

Foreign Affairs.

LONDON, July 28.—In the House of Commons, to-day, Viscount Enfield, Under Secretary for the Foreign Department, in answer to a question whether any possibility existed that the Carlists would be recognized as belligerents, stated that the Carlists were undoubtedly gaining ground, but that matters were not at a state to entitle them to belligerent rights.

LONDON, July 29.—The Government proposes upon the marriage of the Duke of Edinburgh to the Grand Duchess Maria, of Russia, to increase his yearly allowance to $125,000.

MADRID, July 29.—The Bishop of Granada, who was held as a prisoner by the insurgents of that city, has been released. A despatch has been received at the War Office announcing that the insurgents have commenced an attack upon Sevilla. The Government forces in the city were actively resisting the assault, and were confident of driving off the insurrectionists. The Spanish steamer Vigilante, seized by the German man-of-war Frederick Charles, has been given up to the Spanish Consulate at Gibraltar. The report that the Republican artillerymen in Valencia have joined the insurgents is untrue.

American Matters.

MEMPHIS, July 29.—The assassination of Frank M. Moore, yesterday morning, has been the all absorbing topic on the streets to-day. The coroner's inquest to-day resulted in a verdict that the deceased came to his death from a pistol-shot fired by Joseph Hanson, a nephew of Moore, who was sleeping in the house, and that he was instigated to the deed by Mrs. Moore. It has been ascertained that since their marriage, his wife left him for eighteen months, and that their marriage was an unhappy one.

MATAMORAS, July 28.—The Public Voice, a Spanish newspaper of this city, states that a revolution is imminent in the State of Nueva Leon. There are three aspirants for Governor in that State; consequently, the election will devolve on the Legislature, which will meet in Monterey, September next. So intense is the party hatred originating in the revolution of last year, and revived in the present political contest, that an outbreak is regarded inevitable. Private advice states that prominent residents of Monterey are already preparing to leave that city, to avoid being complicated in the threatened troubles.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—Germany disavows responsibility for the capture of the Vigilante. The captain who effected the capture has been ordered home for an explanation.

The French Assembly passed a bill abolishing the shipping tax. The Liberals carried the election at Naples.

3,000 Remington rifles, landed at Bilbao, were seized by 600 Carlists and taken to the interior.

BALTIMORE, July 29.—James Green, a fisherman, while hauling a seine in Chester River, was seized by a shark, and the flesh torn from his right leg, which will be amputated.

One of Ross Winan's hay barns, near the Relay House, was burned by lightning.

LITTLE ROCK, July 29.—Cholera prevails to some extent on plantations below here. One plantation has lost eleven since Friday.

SALT LAKE, July 29.—Complaints and affidavits in the case of Ann Eliza Webb, the seventeenth wife of Brigham Young, were filed, to-day, in the Third District Court. The complainant sues for $200,000 damages, alimony pending the suit $1,000 per month, and $20,000 counsel fees. The case will be argued probably before Judge Emerson, on the 5th of August, on preliminary points. Other suits of like nature will be begun soon.

SIoux CITY, Iowa, July 29.—Millions of grasshoppers are in the air. Their general course seems South-west. Their settlement here is apprehended.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 29.—The steamship Japan has arrived, with a large number of Chinese. No small pox aboard.

NEW YORK, July 29.—A Herald special, dated London, the 28th, says: At Carthage, yesterday, the red flag of the Intransigents, which had been flying above the fortresses and shops in the harbor, was replaced by the national flag. In anticipation of trouble, the iron-clad Mendez Munez had left the arsenal yard and anchored in the port, ready for any movement; also, the Numancia, Victoria and others. To-day, the iron-clads, accompanied by three steamers, were to issue from the harbor, and, if interfered with, will fire upon attacking vessels. A sanguinary naval engagement is expected. The Prussian and English Consuls have received orders from their respective Ministers to notify cruisers that rebel ships are pirates, and to treat them as such. The rebels threaten that if any vessel belonging to a foreign power interferes, to massacre every Consul and foreigner in the city. Strangers are apprehensive, and are flying for their lives.

The last iron plates for the East River bridge anchorage have been placed. Eight feet of masonry will be placed over these anchors.

Losses in the tea trade, for the last year or two, estimated at $6,000,000; caused by the failure of the following firms: J. D. McKenzie & Co., W. H. Gillett & Co., Smith & Noyes, Charles E. Hill & Co., Phillips, Dator & Co. McKenzie, one of the earliest sufferers, made a settlement and has resumed business; and the other firms mentioned either have made or are making settlements with their creditors.

At Sing Sing, yesterday, while a draft of the prisoners was being made for the Auburn prison, the notorious Wes. Allen, armed with a large knife, unlocked his cell and defied any one to approach him. When an attempt was about to be made to secure him, Allen pointed to a can containing about a pound of nitroglycerine, and threatened to blow up the prison, should any one molest him. The warden, deeming discretion the better part of valor, left Allen behind the bars, in possession of his deadly instruments.

