Prof. Baohar furnishes the following programme for this afternoon.

Drum Solo Quickstep—Branza, Aria, from Norma—Bellini. Royal Cirque Quadrille—Middleton. Salate, a la France—Verdi. Flying Cloud Galop—Goetz.

IRWIN'S HALL.—Last night Ole Bull, the great violinist, appeared for the first time before the Columbia public in many years. The audience was a large and brilliant one, and gave a most enthusiastic reception to all the efforts of the celebrated Norwegian. As an eminent musical critic has well said, to properly describe, in words, the playing of Ole Bull is an impossibility.

We were charmed beyond expression with Ole Bull's "Lily Dale," and the touching, universally beloved ballad of "Home, Sweet Home." We wish many more years to this old favorite, who, with the frosts of time on his head, has the freshness and tenderness of youth in his heart.

UNITED STATES COURT—COLUMBIA, December 3, 1872.—The Court met at 10 1/2 A. M., Judge Bryan presiding.

THE HUMAN KITCHEN AND ITS DUMB WAITERS.—The body is supplied with aliment by vessels which connect the stomach and its auxiliaries with the venous system, and, so to speak, perform the office of dumb waiters in a restaurant. In other words, these media of communication between the animal kitchen and its dependents supply to each member and organ, near or remote, the quantity and kind of sustenance required to keep it going. When the stomach is derelict in its duty, or the dumb waiters inert or obstructed, it is the peculiar province of Hostetter's celebrated Stomach Bitters to strengthen and regulate them. Hence its marvelous cures of chronic indigestion, and the emaciation, debility and languor which are generally its concomitants. It is, moreover, a powerful alterative and corrective, and the rapidity with which it checks irregularities of the liver and bowels, and braces and invigorates the nervous system, is a marvel, not only to the general public, but to professional men.

The gin-house, three bales of cotton, and 300 bushels of cotton seed, of Mr. W. H. Bailey, of Wilkinson County, Ga., was destroyed by fire, on the 13th ult. Some one had broken off the heads of a lot of matches and placed them in the cotton. Loss $5,000.

SMALL-POX IN CHARLOTTE.—Two new cases have appeared on the lots where the first two persons were attacked. The mayor announces that a close supervision is kept over the premises.

The gin-house of Dr. J. T. Linder, of Laurens County, Ga., together with fourteen bales of cotton, was destroyed by fire on the night of the 23d. Supposed to be the work of an incendiary.

Hon. W. D. Porter is to deliver the anniversary oration before the Washington Light Infantry, of Charleston, on Washington's birth-day—February 22. The English Parliament has been prorogued to the 6th February.

London, December 3.—The gas-stokers of the five largest companies have struck. The public is warned to use the gas sparingly.

Paris, December 3.—The Republic Francaise newspaper says that in the event of defeat or organization of the committee under Defaure's motion, on Thursday, it is possible that Thiers and his supporters on the left will withdraw from the Assembly. The determination, on Sunday, of Thiers and his Cabinet to remain in the Government has served to dispel the grave feeling of uncertainty which followed the action of the Assembly on Saturday last.

Resolved, That our profoundest sympathies go out to the daughters of our late associate and friend in their double affliction, of loss of mother and father within a brief month; and that we tender to them in their great sorrow our sincere condolence and respect.

Resolved, That the recent death of three of the oldest and most distinguished editors of the journals of this city, admonishes us of the uncertainty of life, of the instability of all human affairs; and that as daily teachers and chroniclers of the great transactions of the world, it becomes us to be ready to meet that summons which only a little in advance of us has called home our late friend and brother.

NEW YORK, December 3.—Editors of newspapers throughout the country are requested to mail to Ezra Cornell, at Cornell's University, Ithaca, New York, copies of their papers containing eulogies or other articles on the death of Horace Greeley, to be comprised in a memorial volume for the library of said university, of which deceased was one of the trustees.

At the regular monthly meeting of the Associated Press, this day, the following resolutions, offered by Mr. Erastus Brooks, and seconded by Messrs. Jones and Bangs, were unanimously adopted:

Resolved, That we receive, with feelings of very deep sorrow, the intelligence of the death of Horace Greeley, the founder of the New York Tribune, for more than thirty years its editor-in-chief, and one of the original proprietors in the organization of the Associated Press of this country.

Resolved, That the newspaper press of the United States loses in him one of its ablest conductors, a writer unsurpassed in the purity of his English, in clearness of expression, and in concise and logical conclusions, drawn from premises which he believed to be founded in truth. In the eventful life, we see the success which followed earnest labor, courageous action and manly independence, as well as the evidence of a temperate, orderly and well-spent life. We remember him, in connection with our own calling, as the faithful apprentice, good printer, good, accomplished editor, and liberal proprietor. Losing all this, in one or so many years at the head of his profession, our loss is second only to that of the public, in whose interests, in the press of the country and in the forum of debate, he labored for more than forty years of his life.

Resolved, That our profoundest sympathies go out to the daughters of our late associate and friend in their double affliction, of loss of mother and father within a brief month; and that we tender to them in their great sorrow our sincere condolence and respect.

Resolved, That the recent death of three of the oldest and most distinguished editors of the journals of this city, admonishes us of the uncertainty of life, of the instability of all human affairs; and that as daily teachers and chroniclers of the great transactions of the world, it becomes us to be ready to meet that summons which only a little in advance of us has called home our late friend and brother.

In the Legislature of North Carolina, on Wednesday, Mr. Badger, a Republican member, offered a joint resolution petitioning Congress to remove the disabilities of W. A. Graham, W. N. H. Smith and Burton Craige, which was placed on the calendar. The names of Gen. J. G. Martin, J. A. Craig, of Rowan; Gen. Robert Ransom, James Hill, of New Hanover; George Davis, of New Hanover, and W. L. McKee, of Montgomery, were also added to the resolution, and it was then adopted. A member moved to insert the names of all citizens of the State now under disability: Mr. Badger thought it was made general it would stand less chance of success; he was earnest in the matter, and would rather move cautiously. Conservative members expressed their surprise and gratification at the generosity displayed by the Republican members.

DEATH OF AN OLD BALTIMORE MERCHANT.—Mr. Thomas Fowler, engaged in the grocery business for many years, in East Baltimore street, died at his residence, No. 146 Caroline street, on Wednesday last, in the sixty-sixth year of his age. Mr. Fowler was an unassuming business man, correct in all his transactions, and highly respected and esteemed by all who knew him.

A HEAVY ROBBERY.—The Brooklyn Eagle says the defalcation reported in Wall street on Monday is reported to be on the part of a young man named Allen C. Bush, a clerk or junior partner in the house of Kidd, Pearce & Co., corner of Broad street and Exchange Place. The loss of the firm is variously stated at $75,000 and $100,000.

Tranquillity reigns generally throughout Mexico, with the exception of Tehuantepec and Yucatan, about which, however, no apprehensions are felt. President Lerdo was inaugurated on the 1st of December. Congress is about to erect a monument to the memory of Juarez, and to pension his children.
