Not here are the gobiets glowing.
Not here is the vintage aweet:
Tis cold as our hearts are growing.
And dark as the doom we meet.
Bucstand to your glasses !—steady!
And soon shall our pulses rise;
One cup to the dead already;
Hurrah for the next that dies!

There's many a hand that's shaking,
And many a cheek that's sunk;
But soon, though our hearts are breaking
They's hourn with the wise we've drung
Then stand to your glasses !—steady!
Tis here the revival hea;
Quaff a cup to the dead already;
Hurrah for the next that dies!

Time was when we laughed at others, Time was when we laughed at others,
We thought we were wiser then;
Ha ! hs ! let them think of their mothers,
Who hope they may see them again.
No! stand to your glasses !—steady!
The thoughtless is here the wise;
One cup to the dead afready;
Hurrah for the next that dies!

Not a sigh for the lot that darkles, Not a tear for the friends that sink, Will fall 'mid the wine-cup's sparkles, As mute as the wine we drink. Come! stand to your glasses! steady! 'Tis this that the respite buys; One cup to the dead already! Hurrah for the next that dies!

Who dreads to the dust returning?
Who shrinks from the sable shore,
Where the bigh and haughty yearning Of the soni can sting no more?
No! stand to your glas:es! sleady!
This world is a world of lies; One cup to the dead already: Hurrah for the next that dies

Ont off from the land that here us,
Betrayed by the land we find,
Where the brightess are good before us
And the dullest are left behind,
Stand I stand to your glasses !--steady !
'Tis all we have left to prize!'
One cup to the dead alr. ady: One cup to the dead air, ady:
Hurrah for the next that dies!

POLYGAMOUS EUROPEANS.

A Ship-Load of Newly Recruited Mormons-Who They Are and What They

[From the New York World, September 17.] Brigham Young seems to devote all his energy to the solution of two problems by the force of one argument. The two questions, as given by the Tribune and Mining Journal, of Salt Lake City, are: Shall the United States Government exert authority over Mormons and, Shall the social evil be allowed to exert its influences against polygamy? Brigham Young's solution is the importation of a few car-goes of muscular men and comely women—the former possibly for bellicose purposes, and the latter as an especial inducement to the sons of apostles to shun evil ways and accept the faith and words of their fathers. The first cargo arrived last night in the Williams & Guion steamship Minnesota. There were six hundred of them, single men and single women; English from the mining districts, Weish from the mountains, and Germans from the Bhine Valley. Each nationality was in charge of the spoatle who had preached especially in either country, and the three leaders in the conversion of souls will conduct the neophytes to the or possibly for bellicose purposes, and the is will conduct the neophytes to the

It was not generally known that these polygamously inclined people were coming, and they were therefore left in undisturbed posseason of the ship yesterday. They will re-main on board until to-day, when they will land at Castle Garden and immediately proiand at Castle Garden and Immediately pro-ceed on their journey westward.

In appearance they are a seedy, ignorant lot. The men have evidently been chosen with a view to the development of the mining resources of Utah or for the defence of the resources of Utah or for the defence of the place, and the women to become the help-meets of the men and mothers of the future generations of Mormons. The men were mostly large, powerful fellows, with brawny bodies and coarse, unintelligent features, just the men to embrace the faith of the Latter-day Saints and maintain it against all opposition, whether it came in the shape of reasoning or physical force. The women were nearly all under twenty-five, and had evidently been selected by some aged saint who had an been selected by some aged saint who had an eye for souls in fresh, young bodies. There eys for souls in fresh, young bodies. There was a noticeable lack of the gaunt, elderly ismales who are supposed to form the staple for conversion, and this fact, it is said, was frequently remarked during the voyage. That considerable foresignt had been displayed in the gathering of the two hundred men and three hundred young women is evidenced in the fact that during the voyage no sickness occurred, though of course the ship's officers contributed to this happy result.

The men did not care to speak of the faith they had embraced, and when a coy malden was saked if she knew that she was liable to be the consort of a man with a dozen other wives, she maintained her modesty in the diplomatic reply:

"He na prapper to ax me, an I shall na tell ye."

ye."
She was a blushing girl of twenty-one, and there being some anxlexty to know how these young; females reconciled purity with polygamy, the question was pressed.
"You would surely rather be the one wife of a man in your own country?"
"I'm me ain mistress, an it's nobody's bees-

The reply was discouragingly independent, and, moreover, as the Mormon girl moved away, a knot of her brawny countrymen had gathered with lowering looks, and prudence counselled silence.

It was evident that they had all been cau-It was evident that they had all been cau-tioned against intruders before the arrival in New York, in order that they might not be made ashamed of their new-found faith or disenchanted with their promised land. They all seemed to know that there was something awkward in the condition they were about to bring upon themselves, and were disinclined to speak of it.

