COLUMBIA, S. C Baturday Morning, May 28, 1874.

The tertible condition of our peo. liats, is attracting fresh attention fr our Northern contemporaries. It easy to make contradiotions of state ments sent on to Washington, and the connter-memorialists. showed themcolumns in our newapapers, giving the names of distressed tar-payers, the tax unpaid, cannot be contradioted, explained away or overlooked. They racterized ss prosenting only "timaginary" ovils. They are perfect pic-tares, as traly résponding the impressions of feature and form made by the sun's light on the prepared plate. A traveling correspoadtrracted by york Sun has been ort in the Oharleston Chronicle. He makes is the oceasion of etady, aud of pending inevitable and wide-spread he earth had gone away, and that i heir taxes by persons in New York of oorresponding condition with these rained South Oaroiinians should be publiehed, "the whole conntry would rise in astonishment." We quote passage or two from this intelligent writer. He says:
"An examination of the three news. papers revealed a startling exhibit. Papers revealed a starting exhibit.
Lhe unfinished list of delinquent ta payers for 1873 in Carleston an vicinity filled nineteen columns. noluded 940 houses and 1,431 lots in inoluded 910 hosses and 1,481 lots in the city alone, besides other valuable property. It,also took in 251 summer residenoes and 168 lots on Morrii, Bul livan's and other istands, and 371 plantationg, aggregating 299, 191 acres of hand aur:ounding. Cnarleston. The list contained the names of the wealthiest and most respectable citizens-families whose names are oarved upon the historical oolumns of the nation.
Oharoh domesnes, jookey olub lands, the home of the Sisters of Meroy, and the property of benevolent and other soioties figare side by side in the ex hibit. The revelations were more than His conculadigg refleotions are as sigaificant as they are just. Such sensiwhat mast inevitably come, ought have the effect of arousing the dor mant senses of the people of the North. They leave them without the excuse of ignorance, at least. And the ing to oir colored people and the mongst us. He come to operate these worde:
"The carpe great and eamall. The negrotis is the musole of the State. No matter how heary the burden becomes, bis broad shoniders in the end mnst, bear it all.
Ho is the man who must make the flual he effeot of the taxes are ehown in his rents. He is already compelled to pay yearly 82 per aore rent for land that could be purchased ontright No matter how humble his cabin, the colleotor hunts him out, and if he oun fina nothing more, deduots a per oantpite this writiug on the wall, the eyes of the negro have not been opened.
He is easily imposed npon. No sooner He is easily imposed upon. No sooner does one thief go out of offoe than the innocent black man turns to and boots another in. It is the same as in New Zork city. The biggest corraptionitu control the votes of the poorest oiti. quondam slaves are not the only sufferers. After the war Northern men inverted considerable money in sea istand plantations. Phe most of them ors are tottering ou the brink of bank-ruptey. A very few have edged in with the thieves tics of the State, und mavage to skin along quite comfortably, but the day is not fur distaut when they, to be drawn istout when theistrom, too, As the Northeru meu who invested cooked long ago. their matton was Nobody feels sorry cooked long ago. Nobody feels sorry lor them. Thy grabed with their oyes wide open, and got stung. They deserved it. After ail, what is to be ho end? Repadiation, cortainy.
Worse than that is the fal which is North. The President's treatment the committee of south Carolina tol payers fanued a fire that the eloquence of 10,000 gifted Lismars would fall to quench.'

 Nerely puaished. Wan a people so se ve not do
vomet sowething to relieve their burdens, somethiug more than to sing hyning and strew tluwers over Confederate ${ }_{\text {ation }}^{\text {Need York: Herald. }}$

8

aro born for activity, that life is full of daties, and that to abdicatu them is ## cease to act the part of mon. We nre satisfied that the disparity minds of those who tave been made victims of their own ignorance and others' cunning and daphicity. A registration should have bean orderad by the last Legislature. Oar Conservative members ought to have secured this

have been overcome. It:is incumbent on the Legislature, in the language of the Constitution, "to provide, from time to time, for the registration of all electors." Aud the duty and necessity of itmight have been pressed home upon it. Something was lost to the cause of good government in the failure to seoure it. But it may be partialls repaired. Conservatives and decont Bupublicans bhald $\qquad$goght to note the changes which are going on. Some ono in every election preoinot should make a iist of the qualitied voters, and the vote of each qualitied voters, and the vote of each Conaty thus be approximated or ascertuined. We throw out this hint be needed. It will do good. It will show that the power of mere numbers aud brute force is o yielding slowly to that of intelligence and claracter. It will show, too, that those elements which make one race dominant over another, are asserting their sway even bere, where so many artificial arrange.

mente exist to impair their nutive

|  |
| :---: |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |
|  |  |

