The Poer Man's Sabbath Day. By GERALD MASSEY.

The merry birds are singing. And from the fragrant sod The spirits of a thousand flowers Go weetly up to God; While in his holy temple We meet to praise and pray, With cheerful voice and grateful lay, This summer Sabbath day!

We thank thee, Lord, for one day To look Heaven in the face! The poor have only Sunday; The sweeter is the grace. 'Tis then they make the music That sings their week away; Oh, there's a sweetness infinite In the poor man's Sabbath day! 'Tis as a burst of sunshine,

A tender fall of rain, That sets the barest life abloom. Makes old hearts young again. The dry and dusty road-side With smiling flowers is gay; 'Tis open Heaven one day in seven— The poor man's Sabbath day!

Tis here the weary pilgrim Doth reach his home of ease That blessed house called "Beautiful, And that soft chamber "Peace, The River of Life runs through his

And the leaves of Heaven are at play He sees the Golden City gleam, This shining Sabbath day! Take heart, ye faint and fearful; Your cross with courage bear;

So many a face now tearful Shall shine in glory there; Where all the sorrow is banished, The tears are wiped away;
And all eternity shall be
An endless Sabbath day!

Ahl there are empty places Since last we mingled here; There will be missing faces When we meet another year! But, heart to heart, before we part, Now all together pray
That we may meet in Heaven, to spend
The eternal Sabbath day!

Secretary Robeson does not listen to the song of peace. His voice is still for war. He hears only the blow of trumpets, the clatter of armed marines, and the booming of cannon. We fear the feative Secretary will yet bleed and die for his country.
