

The Ethics of the Governor—He Sinks the Chief Magistrate in the Partisan.

The position of the Chief Magistrate of a Commonwealth is a high office. When properly appreciated, it is full of dignity and responsibility. Just as the advocate, when he is raised to the office of Judge, sinks the special pleader in the impartial empire, so when a citizen is elevated to the high office of Chief Magistrate of a State, he is expected to sink the mere partisan in the Governor of the whole people.

What would be thought of a Judge who would descend from his eminence, lay aside the robe, and become a party to a suit? Now, we admit that this case is not altogether analogous to that of the Governor's; yet it is sufficiently so to illustrate our point. We have come to a pretty pass! Look to a few transactions here in Columbia: The General Assembly, without reason, extends the limits of the city, and seeks to legislate of floors out, and to legislate officers in! The Secretary of State goes behind the great seal of the State and makes an erasure on the records in his custody!

It is a little difficult for us precisely to understand, not the spirit, but the position of our "abstract friend" of the Winnsboro News. At one time, we understood him to advise joining the "conservative Republican" organization, in order to direct it aright. At another time, we understood him as standing alone, waiting with eager expectation for that happy time when he shall absorb the good elements of both existing parties, and thus bring into life a new and better party.

A SOCKDOLOGER.—Revels, the negro Senator, occupies the seat once occupied by Jefferson Davis. This affords the radicals a theme for frequent comment. But the Detroit Free Press asks, "Does not Zachariah Chandler fill the seat once occupied by Lewis Cass? Is not Fenton in the seat of Silas Wright, Dick Yates in the seat of Douglas, Charles Sumner in that of Daniel Webster, Drake in that of Thomas H. Benton, Colfax in that once occupied by George Clinton and Martin Van Buren, and Grant in that of George Washington and Jefferson?"

In Uniontown, Pa., there is an anti-slandering society. This will seem very singular to our readers, until we add that it has only one member, and she is deaf and dumb.

The Election.

Mn. Enron: There seems to be a misapprehension in the minds of some voters, residing in the newly annexed territory, as to their right to vote and take the oath of sixty days residence. The managers are the judges of the law, primarily.

- 1. Let the voter explain to the managers where he has lived for the last sixty days.
2. Then ask in what Ward they rule that residence to be by law.
3. Upon that ruling let the voter take the oath, if it is ruled to be within the city and Ward.

The moral duty of the voter will be fully discharged. LAW. The New York Herald, calling upon President Grant to change his Cabinet, says: "With the restoration of the South, some one should be taken from that part of the country. Such a man, for example, as General Orr, of South Carolina. With his large experience, thoroughly national views and great ability, he would be a valuable Cabinet Minister at the present time. His appointment, too, would go far to heal our sectional difficulties."

SHOCKING HOMICIDE IN WILLIAMSBURG. The Kingstree Star, of Wednesday, says: It becomes our melancholy duty to announce one of the most shocking and deplorable cases of homicide that has ever occurred in this community. For some time past a personal difficulty has been brewing between two young gentlemen of this District, Mr. J. J. Martin and Mr. Sidney M. Brown. More than two years have elapsed since the origin of the rupture between them. They have made publication of the cause of the difference between them, and as the public are as well informed on these points as we are, we will not undertake to recapitulate them in this article. On Friday last Sidney M. Brown, James M. Brown and Thomas J. Duke proceeded to Rough Branch Church, in this District, where Mr. Martin was engaged in teaching school, and, after dismounting from their animals, a school miss, who was in the yard, was sent in with a request to Mr. Martin to come out—that a gentleman wished to see him. He immediately went out, and started in the direction of where he saw some of the party standing, but, before he had proceeded far, he was arrested by the opening of hostilities. Mr. Martin then drew his pistol, and, staggering to a small tree, he put his arms around it for a support, discharged two chambers of his pistol, the ball of one wounding Mr. Brown in the thigh. Mr. Martin then fell back dead, pierced through the breast with two bullets, and one in his arm. The party then left, and the scholars scattered in all directions alarming the neighbors and patrons of the school, who assembled at once at the scene of the conflict. Mr. A. F. Cade, who lives about a half mile distant, reached the deceased first, but life was entirely extinct. The parties (with the exception of Mr. Sidney M. Brown, who is now under medical treatment,) are now in the custody of the sheriff.

ANOTHER "IMPEACHMENT."—"A Pennsylvania bachelor" thus gets after a lovely woman: "I impeach her in the name of the great whale of the ocean, whose bones are torn asunder to enable her to keep straight. I impeach her in the name of the peacock, whose strut without his permission she has stealthily and without honor assumed. I impeach her in the name of the horse, whose tail she has perverted from its use to the making of wavy tresses to decorate the back of the head and neck. I impeach her in the name of the kangaroo, whose beautiful figure she, in taking upon herself the Grecian bend, has brought into ill-favor and disrepute."

