

MADRID, July 24.—The American steamer Shenandoah and a British man-of-war are in the port of Malaga.

PARIS, July 24.—The Government has received information, which it regards as trustworthy, that instructions have been issued from the head of the Internationals in London to its subsidiaries in France, to organize for a series of labor strikes throughout the republic, to be carried into effect during the coming recess of the Assembly.

Prince Frederick Charles, of Germany, has tendered to Marshal Bazaine evidence in his favor, on his trial for the surrender of Metz to the Prussians.

The Journal de Paris, to-day, says the project of placing a prince of the house of Hohenzollern on the throne of Spain has not been abandoned.

The Duke de Aumale, to-day, asked leave of absence from the Assembly for the purpose of presiding over the court martial of Bazaine.

The bill authorizing the construction of the Church of the Sacred Heart, a grand cathedral on the heights of Montmartre, overlooking Paris, passed the Assembly to-day, after an exciting debate, in the course of which much violent religious partisanship was evoked.

St. Petersburg, July 25.—The Grand Duke Nicholas has returned from Khiva.

MADRID, July 25.—The Prussian frigate despatched by the German Consul in pursuit of the Spanish war vessel Vigilante, which was captured by the insurgents, overhauled her en route off Almiria, whither she was bound, for the purpose of proclaiming that province an independent canton.

A despatch from the town of Figueras, in the province of Genna, says the gates of the city have been closed, the streets barricaded, and the authorities were prepared for defence against the insurgents.

American Matters

AGUSTA, July 24.—The latest reports from Florida state that the crops are at least two weeks behind last season. Heavy rains have caused much grass, which the planters had somewhat overcome, until the rains last week, which caused great damage.

In Alabama, the cotton is looking much better than it did four weeks ago, and if the worm does not interfere, the crop in the State will be larger than it was last year.

A special despatch from Boston says the failure of H. I. Kimball, of Atlanta, Ga., the great hotel and railroad speculator in the South, creates much remark in this section, he being an Eastern man and a former operator here.

Reports from South Carolina show heavy and continuous rains, which caused an abandonment of cotton land, but not to any considerable extent.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—The explosion of a threshing machine boiler killed and hurt five.

WASHINGTON, July 25.—Information from Madrid by telegram has just been received in diplomatic circles, that the Cortes, by a large majority, have resolved that they will confer no further political privileges on Cuba until the insurgents shall lay down their arms.

BALTIMORE, July 25.—A fire broke out in the planing mill of Joseph Thomas & Co., on the South side of Clay street, between Liberty and Park streets.

12 M.—The fire extends to Franklin street, Howard street Lexington and Park. Four churches have been burned. The Cathedral is threatened.

1 P. M.—The fire is still raging, but will probably be confined to the area bounded by Lexington street, South Howard, Mulberry, North and Liberty street, East.

From Clay street South, the fire worked its way back to Lexington, burning all the buildings on Park street. The fire is still raging in this block.

It is impossible to get at particulars. The streets in the immediate vicinity, and for a number of blocks adjacent, are jammed with thousands of people, furniture, wagons, drays and every vehicle imaginable, loading up with and removing furniture.

The supply of water up to this time is ample, and unless the stiff breeze increases to a gale and wafts the cinders in other directions, the fire will undoubtedly be confined to its present locality.

New York, July 25.—Papers are now being prepared for 100 suits against the city by the deposed Washington Market stand-holders.

A special despatch from Boston says the failure of H. I. Kimball, of Atlanta, Ga., the great hotel and railroad speculator in the South, creates much remark in this section.

Extensive fires are raging in the forests along Long Island Railroad. The farm houses are threatened.

SCRANTON, Pa., July 25.—Two Frenchmen fought an hour with rapiers about a lady. They displayed great skill.

Fort Gary, July 25.—In the court at Manatoba, during the discussion over bail for the kidnappers of Lord Gordon, the Attorney-General called the counsel for the prisoners a dirty puppy.

ST. LOUIS, July 25.—The police of this city, from facts which have come to their knowledge, believe that the robbers of the Iowa railroad train are the same gang that robbed the bank in St. Genevieve, Mo., last May.

London, July 25.—Weather fair and favorable to crops. The annual heat continues. Thermometer 85. Consols 92 1/2 @ 92 1/4.

Paris, July 25.—Rentes 56 1/2, 40 1/2.

BALTIMORE, July 25.—2 40 P. M.—The fire is still raging, but has not extended to any great extent beyond the blocks named in the last despatch. The Central Presbyterian Church, on the South-east corner of Saratoga and Liberty streets, is a complete wreck.

3 P. M.—The fire is still raging. Eight blocks of fine buildings have been burned. The authorities are sending for outside help.

Notwithstanding the intensity of the flames, and the natural excitement incident thereto, no panic prevailed in the neighborhood of the fire, but all did their utmost to prevent the spread of the flames.

3 10 P. M.—Clay street, on which the fire originated, to-day, is a small street, beginning at Liberty, about mid-way between and parallel with Saratoga and Lexington streets.

4 10 P. M.—The fire is now completely under control, and many who removed their goods and furniture on blocks adjacent to the fire are now moving back.

NEW YORK, July 25.—Francis Gustave Colbery, a natural son of the King of Sweden, and half brother of the present King, was held to-day, with one Frederick Plate, to answer the charge of smuggling kid gloves into this port.
