a queen post roof, covered with tin, has recently been erected upon Hunter's wharf, on Cooper River, next south of the east end of Laurens street. The store-house has been built by Mr. W. H. O'Brien, who has recently engaged in the wood factorage business. It stands where there has never before been a building of any kind; the wharf upon which it rests being a new one recently built over a waste mud flat.

· An extensive addition to the sale stables of Mr. R. Arnold, at the corner of Meeting and John streets, has just been completed by Mr. J. C. Lacoste. The addition stands on the north side of John street, one door west of Meeting. It consists of a tin-covered pitched roof, eighty feet long by thirty wide, support ed by a solid brick wall, twelve feet high on the front and rear, and a series of brick pillars of the same height on either side. The spaces intervening between the pillars are closed by broad panels constructed with narrow interstices for admitting an abundance of light and air. An old building that formerly stood upon the lot was pulled down and the new one put up in its place within the short space of seven days. Mr. Arnold's main stables are also being thoroughly overhauled and repaired.

THE COURTS.

Municipal Court. William Burley, drunk, dismissed. Jessey Jones, disorderly, one dollar. Mott Smith, lodged by a trial justice, delivered to warrant. James Carron, United States soldier, disorderly and fighting, referred to the post com-mander. A cow, at large, one dollar.

Trial Justices' Courts. Motte Smith was before Trial Justice Rolling yesterday, charged with committing an assault and battery upon Henry Smith. He was sentenced to pay one dollar and costs.

THE BUIE INSTITUTE.

CHARLESTON, S. C., September 16. Miss Mary Ann Bule (C. S. F.) begs to thank the officers of the South Carolina Railroad Company for their kindness in rendering her every assistance in establishing her female institute in the Town of Alken, S. C.; one of the most suitable localities in the land. Miss Bule begs to inform her friends everywhere that she has secured the assistance of General G. J. Rains to lecture on astronomy and chemistry and to teach mathematics and the languages. None but the ablest teachers will be employed in her institute. Everything will be taught that is taught in any school in New York or Baltimore.

Miss Bule begs to inform all her friends who have sympathized with her since the war, and have promised to aid her when they saw her succeeding, that she has secured an elegant building on a hill, with pleasant surroundings, and will be able to purchase her institute by the liberal patronage of her triends. She has taught in all her schools free pupils at her own expense, as her donations have not yet been paid. She begs the co-operation and aid of all who feel an interest in education. She will have a free school separate from her in-M. A. Buie, Principal. stitute.

LAUNCH OF A NEW SLOOP .- A new sloop, called the Harrietta, built by Messrs. Tobin & Brandt, shipbuilders, for Captain Joseph Emanuel Thackey, was launched yesterday morning from her stocks at the east end of Amherst street. The Harrietta is of a handsome model, flity feet long over all by sixteen beam, with four teet six inches depth of hold, and has a carrying capacity for seventeen hundred bushels of rice. At her mast-head is a miniature fireman, gaudily attired and blowing a trumpet. She was built expressly for the Santee trade. She sits well upon the water and presents a fine appearance.

AN EX-TRIAL JUSTICE EXPLAINS.

CORNHILL PLANTATION, ST. ANDREW'S PARISH. TO THE EDITOR OF THE NEWS. By your issue of the 16th instant, I learn with surprise that my commission as trial jus-lice has been revoked for what is termed 'bribery in office." With all due respect to the Governor of the State, I declare the charge to be grossly false; nor did I know aught of the existence of such charge until informed by your issue of the oth instant.

My removal I find no fault with, but I maintain that it is wrong to charge a man with rime for simply political reasons. all make every effort to have the matter their Constitutions, Summonses, Bills, &c. nvestigated.

MEMORANDA.

The steamer J W Everman, from Philadelphia for Norfolk, which was in collision in Hampion Roads with Br bark Eliza Maria, from Santos for Baltimore, reports that the steamer was rounding Sewell's Point on the usual course when the look out man saw a light on a vessel close to starboard. The helm was immediately put hard aport. A few moments after the steamer struck a vessel lying exactly in the opposite direction from the one first seen. This vessel proved to be the Br bark Eliza Maria. Those on board the steamer assert positively that they saw no light on the bark until after the collision. On the other hand, Capt Pail lo', of the bark, says that he had the required lights up and the lookout man at his post, and that this man halted the steamer before the collision occurred. The bark was valued at $12,000 and the cargo at about $100,000, the latter insured in New York and the former in England.
