SERIOUS CUTTING AFFRAY.

One White Boy Dangerously Wounds

Another. William Morrissey, a white boy about seventeen years old, was seriously, and it is feared mortally, stabbed, about six o'clock vesterday afternoon, by another white boy named John Magrath. The stabbing occurred in Mazyck street, near Magazine. The boys had been quarrelling about some trivial matter. Morrissey was standing upon the steps of his mother's house, No. 20 Mazyck street. Magrath was standing directly below upon the sidewalk. Several boys, but no grown persons, were present. The boys say that Magrath dared Morrissey to come down from the steps. Morrissey came down, and imme diately that he reached the sidewalk was stabbed twice by Magrath. The boys cried out that "Willie had been stabbed," and the inmates of the house running into the street found the boy lying upon the ground bleeding profusely, and unable to speak. One of the wounds was on the right side of the chest, near the shoulder, the knife having passed in and perforated the upper part of the right lung. The other was on the left side of the back, a little above the hip. This was a very large wound, and apparently extended into the cavity of the stomach. The kind of knife used is not known, but it is supposed to have been a large dirk, judging from the size of the wound. Drs. Buist and Lebby were called in, and did what they could to alleviate the sufferings of the poor boy. They said that very little hope could be entertained of his recovery. Magrath ran off, and had not been arrested at a late hour last night. He is only fifteen years old. Morrissey bears an excellent reputation.

THE PHILADELPHIA STEAMERS.—The steam ship Everman (extra) will sail full this morning, taking a good list of cotton for New England mills. The Gulf Stream arrived yester day, and is appointed to sail on Saturday, at eleven o'clock A. M., and affords cheap and rapid transportation to Philadelphia, Providence, Boston, Fall River, and all the New England cotton centres.

THE TOWN TALK. What is Said on the Streets About Hobson's Choice.

The candidates for office whose names ar not found on the Hobson's Choice ticket, or any other ticket, are virtuously indignant that THE NEWS should have proposed a plan of action the result of which may be that they will be "left out in the cold" on 'election day. They and their friends are busily at work suggesting reasons why THE NEWS should have dared to propose a ticket whose only merit is that it is the best the people can get, and can be elected. Among these reason they advance the following: That THE NEWS was paid to put out the ticket; that it was a bargain made weeks ago; that the ticket grew out of "a pecuniary arrangement" with Sheriff Mackey. These are fair specimens of the style of talk in which the would-be officeholders indulge. On the other hand the cool, sober-thinking citizens are fast coming to the conclusion that it is wiser to elect a moderately good set of men than to stay-at-home, or to cast their votes for very estimable gentlemen who have not the remotest prospect of winning. This feeling grows stronger every day, and upon that THE NEWS relies.

The Hobson's Choice is kept before the Con servative public. Here it is again:

New York Cotton Market.

New York, Friday, P. M., October 4.

The Financial Chronicle says: The market the past week his recovered its tone and shown a decided recovery in prices. This is in part the result of the previous rapid decline, and in part also of the continued active demand which has sprung up here for consumption and export, but more especially is to be attributed to the improvement in the Liverpool quotations, which have advanced from 94d last Friday to 94d to-day, with increased activity. As a result of these causes our market has, as stated above, assumed a firmer tone for spot cotton, and for October and November delivery, the improvement having been regular and continued each day since Tuesday, closing to-day at %c advance from yesterday for spot cotton, and about the same improvement for the next two months. For the later months there has been less doing and less strength developed; this next two months. For the later months there has been less doing and less strength developed; this is due to the fact that the prices have been all along higher for those months, and now, as the receipts continue liberal and the most critical period of the crop has passed, and European consumption does not promise to equal last year, less confidence appears to be felt in future higher rates than was felt earlier in the season. The prices for futures last reported were (basis low middling) is 11-16c for Octoter, 18%c for November. 18%c for December, 19%c for January, 19%c for February. apr20-w December, 19%c for January, 19%c for Febru for December, 19%: 107 and 17 and 17 and 17 arg. and 20% of or March.
