Dried Apple Pies. I loathe, abhor, detest, despise,
Abominate dried apple pies;
I like good bread, I like good meat,
Oranything that's good to eat;
But, of all poor grab beneath the skies;
The poorest is dried apple pies;
Give me the toothache or sore eyes;
In preference to that kind of pies In preference to that kind of pies.

The farmer takes his huarliest fruit, Wormy, bitter and hard to boot; They leave the cores to make us cough, and don't take half the peeling off; Then on a dirty cord they're strung. And from some chamber window hung, Where they serve as a rocat for flies, Until they re ready to make ples; Step on my corns or tell me lies. But don't give me dried apple pies.

The following ceremon was used by a colored minister at a marriage a few miles below town, the other day: "dem what wants to git married stan up and jine hands, dem what God has put togedder, no man dasn't put asunder. Let us sing a hime! Plunged in a gulf of dark despair we wrotched sinners are."