The coroner's jury don't doubt that Delia Corcoran, found in the river near Yonkers, was outraged and then murdered.

A youth of fourteen stabbed one of sixteen fatally with a jack-knife.

Advices from Kingston, Jamaica, report that the blockade-runner Virginians had safely landed 200,000 cartridges, 500 Remington rifles, fifteen needle guns, and a large amount of other war material.

It is stated that Céspedes has marched with a strong column for Camaguanay. The insurgents won a battle in the interior. No details. An Havana letter says the insurgents entered Nuevitas, while the Governor shut himself in the fort, and sacked the town.

A Kingston letter says unprecedented drought prevails. There will be a small sugar and a favorable tobacco crop. The small-pox there is increasing.

MEMPHIS, July 29.—Mrs. Moore and her nephew have been released on $5,000 bail each. Unless new evidence is elicited, it is thought they will be discharged by the examining court. The coroner's jury acted upon inconclusive evidence.

A convention from the new State of Nashaba met in Jackson, Tenn., to-day. Twenty-nine deaths from cholera during the week in Union City and immediate vicinity.

On the night of the 18th instant, Mrs. Fitzpatrick, a widow, residing at Riply, was awakened from her sleep by a negro named Chris. Titus, who presented a pistol at her head, threatening instant death if she made a noise. He then outraged her, and being drunk, soon fell asleep in her bed. Mrs. Fitzpatrick slipped from the house and went to a neighbor's and told what had occurred. Mr. Thompson, her neighbor, accompanied by his two sons, proceeded to the house, and found Titus still asleep. They secured him. He is in Nashville jail. The penalty is death.

DUBLIN, Va., July 29.—Private advices received here from Jonesboro, Tennessee, state that the cholera has appeared there in a virulent form.

Mr. and Mrs. Shepperd, a bridal couple from Montgomery County, on their way to Pulaski Alam Springs, while crossing Cloyd's Mountain, in a buggy, during a thunder storm, the horse took fright at a flash of lightning, and shied the road, and the party were precipitated down a precipice 170 feet high. The bride had her collar bone and ankle dislocated, teeth knocked out, and otherwise badly injured.

John Giffon was run over on the Chesapeake Road, between McKendree and Meadow stations, and instantly killed.

WASHINGTON, July 29.—For some weeks past, a correspondence has been going on between the Post Office Department here and that of Great Britain, with a view to establishing an exchange of postal cards at a low rate of postage, but the British authorities have finally declined the proposition, on the ground that they are opposed to any lower rate of postage than that now paid on letters.

Probabilities.—On Wednesday, for the Gulf and South Atlantic States, South-westerly winds, partly cloudy weather and numerous local storms.

Jews and Christians.—In our foreign items the other day the destruction by fire of the Jewish synagogue of Bordeaux, France, was announced. His eminence, Cardinal Doucet, on the same day, sent his Vicar-General, the Abbe Fonteneau, to the Grand Rabbi, to express his great concern for the disaster which had befallen the Jewish community of Bordeaux, and to assure him of his readiness to assist, in case there should be any necessity of having recourse to subscriptions to re-erect the building. The Rabbi expressed his deep gratitude to the envoy for the kind attention of such a proceeding on the part of a Catholic Cardinal. The President of the Consistory of the Reformed Church made a similar move, and the venerable chief of the Israelites was profoundly moved by the marks of sympathy which proceeded from such high authorities, and it was with tears in his eyes that he thanked, in the name of his flock, the religious heads of the Catholic and Protestant Churches.

HONORABLE.—Before Coroner M. B. Moses, Esq., a jury of inquest sat on Friday last, over the body of James Green, a colored man, resident in Sumter, near the Clarendon and Sumter line, below the Privateer neighborhood. The showing before the jury was to the effect that Mr. Ritchie H. Belser, of Clarendon, acting under a bench warrant, and accompanied by four other citizens, as a posse comitatus, proceeded to the house of James Green, and having surrounded it, commanded him to surrender. Green started to run, when Belser shot him in the back, sick back-shot taking effect in his lungs, from which death instantly ensued. The verdict of the jury was that James Green came to his death by a double barreled gun in the hands of Ritchie H. Belser.

A SINGULAR CASE.—On the 15th day of August, 1860, the dwelling house of Geo. Worcester, in the town of Harvard, was burned, and a man named Clark Fairbanks, who resided in the town, and had had some difficulty with Mr. Worcester, was suspected so strongly of having set the fire that he was arrested, tried and convicted of arson, being sentenced October 21, 1861, to imprisonment for life in the State prison. He was pardoned April 29, 1871, on condition that if again convicted of any crime, his first sentence should hold good against him. In May last, while in liquor, he quarreled with a man in Fitchburg, was prosecuted, convicted for assault and battery, and sentenced for one month in the house of correction. At the expiration of the thirty days, Warden Chamberlain called for him, and unless again pardoned, he will have to serve a life sentence.

