Song of the Mystic, BY FATHER RYAN.

I walk down the valley of silence— Down the dim voiceless valley—alone; And I hear not the fall of a foot-step

Long ago—I was weary of voices, Whose music my heart could not win; Long ago—I was weary of noises

I walked thro' the world with the world; I craved what the world never gave; And I said: "O world, each ideal

And still did I pine for the perfect, And still found the false with the true; I sought 'mid the human for Heaven,

And I moaned 'mid the masses of men; Till I knelt long at an altar And heard a voice call me—since then

Do you ask what I found in the valley? 'Tis my trysting place with the Divine; And I fell at the feet of the Holy

Do you ask how I live in the valley? I weep—and I dream—and I pray— But my tears are as sweet as dew-drops

In the hush of the valley of silence I dream of all the songs that I sing; And the music floats down the dim valley

But far on the deep there are billows That never shall break on the beach; And I have heard songs in the silence

And I have seen thoughts in the valley— Ah! me, how my spirit was stirred! And they were the holy voices on their faces;

Do you ask me the place of the valley, Ye hearts that are narrowed by care? It leth far away between mountains,
