EIGHT LOCKS TO THE BOLL.

The Origin and Character of the Prodigy Cotton.

The unparalleled productiveness of Cannon's prodigy cotton bids fair to inaugurate a new era in cotton planting, and, as there is evidently a disposition on the part of enterprising planters to give this cotton a trial, a comprehensive description of its origin and character will be of interest.

The prodigy cotton is a new and distinct species of short cotton, bearing eight locks to the bol!-twice the number borne by ordinary cotton. It is progressive, the tendency being to increase, as several bolls have been gathered from the eight look stalks which bore twelve locks. The double fruitage of the eight lock cotton is in itself a great consideration as it will, by increasing the yield, diminish both the quantity of land to be planted and the expense of labor. In productiveness it far surpasses any on record, having yielded the past year, with a limited application of fertilizers, and imperfect cultivation, at the rate of six thousand pounds to the acre! Colonel Cannon in 1871 started with one boll of eight lock cotton; he has now seed enough to plant three-quarters of an acre, from which he expects to gather at the rate of seven thousand pounds of seed cotton to the acre. The genuine eight lock seed can be obtained from John Thomson & Co., seedsmen and florists, No. 288 King street, at one dollar seed, and some of the seed growing on the same stalks from which the eight lock was Specimens of the prodigy cotton can be seen at the store of John Thomson & Co., No. 288 King street, and also at the office of the Rural Carolinian. Orders with cash remittance addressed to John Thomson & Co., seedsmen and florists, No. 288 King street, Charleston, S. C., or to Colonel W. H. Cannon, St. Stephen's Depot, Northeastern Rallroad, S. C., will meet prompt attention. Only two thousand of the prodigy cotton seed will be sold the present season. For the encourage-gathered, but bearing four and five looks to the boll, will be sold for seventy-five cents a seed. These last will produce eight lock bolls.

THE GRAND ROYAL ARCH CHAPTER. | ment of those whose means are limited we will state that Colonel Cannon started with five stalks of this prodigy cotton, and expects in this, the third year of its discovery, to obtain forty bushels of genuine eight lock cotton seed, and two hundred bushels of the four and five lock cotton seed, from which the eight lock was gathered.

To protect those purchasing the prodigy cotton, a careful list of their names will be kept so as to prevent any spurlous article being palmed off on the public the next year, to the detriment of those planting the genuine seed.

The experiment, so far, proves conclusively that the prodigy cotton is progressive, and we hope to congratulate purchasers of the genuine eight-lock cotton seed on the acquisition of numerous twelve lock bollz at the close of the present year. If that favorable result should not be realized, the discoverer will be more sadly disappointed than the purchaser, having a heavier interest at stake.

FIRE IN SUMMERVILLE.

Tremendous Exertions and Wonderful Success of the Volunteer Fire Brigade,

On Monday night, about three-quarters-past 10 o'clock, the kitchen of Mr. Roswell T. Logan, in Summerville, was discovered to be on fire. It was blazing from ground-floor to roof, so that there were no hopes of saving it, and all efforts were turned towards rescuing the dwelling, not twenty steps distant from the devouring element. The few neighbors, black and white, hastly gathered together, worked like troopers, and with buckets filled with water from the well, which was fortunately very rear, succeeded in keeping the house so wet that it did not catch. The cause of the fire is mere matter of surmise, there being no one in the kitchen at the time of the fire. No servants slept on the premises. Mr. and Mrs. Logan and infant child slept in the room next to the kitchen, and so near that the weather boarding outside was hot when the fire was discovered. Mr. Logan had only retired about fifteen minutes when the alarm occurred. It is supposed that the cook must have left fire in the stove, and that it got hot enough to burn the floor. Mr. Logan lost a cooking stove and all his cooking utensils and a quantity of clothes; total value about $100. The premises belong to B. C. Press ley. Esq., and his loss is probably about $400. Great credit is due to the gentlemen and their servants, who, by prompt and energetic action, saved the dwelling.

FREE POSTAL DELIVERY.

In the United States House of Representatives, on February 5, during the debate on the appropriation for the postal service, Mr. Connor offered the following amendment, which was agreed to: That commencing with the 1st day of July, 1873, letter-carriers may be employed for the free delivery of mail matter as frequently as he public convenience may require at every place containing a population of twenty thousand within the delivery of its postoffice. and that, for the purpose of employing car-plers where not aiready employed at said place, the sum of one hundred thousand di-lars is hereby appropriated out of any money n the treasury not otherwise appropriated.

This amendment, if it pass the Senate, will, of course, give Charleston a free postal delivery, this city having, according to the United States census of 1870, a population of 48,956. Really, the population of Charleston Is over 50,0.0.

