OBSTACLES TO MARRIAGE.—Happy relief for young men from the effects of errors and abuses in early life. Manbood restored. Impediments to Marriage removed. New methename of Meys, who is now eighty six the of treatment. New and remarkable reveals of age. He yet works his farm soaled envelopes. Address HOWARD ASSO-Dimself, and with a little assistance in OfATION, No. 2 South Ninth street, Philadel-based, a good living for his himself, and with a little assistance in phis. Pa.—an institution having a high reputhat work, makes a good living for his phis. Pa.—an institution having a high reputation for honorable conduct and professional family. The old gentleman is hale and skill. Mar 26 3m hearty, and in the course of his long life has had but few sick days. We have these facts from a son of Mr. Mays, a youth of sixty years. The old gentleman lived the greater part of his past life before it was discovered that strychnine improves whiskey.

Down on the Bachelors.—The bache-lor portion of our community were exercised on Sunday night last, by a sermon from the Rev. Mr. Kuhn, from the text, "Left alone in Athens." He showed them conclusively that they were in the broad road to ruin, and being negligont-ly alone in this life, must alone suffer the heat and the torments of the next. There are many hard cases among us. and if the reverend gentleman succeeds in awakening them to a sense of their sinful condition, he will accomplish a good end. - Newberry Herald.

The Pall Mall Gazette recognizes the poetic merits of Henry Timrod, the Southern poet. It says he rose and fell by the impulses of circumstances, and it was a gust of popular enthusiasm which at length showed what passion and what eloquence his nature was capable of blazing into. It was thus that his verses became such as may be oberished like historic monuments. His poem "Carolina" is certainly one of the gems of American literature.
