AN IOWA WIDOWH MARRIES A WIDOW who Proved to be His Own Stirm.

The following storm furnished by a correspondent of the Chicago Zucating Journal, is hard to believe. If true, it is a disgrace to the State of Iown that such gross injustice should have been done the cold counts who the old I couple, who ; manifestly erred only through ignorance:

There are now in the State Pententiary, in Fort Madison, she aged couple who are serving out a term for the orime of incest, they being brother and sister. The story is this, which is true: At the age of twelve years; the male left his father's house, to seek his fortune and no more return. He, in time, came West, grew to manhood and married, raised a family of children, and finally his wife died. His sister grew to womanhood, was married, and with hier husband came West and to Iowa. Her husband died, and in time she received an offer of marriage from a man who was a widower. She accepted the offer, and they were married. Her husband was wealthy, and after a time, one of the sons wished to have the father give him some property; but the father refused to accede to his demands. The son, one day, while looking over the family record of the step-mother, which had been laid aside and forgotten, discovered that there was kin-ship between the families, and further investigation proved that his father and step-mother were own brother and step-mother were own brother and stepstep-mother were own brother and sister. To avenge himself for his father refusing to give him the bulk of his property, he brought suit sgainst both of them for incest. They were tried and convicted, and sent to the penitentiary for one year. They are both over sixty years of age, and as innocent of intent to commit crime as a new-born babe.

The English bad boy does not differ materially from his American brother.
He threw stones at Gladstone and called him a 'guy" the other day. The great statesman threw aside his dignity and his hat and went for the bby, and caught himafter a run of three squares.

Afternations bad boy does not differ such as rheumatism, gout, neuralgia, lumbago, ticdoloreux, sore throat, ear edge, tooth-ache; and, likewise, as a peerless application for cuts, bruises, burns and scalds.

Every year increases the popularity of this valuable Hair Preparation; which is due to merit alone. We can assure our did patrons that it is kept fully up to its high standard; and it is the only reliable and perfected preparation for restoring Gray on Faded Hair to its youthful color, making it soft, lustrons and silken. The scalp, by its use, becomes white and clean. It removes all cruptions and dandruff, and, by its tonic properties, prevents the hair from falling out, asit stimulates and nourishes the hair-glands. By its use, the hair grows thicker and stronger. In baldness, it restores the capillary glands to their normal vigor, and will create a new growth, except in extreme old age. It is the most economical Hair Dressing overused, as it requires fewer applications, and gives the hair a splendid glosy appearance. A. A. Hayes, M. D., State Assayer of Massachusetts, says: "The constituents are pure, and carefully selected for excellent quality; and I consider it the Best Preparation for its intended purposes."
