

SAM. PATCH'S LAST LEAP.—Who has not heard of Sam. Patch, his famous leap, and his tragic death? Many persons imagine that he was killed at Niagara. It was at Geneva Falls, however, near Rochester, N. Y. Some persons have been interviewing the oldest inhabitant of that flourishing and interesting city, who saw the last leap nearly forty years ago. Staging had been erected a hundred feet above the boiling cauldron below. Amid the death-like stillness of thousands of spectators, Patch ran a few steps and gave one leap into the air and fell, cutting the mist like a lead sinker, 200 feet into the seething whirlpool. As he left the staging his body assumed an oblique position, his head foremost, but above his feet. As he struck the water there was an awful silence, while the populace waited, with choking breath, his re-appearance. One minute—two minutes—three minutes—and no signs of the daring jumper. Then the people set up a loud wail—a long murmur of sorrow. This was the end of Sam. Patch. They say he had been drinking during the morning, and failed to keep his feet together and his body perpendicular, as on previous occasions. So when he struck the water the breath left his body, and he was knocked senseless. A month afterwards, they found his body away down below Rochester, drifted upon the rocks.

Pacific Guano Company's
(CAPITAL $1,000,000.)
SOLUBLE PACIFIC GUANO.
THIS GUANO is now so well known in all the Southern States for its remarkable effects as an agency for increasing the products of labor, as not to require special recommendation from us. Its use for seven years past has established its character for reliable excellence. The large fixed capital invested by the company in the trade affords the most guarantee of the continued excellence of this Guano.
The supplies put into market this season are, as heretofore, prepared under the personal superintendence of Dr. St. Julian Ravenel, Chemist of the Company, at Charleston, S. C.; hence planters may be assured that its quality and composition are precisely the same as that heretofore sold.
J. N. ROBINSON,
Selling Agent, Charleston, S. C.
JOHN S. REESE & CO.,