THE CHRISTIAN UNION, edited by the Rev Henry Ward Beecher, of Brooklyn, N. Y., is one of the best family papers of the period. Its columns are filled with a varied fund of information, religious and secular, and furnished by a talented corps of writers. To render the Union more popular the publishers will this year present to each subscriber two chromos, representing "Asleep" and "Awake," or a larger sized oleograph. The price of the Union is $3 25 per annum with the chromos, or $3 40 with the oleograph. Mr. C. J. Colcock, Jr., of this city, is the agent for the Union, and the chromos and oleograph but not in the same ratio as the genuine eight | can be seen at C. C. Righter's Bazaar, Hase street, opposite the Express office. Aside from the literary excellence of the Union, the pictures are fully worth the price of subscription.

two thousand years to teach the world that to sustain the body in its conflict with disease, not to help disease by weakening the body, is the true end of medicine. We have the lesson by heart at last, however. We know, for example, that tearing doses of aloes, salts jalap, croton oil, calomel, colcyn th, &c., are the best allies that a debilitating malady can have in its assaults on the human frame; and that a medicine like Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, which strengthens all the bodlly powers and rallies the sinking constitution, is the powerful antagonist of the morbide principle, whatever it may be, that lies at the root of the complaint. This knowledge has been a long time in reaching us, but it is invaluable. TRIBUTE OF RESPECT.

At a special meeting of the vestry of the Church of the Holy Trinity, held in Grahamville February 6, 1873, the following preamble and resolutions were unanimously adopted: The Reaper Death, who has of late years been so busy among us, has again put in his sickle and gathered from our mids; a ripe shock, a full ear. Our vestry and parish are called together to deplore the death of one of our oldest and most faithful brethren in Charles C. Dupont. And while bowing in submission to the bivine will, we claim the privilege of mourning for the loss of one so worthy. The life of our departed brother was adorned by all the virtues of the Onristian gentleman; modest and retiring in his manner, he never sought public life, but pursued the even tenor of his way, folding all the in:les of the good citizen, dispensing a delightful hospitall y in his home, and above all, working with energy in all the concerns of the church he loved so well. His work is done, his labors ended, and he has entered into the joy of his Lord.

Be it Resolved. That in the death of the late C. C. Dupon, the vestry of this church have lost an efficient member, and the community an estimable

New York Cotton Market.

New York. Febuary 7.

The Financial Chronicle says: The market has been very dull and depressed the past week, and although closing with a stealier tone, and in fact, snowing some reaction, there is a decline for the week of 1/2 for cotton on the spot, and 1-15a1/2 for future delivery, the greatest decline being for the early and the smallest for the later month. The cause of the downward turn have been various, but most conspicuous samong them menth. The cause of the downwird torn have been various, but most conspicu us among them is been the duliness and depression at Liverhool and Mauchester. This has been a great disappointment to shippers, who seemed to have believed that the comparatively small stocks of American cotton in foreign markets and the firmness of prices in this end other home markets would at least have the effect of holding Liverhool steady, even if that market did not advance. The liberal sectifies at our poits, however, especially the early part of the week, was probably the immediate cause of the depression at Liverhool, and the downward turn there reacted in pool, and the down ward turn there reacted on this market resulting in a loss of speculative condidece and the increased offerings of lots he don speculation. Snow in the treets and ice in the Sound have rendered thipments difficult and helped to check the domain of the specific resulting the spec the Sound have rendered shipments difficult and helpen to check the ac mand from spinners. For future delivery there has been but little spirt, and on Wednesday prices were shout %c be ow the close on Saturday. Thursday there was some reaction, and to day there was a further advance, the close being 1-18 to 3 liec above West esday. The prices for futures at last reports were (basis 1) w middling; 20% c for Februar. 20 9-16c for Ma ch. 20 15 16c for April, 21 %c for May, and 21 9 160 for June. The total sales of this description for the week are 90,500 bales. For imediate ocilvery the t tal sales out up this week 4221 bales, including 1834 for export, 2236 for consumption, 551 for speculation, and none in transit.

The New York Naval Stores Market.

New York, Pebruary 10.

The Daily Builetin says: Receipts to-day 2313 bils rosin. 624 bils spirits turpenine, 160 bbis tar. Spirits turpent have roled quiet to-day, and though most holders continue strong in their views ther. Is an evident struggie on the part of a few to depress values with the view of buying in, so as to participate in the higher prices expected to rue the latter part of the month and during March. Very little was done, and we only notice 100 bbis rejections at 08c, and 100 bbis in shipping order at 69c. Strained rosin is in but moderate request, and prices continue about steady. Sales include 230 bbis at 23 65, and 350 bbis, part black, at 53 60. Tar remains quiet but about already. Pitch in moderate jobbing request at former prices.