INCENDIARISM.—We regret to announce an act of incendiarism which resulted in the destruction of the barn and stables of Mr. Henry Tennent, of the vicinity of Lowndesville, on Saturday, the 19th of March. Together with the barn and stables a quantity of corn and fodder was consumed. A negro woman, Agnes Young, has been arrested and lodged in jail. She confesses the crime, and charges that she was put up to it by Andrew Speed, a colored man, who promised to divide his crop for this year with her, as an inducement.

During a Wyoming murder trial the murdered man appeared in court alive and well. The trial, however, went on, and the jury brought in a verdict of guilty. "How's this?" says the Judge, "there has been no murder; the man is alive in court." "Well, your honor," says the foreman, "the jury is convinced that the prisoner did not murder this man, but he is a dangerous person. I am sure he stole my gray mare, and we believe that hanging him is necessary for the peace of the country."

THE POPULAR VOTE.—The Charleston News states that in eleven Counties of this State, there are white majorities ranging from 20 in Lancaster, to 1,977 in Spartanburg, and that in twenty Counties, there are colored majorities ranging from 2 in Marlboro, to 8,002 in Charleston. The total vote of the State, according to the last returns, is 148,716, viz: White 59,301, and colored 89,415.

A Michigan boy who was a short time since sent to the State Reform School, was discharged on account of good conduct, and upon his return home found his father and mother both drunk and engaged in a fierce quarrel. He interfered, was pretty severely pummeled, and turned out of doors. On Friday, he applied to the officer of the institution for re-admission.

REGION OF TERROR IN NORTH CAROLINA.

The Wilmington Journal says the reign of terror in Robeson County still continues. From authentic advices, just received, we learn that Henry Berry Lowry and his gang of outlaws and murderers are still disturbing the good people of that County in a manner which beggars all description. Their depredations are committed in so bold and outrageous a manner, that there is no guarantee of safety, and human life is continually in jeopardy. Citizens have actually grown afraid to venture from home, and so great is the danger, that it is found almost impossible to bring the militia of the County into actual service. Quiet and inoffensive men are shot at, both at their homes and on the high-ways, and even in the town of Lumberton, few feel safe. Barns and cribs, all over the country, are robbed of their contents, and private dwellings are entered and ransacked with impunity, and in one or two instances, robbers have been discovered under beds in the chambers of residences. For several nights, recently, the whole town of Lumberton has been under arms, and there is no certainty on going to sleep at night that one does not have his throat cut ere morning.

ANOTHER SALE OF GOLD ORDERED.—The Secretary of the Treasury has directed the Assistant Treasurer at New York, to sell two millions of gold and purchase two millions of bonds, on account of the sinking fund, in the month of April; and, in addition thereto, to purchase two millions of bonds for the special fund; making in all a sale of two millions of gold, and a purchase of four millions of bonds for the month.

REYNOLDS' IMPROVED METHOD OF CONSTRUCTING Artificial Dentures. Patented December, 1867. AFTER an extensive use of this important improvement in practice for nearly two years, it is with full confidence urged upon the profession and the public, as following more thoroughly and satisfactorily than any other mode, every intention of Artificial Dentures. As in this method, rubber teeth are altogether discarded, it is desirable that it should fall especially into the hands of those familiar with gold plate work.

It may not be generally known that they who wear cases of artificial teeth, constructed according to this patent, by Dentists who are not licensees, render themselves liable to the penalty of infringement, as well as the operator. Office rights will be disposed of and instruction given by letter, or at the operating rooms of Reynolds & Reynolds, where the manipulation may be daily witnessed, and where communications may be addressed. KOSKOO.—The Norfolk Daily Journal, of December 11, 1869, says: "This medicine is rapidly gaining confidence of the people, and the numerous testimonials of its virtues, given by practitioners of medicine, leave us no doubt that it is a safe and reliable remedy for impurity of the blood, LIVER DISEASE, &c."

The last Medical Journal contains an article from Prof. K. S. Newton, M. D., President of the E. Medi-College, city of New York, that speaks in high terms of its curative properties, and gives a special recommendation of Koskoo, to the practitioners of medicine. This is, we believe, the first instance where such medicine have been officially endorsed by the Faculty of any of the Medical Colleges, and reflects great credit upon the skill of Dr. Lawrence, its compounder, and also puts "Koskoo" in the VAN of all other medicines of the present day.
