VOLUME X—NUMBER 57

Musical Festival.

FIRST GRAND CONCERT OF THE CHORAL UNION, OF COLUMBIA, S. C. In pursuance of the announcements already made, the first concert of the Choral Union, of Columbia, will take place at Parker's Hall, on WEDNESDAY EVENING, June 3, under direction of Prof. W. H. Evans, assisted by Profs. Deuck and Korpper.

A splendid programme, comprising several of the most effective choruses, (sacred and secular,) from works of the most illustrious composers; also, trios, duets, solos, &c., will shortly be published. The choruses will be sustained by a select and able orchestra, favorite overtures by the orchestral band, and superb solos on the grand piano and violin, by Profs. Deuck and Korpper, will enliven the interest of the occasion. A libretto, containing the words to choruses, &c., will be presented to each ticket-holder.

Tickets now for sale at the music and book stores. Diagram of reserved seats at store of Messrs. Lybrand & Son. Tickets one dollar; children half price. No extra charge for reserved seats.

A PEN PICTURE OF THE HAPPY PAIR. George Alfred Townsend writes to the Chicago Tribune concerning Miss Grant and Mr. Sartoris, thus:

Nellie has grown to be a fine, piquant young woman, with a squarish body, thin but graceful arms, a countenance expressing her mother's spirit with some of the solidity of her father's features, and the general appearance of a hearty, long-lived matron. Mr. Sartoris is a young English lad, below the average height and bulk of English youths, with an amiable face, straight flaxen hair, cut short; and he conveys an idea of good intentions and gentle breeding, without great force. But on our first meeting, we have too much force—too much big jaw and copper-lined stomach; too much drive and bolting of meals, fed to the human intestines as if we were poking cord-wood into an old steamboat furnace. We don't need any force, particularly at weddings.

ACQUITTED.—D. J. Carter, Esq., editor of the Lancaster Ledger, was honorably acquitted last week of a charge of murder. About a year ago, Mr. Carter shot in the dark and accidentally killed a man by the name of H. J. Hickson, whom he heard in his yard after he had retired at night. There was much excitement over the trial. Judge Mackey presided.

C., the bonds and stocks of the State authorized by the Legislature under the funding Act, approved December 22, 1873, into the consolidation bonds and stocks. The following classes of bonds and stocks are authorized to be funded:

BONDS.—Charleston fire loan; construction State Capitol; aid to Blue Ridge Railroad; funding past due interest and principal; redemption bills receivable; payment interest public debt; funding bills Bank of State; relief of Treasury; Land Commission.

The following bonds issued under Act of March 23, 1869, entitled "loan for the conversion of State securities," are also authorized to be funded into "consolidation bonds;" they having been duly exchanged and represented by bonds on file:

Denomination $1,000 Numbered in Red.—Numbers 1 to 519 inclusive; numbers 521 to 1,130 inclusive; numbers 2,451 to 2,475 inclusive. The Legislature has declared that the remainder of the "conversion bonds" were put upon the market without any authority of law, and are absolutely null and void.

HINTS TO LETTER-WRITERS.—The postmaster at New York has issued a circular which contains many valuable hints to letter-writers. Considering the fact that there are always two parties to a correspondence, these hints will be useful to persons in the city and out of it. The substance of the rules are, therefore, given for the benefit of all concerned. They are as follows:

1. All mail matter directed to numbered boxes will be delivered through those boxes. 2. Letters directed to city addresses, street and number, will, if recognized by the assorting clerks as intended for box-holders, be delivered through the boxes. If not so recognized, they will be delivered through the carriers. 3. Mail matter addressed without box number or street number, will be delivered as expeditiously as possible, either through boxes, general delivery or carrier. Correspondents should direct their letters plainly, correctly and fully, and those who rent boxes would greatly facilitate the business if they will print conspicuously on their letter headings, circulars, bill-heads, cards and envelopes a request to correspondents to address letters to their respective box numbers, and if those who receive mail matter by carriers would direct their correspondents to include in all cases the proper streets and numbers in the addresses of all letters.