A suggestion is made that when Wise crosses the ocean in the Graphic balloon, he should drop bottles containing messages every hour into the ocean, so that some clue may be had to his whereabouts. Passengers by the Cunard steamers are requested to carry sheet iron umbrellas, or keep in the cabin, while Wise is throwing bottles.

There is a man named Wagerman, who has been an inmate of the Franklin County (Pa.) poor house for the past thirty-three years. For eighteen years he was chained to the floor of his cell in the insane department. Recently he was relieved from that position, his age having rendered him harmless.

A PERJURER PUNISHED.—Lewis Hill, colored, the voluntary revenue informer, who had many citizens of Charleston brought before the United States Commissioner, and who was recently convicted of perjury in the United States Court, was sentenced to be confined for one year in the penitentiary.

THE LUCKY MAN.—Mr. L. H. Keith, of Massachusetts, is stated to have drawn the $100,000 prize in the Louisville lottery. The number was 20,893. Mr. Keith has arrived in Louisville and taken possession.

Mr. Richardson, the Secretary of the Treasury, is about to enter a crusade against marriage by enforcing a rule forbidding a wife to have employment under the Government if her husband holds a clerkship or other position.

THE KU KLUX PARADISE.—A Washington letter of Thursday last says:

Gen. Kershaw, in conversation to-day, advertising to the condition of his own State of South Carolina, expressed hopeful views, and remarked that pleasant relations now generally subsisted between the whites and the blacks. Mr. Sims, Mr. Porter and Gen. Kershaw, all called on the Attorney-General to-day, with whom they had an agreeable interview. They called the attention of the Attorney-General to the profound quiet which has prevailed in the State of South Carolina for so long a time, and assured him of the earnest desire of the people for whom they spoke to maintain friendly relations with the blacks and with the General Government, only asking that their rights and liberties as citizens be respected. They then suggested to the Attorney-General that the pardon of the remaining citizens of South Carolina, now confined in the Albany Penitentiary for Ku Klux offences, would be an act of clemency which would be appreciated by those concerned and their families and friends, and would tend to strengthen the Government. They also spoke of the indictments still pending in the Federal Courts of South Carolina against citizens on account of alleged Ku Klux offences, and asked that the parties have an assurance that they would not be brought to trial. The number of these indictments is about 500.

The Attorney-General, in his reply, abstained from giving any definite promise as to what the future policy of the Government would be in respect to the Ku Klux offenders now confined, or those over whom indictments are still hanging. He, however, concurred in the opinion of his visitors, that comparative quiet had for some time prevailed in South Carolina, as well as in Mississippi and other Southern States, where the Ku Klux had obtained a foothold. He informed them that the Government had no desire to be vindictive, but was unsweaving in its determination to vindicate the majesty of the law. It was not at all improbable that if no further outbreaks occurred, the Government would stay its hand. Altogether, the impression produced by the Attorney-General's remarks was that if things continue as now indicted, parties need not be alarmed.

In regard to those now in the Albany Penitentiary, all have applied in due form for pardon, and their applications have been generally endorsed by reputable citizens in their vicinity, and the probability is that they will be released within a reasonable time. General Kershaw says that the first proclamation of the President broke the back-bone of the Ku Klux, and so far as he is advised, there was not a single offence after its issue. The indictments now pending were all found from a year to eighteen months ago. General Kershaw also had an interview to-day with Assistant Secretary of the Treasury Sawyer, ex-Senator from South Carolina, who sympathized with the object of his call on the Attorney-General. Afterwards, General Kershaw and his friends visited some of the Government departments, escorted by Senator Patterson, of South Carolina.

There is a worse custom, if there is a worse, in Louisiana, than duelling, and that is the terrible family feud of vendetta, which result in almost total annihilation of male members of families—the wiping out of family names. The vendetta is carried on to a great extent among the Italians residing in New Orleans, especially those hailing from the island of Sicily or Sicily. But the regular Louisiana vendetta occurs in isolated parishes. Take, for instance, the region North of Louisiana, bordering the State of Arkansas—Carroll, Morehouse or Union Parishes—and you will find that every family has sustained a loss or losses from this terrible vendetta. Go up the Ouachita River to Monroe, and then go sixty miles further to the Bayou Bartholomew, and up this bayou to the border, and you will find almost every plantation run by a widow, their husbands having been killed off by family feuds. A man will have a personal quarrel with another, which will in the end result in the death of one of the party; the next generation takes it up, and so on down to three or four generations, until finally there are no males left to continue the quarrel.
