THERE WAS STILLNESS IN THAT COURT. When at Opelika we heard an aged man, who hailed from Tallapoosa, a County rendered famous in old times as being the home of "Simon Suggs," and now known as the "banner Democratic County" of Alabama, relate the following, which we will try to give in his language:

"It was, as well as I kin rickolek, at the fall term of court, in '61, at Dadeville, when (that clever old man, he is ded and gone.) Bob Dougherty was the jedge and Squire Joe McDonald—as you're from Columbus, mister, you must know the Squire, for he lives down thar in Russell now—had bin discharged from the army and war solicitor of the 'Bloody Ninth,' as the Cirkit was called. There had been a true bill found by the grand jury at the spring term of the court agin old man Jim Rentfrow, and Jim he went to the war that summer, thinking, perhaps, the case would be dropped on that account.

"Well, while the court were in session I went to Squire McDonald for to try and git him to nol pros. the case, and he lowed as how it went mitily agin his grain fur to prosecute Rent-frow, and I knowed it, for the Squire was as big-hearted as he wur free-handed, and was powerfully beliked in Talla-poosy; but he said the law would hev to be carried out.

"Well, I sot down by the winder, on the fur side of the court room, and kinder looked out, and just then a wag-gin, with a yoke of steers hitched to it, driv up in the squar, sorter in front uv Cap. Scientific Prophets -If we are to believe some of the learned scientific Americans who lately met in council in Portland, the prospect of the denizens of this sublunary world of ours is not exactly of the most cheering character. Prof. Young, for instance, tells us that the sun is nothing but a gigantic spherical mass of gaseous matter, which is constantly being contracted by the gra-dual cooling of its outside circumfer-ence. The central kernel of this huge star will always, according to the learned professor, finally be crusted over with a thick, impervious coating, through which neither light nor heat can possibly reach us. The result, as far as we are concerned, will be total darkness, intense cold, the end of animal life, and a return to primeval chaos. Gen. Earnard-another scientific seer-compares the earth to a hollow India rubber ball filled with molten lead. The spherical shape of our globe being the result of lits rapid rotary motion, any accident, such as the bursting up of some great volcano, the shock of a comet or of a meteoric body, would open a vent through the thin rind upon which we live, whereupon the incandescent matter would at once project expiring humanity into vacent space. Prof. Walling denounces the sun as a spendthrift, who wastes with stupendous folly his inhefilled with molten lead. The spherical nounces the sun as a spendthrift, who wastes with stupendous folly his inheritance of heat and light, and who, thanks to his prodigal habits, is fast progressing towards that bourne whence no traveler returns—the bankruptcy court. Prof. Franklin Hough draws it more mildly, as be only threatens us with the total disappearance of water, owing to the wanton destruction of trees and forests. Prof. LeConte has paid special attention to insects, and warns us that their frightful increase will ultimately lead to the destruction of the vegetable world, after which man him-self will become their prey. The earth will then be a gigantic parish of Plaquemines, in which the mosquito tribe will rule supreme, until some other equally noxious vermin shall arise and devour them. The above cheerful resume of the labors of our American savans indicates that the human race is decidedly in a tight place. If the sun is to go out like a snuffed candle, and the earth to explode like un old steam boiler, we may as well overlook the lesser contingencies of vainless years and the universal prevalence of vermin.
