Attend the True Event."

VOLUME X—NUMBER 8.

BARNUM'S AMERICAN HIPPODROME.—The more we hear of the enormous preparations being made by Mr. Barnum for his monster American Hippodrome, the more we are astonished. Surely it is intended to far surpass any previous production of the kind that this or any other country has ever seen. Some time ago we announced the fact that Mr. Barnum had purchased many thousands of pounds' worth of properties from Messrs. Sanger, and that the armorer were to be set to work immediately, and, as we expected, Messrs. Kennedy & Co., of Birmingham, have received orders for hundreds of suits of armor, which they are working at almost night and day, at their manufactory, to complete by a given time. We may here remark that this firm has justly obtained a world-wide reputation for spectacular armor, of which they are the original inventors and manufacturers; and to such a pitch of excellence have they brought it, that the entire London press speak, and we think very justly, in its highest praise; and we doubt not their invention has put thousands of pounds into the pockets of managers, not only in England, but in many other parts of the world. In confirmation of this opinion, we have only to pay a visit to Astley's and the standard theatres to find crowded houses, and to look upon such scenes of splendor that, until the present time, have never been brought before the public, and which have been styled by the press as "indescribably grand." We regret we have not yet been able to pay their establishment a visit, as among other goods Mr. Barnum has purchased from them, are two suits of jeweled armor, such as the world has never before seen. Some idea of their splendor may be gathered from the fact, that not only are they coated with real gold, but are set with upward of 12,000 stones. We believe it is the intention of Mr. Barnum to exhibit these in America before his establishment opens, in glass cases, which are being made specially for that purpose. We understand they have orders in hand for nearly 100 suits of armor for a spectacular piece, about to be produced in Paris, and heartily congratulate Messrs. Kennedy on the great success of their invention.

During the progress of a ball in Mott Haven, N. Williams was arrested.
