Rather a remarkable case is mentioned in late number of the British Medical Journal. In 1969, Dr. Bigg, of Dundee, amputated the whole of the extremities of a young woman ed Rebertson, as they were in a gangrenan condition. After the operation the girl rent to London, where Mr. Heather Bigg chetimoted for her a pair of automatic hands, opening and shutting at the will of the tient This permitted her to grasp even so small an object as a crochet needle, so that she has been enabled to support herself comfortably by making shawls, &c. . The artificial legs allow her to walk with the aid of crutches. She now writes an excellent hand, besides enitting, feeding and dressing herself. One ofher shawls has been presented to the Queen,

TE is predicted that Lake Erie, now the sthway of a mighty commerce, will, in time, lation. Careful surveys have shown tha while Lake Michigan has an average depth of eighteen hundred feet, Lake Superior of nine odred feet and Lake Ontario of five hundred feet, Lake Erle has an average depth o one hundred and twenty feet, which is said to be constantly decreasing. The bottom of the lake is quite level and composed of soft clay. This clay is constantly accumulating from sediment carried down by tributary easily disintegrating blue, gray and olive shoels, and gray sandstone. The western and northern coasts are made up of ilmestone of the Helderbeg group, which quickly yields to the action of the waves. Consequently both constantly are contributing to fill up the bed of the lake. The work is not rapid

We do not desire to hear from any snakes, spotted negroes, large strawberries, centenarians, or Revolutionary survivors after this. Our taste craves for something more startling than the commonplaces to which we have been accustomed, now that we have one seven-eyed marvel with

The statement that Cardinal Bonnechose had informed M. Thiers that the Pope was ready to treat with King Victor Emanuel, is denied by the Cardinal, who says: "I think It my duty to declare that this note contains nothing true but the intention manifested by the Be-ereign Pontiff to remain at Rome as long as circumstances shall permit. As to the allegation that the Pope is disposed to treat with King Victor Emanuel, it is devoid of all foundation, and that question was not even alluded to in my interview with the President of the Republic." The Pope's recent speeches. offence to the Itelian Minister Trailer ice to the Italian Minister Lanza, and caused him to remonstrate with Cardinal Antonelli, the Cardinal thereupon requested the clerical papers not to reproduce the words of the Holy Father in the future; but when the Pope heard of this he formally expressed a desire that the greatest publicity should be given to his speeches, and authorized the editors of two ukramontane papers in Rome to send reporters to the Vatican on all the days of reception for the purpose of taking down the words of his Holiness.

The hotel clerk said the Fifth Avenue did the best business in the country, its profits being $350,-000 per sanum; rent $200,000, not including the stores underneath. Twenty years ago the ground was offered for ninety-nine years for $500 per annum. The St. Nicholas rents for $87,000, and its profits are $175,000. The Grand true, may not avail to give the State the thousand horses, it would entail a direct money Central rents for $65,000, and its profits are $150,000. The Policy for South Carolina.

Is it not enough to make one despair of South Carolina, when a Conservative Charleston newspaper is found encouraging the idea that Mr. Greeley was rejected by the Northern States only because he is "the apostle of peace?" The facts do not warrant this assumption, and, if they did, it would be atter folly for the South to begin anew the unprofitable amusement of kicking against the pricks. Such talk is natural in the mouths of ardent citizens, who feel keenly the magnitude of the Liberal defeat. Their words, however, are soon forgotten; while the printed declaration of a similar sentiment stands upon the record, and is used, as occasion serves, to plague and torment this people. In this way it often happens that the rash utterances of sheets of small circulation, and smaller influence, are seized upon by Northern politicians, and paraded before the country, as conclusive evidence that the South, which only pleads for peace, is rebellious at heart, and craves another opportunity of arraying itself against the States which lie north of Mason and

The Southern millions have accepted the situation in good faith. They sincerely and cheerfully announced their adhesion to the Liberal platform. They have voted for a life-long Abolitionist. These things were, and are, producing their effect; yet, because the Liberal candidate is unsuccessful, public men are found so imprudent, so regardless of the material interests of this people, as to blurt out the crude opinion that the North declares war upon the South, and that sectional hate is the prime cause of President Grant's re-election. THE NEWS does not beintelligent and efficient promoter of the in- lieve that this headstrong course will me st with the approval of the Conservative people of the State. They see, and know, that the influence of the Federal Government, the opposition of the railroad and banking interests, the timidity of capital, the distrust with which Mr. Greeley was regarded by the Northern and Western merchants, and the recalcitrancy of the Democratic sult of the vote on Tuesday. There is sed of everything to lose, and nothing to gain, by rashly jumping to any other conclusion.

Than South Carolina no State in the South more urgently requires political repose. The election of Mr. Greeley was ex-business and let politics alone. But Mr. Grant remains at the White House, until 1877 at least, and the Federal appointments be persecuted more than she has been perneedful to manufacture any more political capital. There is a hope that President Grant tion, retire from the Gubernatorial chair, com will fulfil his pledges, and treat the Southern States with liberality and justice. This he can afford to do. But if Southern newspapers and Southern orators fly off at a tangent, and din into the ears of President Grant that he won't change and can't change, that he is and always will be a as beheld through the spectacles of science drunken_tyrant, that the South wants nothing that "the Yankee" can give, his good resolutions will melt away, and the South will be ground to dust between the negro and the Federal trooper. Policy and Interest should move the Southern people to survey the field with calmness. It is plainly the wisest plan to await developments, and to give to the newly-elected President the fair-play which is his due. This will encourage him, and his advisers, to modify their policy, and to persevere in well-doing. It is not natural that a President should feel inclined to favor those who give him nothing better than abusive words, and