HOW TO SLEEP.

The True Rule to Determine How Much

Hest is Enough.

[From Old and New.] Distrust and do not use those rules for introspection which bid you, after you have retired

Determine for yourself, then, how many hours of sleep you need. Remember that the bedstead is built, the mattress laid, the sheets and blankets spread, that you may fulfil this duty, and for no other purpose. The bed is not a contessional, in which you are to tell the story of your sins to that exacting and morbid priest, yourself. The bed is not a little cabinet, set off from your counting room, in which you are to finish the calculations which were interrupted by the bores who came in a your office-hours. However this is to be, such an examination is never to be made after you have gone to bed. When I come to show you the methods of sleep, I will show why. Distrust, again, all old saws about "Six hours' sleep for a man," and the like, which undertake to regulate for you, as by some vermilion edict of a Chinese Emperor, your performance of this absolute duty. You can find out for yourself, at least with the assistance of your physician, how many hours of sleep you require; and, as we live, it is much more likely that you require nine hours of each twenty-four than that you can make six answer. The rule for the decision as to this duty for the night comes in the rule for the duty of the arrangement for the day. That rule is this, as well stated by Thomas Drew, that no man has any right to draw on the capital of his life, that is; or, more simply put, no man has any right to commit suicide by inches. Determine for yourself, then, how many hours of sleep you need. Remember that the bedeted is built, the mattress laid, the sheets and From 8 to 9 morning; from 2 to 3 afternoon.

It is recommended that office patients attend punctually at the beginning of the office hours. For similar reasons, distrust all the opening officers of "Somnambula," and all the other sentimental poetry, which teach you that early rising is of itself a virtue and a praise, when it is not based upon the legitimate conditions. THE MUSIC-BOX TRADE.

A Geneva letter says: The extent to which this business is carried on in Geneva is a mat-ter of surprise to Americans, and the magnit-

ence of some of the instruments turned out cence of some of the instrainents turned out exceeds anything that most persons have any idea of. We were shown an instrument this morning that played thirty-six tunes with flute, bell, drum and castanet accompaniment. The cost of it, complete, was seven thousand francs, or about fourteen hundred dollars, the francs, or about fourteen nundred dollars, the purchaser to have the privilege of naming twelve airs to be arranged on two of the clyluders that were blank. The instruments range in price from five francs to seven thousand. The high-priced ones are in elegant rosewood cases, but most of them are surprisingly low when we consider the prices at which the smaller boxes are sold in the United States.

smaller boxes are sold in the United States. There is a duty, however, of thirty per cent, which accounts in some measure for the cost. A box playing eight tunes, with the accompaniments of belis, castanets and drum can be had for two thousand and fifty francs, and with the drum accompaniment also for four hundred from. The price rises with the size of the drum accompaniment also for four nun-dred francs. The price rises with the size of the cylinder and the finish of the cases. There are musical chairs which play when you sit down upon them, musical decanters which strike up a merry air, such as the "Flowing Bowl," when you pour anything out of them, musical souff boxee, musical flower pois and musical toys of all descriptions. The twelve hundred dollar instrument had volume of sound sufficient for a church, and would occupy

THE GRAND GIFT CONCERT A FIXED FACT.

SEPTEMBER 28 THE DAY.

YOUR TICKETS NOW OR NEVER.

The vast sales of Tickets already made, and the increasing demand for them from all quarters having determined the Trustees that the Grand Gift Concert for the benefit of the Public Library of Kentucky, advertised for SATURDAY, September 28, 1872 shall positively come off on that day without postponement, the Management now notifies all who expect to participate in the drawing that they should buy their Tickets at once. Delay for a few days caused many who wanted Tickets at the Concert in December last to go without them. Some living in Louisville watted until sales were closed, expecting, no doubt, a posiponement, and then offered fifteen, twenty and even twenty-five dollars for Tickets which the day before were offered to purchasers at the regular price. Others hving at a distance sent thousands of dollars by mai and express, which got here after sales were closed, and had to be sent back. These disappointments need not occur again if the warning now given in due season is heeded.

The drawing will begin precisely at six o'clock SATURDAY MURRING, September 28, 1872, in the great hall of the Public Library Building, and draws.

This preparation is just what many persons need. They wish no oye, but only a Hair Wash, or Hair Dressing—something that will keep the hair clean, and at the same time be a p casant hair dressing—nor too greasy. The "Excelsior" meets all these indications, and should be given a trial. Fifty cents a bottle; five bottles for two dollars. A liberal discount to the trade.

For sale by the Manniacturer.
