NEWS OF THE DAY.

-Texas ignatics are turned loose on the inhabitants of the town where they belong, It board at the asylum isn't paid promptly. -Senator Sprague represents the largest moneyed interest in the Senate, variously estimated at from $12,900,000 to $20,000,000. -Spurgeon, with his broad, bad taste, dislikes old paintings, and foolishly avows the fact, to the horror of English journalists, artists and connossienrs. -Beecher describes Tyndall's face as 'long thin, fringed with whiskers, without moustache or goatee, leaving his mouth like the embrasure of a fort, clear for action." -The first choral wedding ever celebrated in Washington took place at St. Paul's Church, In that city, recently. The bridal party, preceded by a processional cross and twenty-four robed choristers, and the officiating priest, marched through the main aisle singing a wedding hymn. On arriving at the altar, which was surrounded with numerous lighted candles, the bride and groom elect knelt in slient prayer; after which the ceremony of the Episcopal Church was performed.

-New Hampshire holds the first spring election this year, and the candidates for Governor are Ezekiel A. Straw, Republican, and James A. Weston, Democrat. The election is held on March 11. The next election will be held in Rhode Island, April 2d, and the third in Connecticut, April 7th. In the latter State Henry P. Haven, Republican, and Chas. B. Ingersoll, Democrat, have been nominated tor Governor. Both in New Hampshire and Connecticut members of Congress are to be chosen at these elections, the former having three and the latter four members. At the Presidential election the majorities for Grant were, in New Hampshire, 5744; Bhode Island, 8536, and Connectiout, 4758. At the Governolootions in these States. In the spring of last year, the Republicans carried New Hampre by 2167, Rhede Island by 1065, and Con- Charleston either in experience or apital.

this shape the bill went to a conference committee of the two houses, and reported back, making the salary of Senators and Representatives $7500, instead of of the editorial staff of the New York World $6500. In this form it passed, with a proviso for a number of years, has taken editorial that, as to the salaries of Congressmen, 1 should take effect from March 4th, 1871. Thus Congress have voted themselves an addition of $5000 back pay for the last two years. The point of order that members could not vote upon a bill in which they were personally interested was simply laughed down, and by the votes of men whose terms expired on the 4th of Marob, 1873; and who scrupled not to pleasanter still to know, by personal expe make this last "raid upon the treasury," the bill was passed. While the vote was being ble talent will go far to establish the sucput, the speaker (Mr. Blaine) had the tact, upon his own motion, to amend the bill so as dertaking with which he may be connected. to make the increase of the speaker's salary Mr. Olney carries with him to his new and to begin "hereaiter," instead of from March responsible post the warm good wishes of 4th, 1871, thereby taking himself out of the his Charleston friends. -According to Miss Grundy, society in Washington isn't entirely given to epicureanism. The refreshments offered at the different houses vary. Sometimes there are only chocolate and cake; again only cake and wine; and again there is a handsome table set, and though calling appears to make people very hungry, and salads, croquettes and fried oysters disappear as if it were aristocratic to be in a starving condition, still when simpler refreshments are offered no one remarks upon It. In fact retreshments are by no means indispensable. There are some houses-favorite resorts-where every week there are large receptions at which no refreshments are offered. No one makes an ill-natured remark about the ladles who dispense with a cellation. Sandwiches appear to be a favorite article of diet at receptions. Toast, cut thin and in small squares, and buttered and placed on silver salvers, is always found at the Peruvian Minister's, and is always eaten with a relish. Bouillon (beef tea) is as much relished as wine.

A recent lawsuit in Baltimore must be somewhat astounding to persons holding conditional insurance policies and contemplating Alpine tours. A physician of that city, recently starting on a European tour, took out a five thousand dollar policy, which was forfeit in case he encountered the risks of hunting or exploring expeditions. Of course, a cosmopolitan traveller might as well visit England without seeing the Tower of London. as Switzerland and not toll up the slippery steeps of Mont Blanc. So the doctor thought, and as a matter of course made the ascent with no idea of imitating Sir John Franklin or Captain Hail. The expedition was fatal, however, and the particular company in which his policy was registered refused to pay it because the death which called for it was met on an "exploring expedition." The law was not clear upon that point, and the case was adjusted by compromise. Probably insurance companies in general would hardly approve the action of this one of their number. If in these days of constantly increasing European travel, life insurance policies are to be forfeited by all who insist upon enjoying one of the first attractions of the grand tour, there will be found a marked diminution in the fattest premiums. Every person who spends time, money and effort to see something new, is in one sense on an exploring expedition, but a business that confines itself so closely to the letter of the law as this can hardly be extensive or flourishing.

-Whatever they may have done or left un done for the people, members of Congress, in the last moments of the session, were not unmindful of themselves. For fear, perhaps, that they might not receive from their constituents the reward of "good and faithful servants," they resolved to reward themselves. It must be confessed that they have done so handsomely. They have voted the increase of their own salaries with no niggard hand. Under the disinterested lead of General Butler, whose motive in the matter may certainly be conceded to be "above suspicion," the House amended the legislative, executive and judicial appropriation bill, as it came back from the Senate, so as to give the President $50,000, Vice-President and Speaker Senators and Representatives $6500. In cal government of the State.

Independent, however, of all comparisons, Charleston has facilities which make her necessarily the centre of the jobbing trade of the South. With a fine harbor, and cheap and rapid water communication with Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Baltimore; with direct daily railroad communication with all parts of the South, with a large capital, which, if not equal to what it was before the war, is ample for the present trade and increasing every year; with a large number of experienced merchants and ousiness connections of many years standing, and an unblemished commercial credit, she can bid defiance to competition.

within the last few years the jobblng trade of New York has greatly fallen off, and her merchants are gradually changing their business to that of warehousemen. In regard to the jobbers in the interior cities of

In another column will be found an adver tisement of some of the leading houses in various branches of business. All of these are responsible and successful concerns. Some of them have a history dating back to a period long antecedent to the war, and their names have been as familiar as household words to several generations of country merchants. Others are of more recent origin, formed by young men of industry and energy, who have acquired their business knowledge in this community, and have by their successful careers shown themselves in every way equal to the task which they have undertaken. To those country merchants who are among our readers, and their name is legion, we would in view of the approach of the Spring trade offer the above reasons for coming to Charleston in preference to going to any other market. We also specially invite their attention to those houses whose names appear in the advertisement alluded to. It does not by any means include all the obbing houses in Charleston, but those it does include are among the very best, and are well worthy the patronage of any merchant visiting Obarleston.

The Camden Journal.

Mr. John Kershaw, the editor and proprietor of the Camden Journal, has resigned its editorial charge to his father, Gen. eral J. B. Kershaw. The Journal was well managed by its former editor, who, strangely enough, has a wise head upon very young shoulders; but we cannot complain of any change which places General Kershaw in a position is which his frank, generous and uvely small quantity only need be used. liberal views can be impressed, week by week, upon the reading public. It is not forgotten that General Kershaw was the leading spirit of the Reform movement of 1870, and we think now, as we thought then, that the social and political redemption of the State can be secured only by a practical and lasting application of the principles of which that movement was the exponent. Those principles were and are the recognition in good faith of the constitutional changes growing out of the Confederate war, and a binding together of all honest men, without respect to color or party, for the $10,000, judges of the Supreme Court $10,000, purpose of securing an honest and economi-