These are the honest convictions of THE News. It has never admired President Grant, and in its advocacy of the Liberal do, at this time, is to avoid every word and people to fresh humiliations. This, it is Peace and Security we desire, but, in that loss of six million six hundred thousand do case, the responsibility will not rest with us. Hitherto the Radicals have had some sort of millions of dollars, and three per cent., which

The returns from Union County, where special election was held last Tuesday for a State Senator, to fill the vacancy caused by the recent death of Senator H. W. Duncan, bring the welcome intelligence o the choice of Thomas B. Jeter, Esq., the capable and energetic President of the Spartanburg and Union Railroad. Mr. Jeter is well known throughout the upper country as a gentleman of high character and ability, and his election to the Senate cannot but be a benefit to the people of the whole

Words of Good Cheer

The address of General Johnson Hagood, the retiring President of the State Agricultural Society, is full of sound sense and practical patriotism. It is gratifying in the extreme to find this gallant soldier and accomplished planter standing firm in the ranks of those who believe that South Carolina has before her a prosperous future. As he says: "Time and industry have largely re-accumulated our wasted capital, and a healthier feeling pervades the public mind and inspires its energies." And "above all, the results of the conflict are accepted, and there is a feeling without which there can be no healthy advance in agriculture -that we have yet a home to adorn and a "country to live for." These are words of good cheer, and they will not be forgotter when the Agricultural Society, as advised by General Hagood, make application to the Legislature for State aid.

A Pretty Quarrel.

An armed conflict between Cores an Japan is imminent. About a thousand years ago Japan conquered Corea, and laid the people under tribute, which was regularly paid for several centuries, and was then allowed to lapse. In the sixteenth century Corea was again invaded, and brought to terms, the tribute being punctually paid until the downfall of the late Tycoon. As soon as the present Emperor was firmly seated on the throne, he sent word to the Corean government that the annual tax, with arrears, must be forthcoming. The Corean government, in reply, say that the old invasion by Japan was a crime which is not yet punished, and that instead of Corea paying tribute, it is for Japan to return the money paid by Corea. As the tribute had been paid for about ten centuries Corea has an enormous demand against Japan, but it is not likely that the Coreans contemplate anything more than a vigorous resistance to the threatened invasion. This would bring China into the field, as the Flowers Empire, up to a recent period, has treated Corea as one of its dependencies.

Corea has a population of 12,000,000, an army of 640,000 men, and a fleet of two hundred vessels of war. Japan has a popu lation four times as large, and an immense armed force, supplied with improved equipments. Little Corea, however, will be hard to whip, if her people mean business.

The New Governor's Opportunity. The die is cast, and Franklin J. Moses, Jr. has been elected Governor of our people, and in his election a death-blow has been given to the carpet-baggers who have, for the last few years, wronged and robbed our people. This s some consolation. All that is now left for us is to take courage and hope for the better. If Governor Moses, the acknowledged head and front of the Republican party in South Carolina, will observe and put into execution the principles enunciated in the platform of his party, and keep the promises of reform during the canvass, we will take pleasure in supporting him during his administration, and will venture to assert that he will receive the support and encouragement of all the good people of the State. Never was there a time pected to give the State a set of Federal in the history of South Carolina when she officials, who would have attended to their needed at her helm the services of a good, wise and honest man as she does at this moment. She is trembling on the very brink of utter rain. What a glorious opportunity i offered to one of her sons to guide the old Ship of State into a safe harbor. Governor will continue to be like those which have Moses has pledged his honor, from time to been made during the past four years. The time, to do this, and to save the State from the worst is known. South Carolina cannot be great evils with which she is sorely threatened. and if he sustain his promises and conduct his administration honestly and in the interest of secuted; and there is some probability that the Commonwealth, he will deserve and reher affairs will take a favorable turn. It is not ceive the thanks and grateful applause of each and every honest son of South Carolina. and will, at the expiration of his administra mended as a faithful public servant by al over whom he has ruled. Among the multitude of interesting and valuable works on the marvels of Nature, with which the presses of the leading pub lishers have lately teemed, perhaps the most comprehensive, as well as the most attractive to the general reader, is a handseme volume translated from the French o the distinguished savant. Pouchet, entitled The Universe, or, The Infinitely Great and "The Infinitely Little." It would be difficult to find a book between the two covers of which is compressed so vast and varied a mass of entertaining information, covering the whole range of natural discovery, from the tiny wonders revealed by the microscope to the awe-compelling array of stars, and suns, and systems, which people the regions of boundless space. "The Universe" is beautifully printed and is enriched with 344 well executed engravings.

It is published by Messrs. Scribner, Arm-

The Value of Horses in the United

The rapid progress of the horse malady and movement it sees no cause for regret. But the apprehension felt that it will become a nait is satisfied that the only sensible thing to tional calamity will excite an interest in the value of horses in the United States, and the estimate of the probable luss from the disease every act which is likely to antagonize the There are about nine millions of horses in the Federal Administration, and so subject this United States, valued at six hundred and sixty millions of dollars. If but one per cent. of these should be carried off, making ninety lars; two per cent., or two deaths out of every hundred, would bring a loss of over thirtee excuse for their flagellation of this State. Is the mortality in some cities, swells the loss to nearly twenty millions of dollars. In addi-THE NEWS proposes that they shall have tion to this, the partial suspension of business, and the loss of goods damaged for want of Another serious feature of the calamity is that it will throw out of employment for the time a large class of laborers, whose work is inseparably connected with teams, and whose daily support depends upon those teams. It is no exaggeration to apprehend that this disease will travel from one point to the other, as it has so far over the United States, and although not necessarily fatal to animals lightly worked, An Extra Mee'ing of this Giub will be held THIS (Friday) EVENING, at 8 o'clock precisely, at Hibernian Hall.
