

Telegraphic-Foreign Affairs.

LONDON, July 8.—Bourke, Under-Secretary of the Foreign Department, introduced in the House of Commons, to-day, a bill amending the international copyright law, which was read once.

MADRID, July 8.—The Republican army has been re-organized. It is divided into two corps. The first, under Gen. Moriones, will operate in Navarre, and the second, under Zaballa, will watch the Ebro district. The strength of the combined army exceeds 30,000 men, with 79 guns. General headquarters at Taffala.

PARIS, July 8.—It is stated in Alphonse's circles that Isabella intends to publicly revoke her abdication of the throne of Spain.

Immediately after adjournment of the Assembly to-day, a Cabinet Council was held, at which Ministers tendered their resignations. MacMahon peremptorily refused to accept them, and the Ministry remains constituted as before. The President will send a message to the Assembly to-morrow or next day, in which he will announce his determination to retain the powers conferred upon him for the time assigned by law, and will insist on the necessity for a complete recognition of his power by the Assembly. A Cabinet Council will be held to-morrow, to definitely decide upon the terms of the message.

CONSTANTINOPLE, July 8.—The Sultan has written to the Khedive of Egypt in terms cordially confirming good relations between the Porte and Egypt.

PARIS, July 9.—The Republican journals of this morning consider that yesterday's proceedings of the Assembly demonstrate the powerlessness of that body, and declare that dissolution is the only remedy for the unsettled political situation. It is probable that several motions for a dissolution of the Assembly will be introduced at to-day's sitting.

HAVANA, July 9.—The Lieutenant-Governor of Holguin has issued an order requiring all store-keepers in his district to receive Spanish bank bills in trade, under pain of fine, imprisonment and trial for treason, should they persist in refusing them. A plan for a five per cent. tax levy has been approved by the Madrid Government. There were no sales of exchange to-day—everybody is waiting for the promulgation of the decree ordering a new tax.

LONDON, July 9.—The Times' Paris correspondent telegraphs that MacMahon, in his forth-coming message, will probably state he would not accept the resignations of the Ministers, because they defended his powers, and he wished to save the country from a new ministerial crisis. He will request the Assembly to hasten action on final measures and then adjourn for some months, and on re-assembling proceed to definitely organize his powers.

MEMPHIS, July 9.—During a game of base ball in the suburbs, last evening, a negro man who was in the way of Peter Meath, catcher, was ordered out of the way; to which he responded with an oath, and drawing a pistol, fired at Meath, who ran to his coat, got a pistol and returned the fire. Some half dozen shots were fired in the melee which ensued, the negro firing at other members of the club. Finally he was shot in the back and then beaten terribly.

OMAHA, July 9.—Gen. Sheridan and Ord returned from the West this afternoon. Telegraphic advices from Fort Laramie state that reports received from Spotted Tail's agency say that seventy-five lodges of Ogalalas, under Black Twin, are moving toward that place, and that Unosappas and Minnegosies are moving across the Yellowstone River. The Arapahoes and Cheyennes are camped on the head waters of Big Horn River, near the Big Horn Mountains.

PETERSBURG, VIRGINIA, June 9.—A mail and express car on the Atlantic and Mississippi Railroad was entirely destroyed by fire this afternoon, about nine miles East of Petersburg. The mail car contained an unusually heavy Northern and Southern mail, which, together with the express matter in the adjoining apartment, was entirely consumed. Roub Agents C. Jones and J. N. Jennings, the only persons in the car at the time, were badly burned about the face and arms. They were unable to give an alarm, owing to the burning of the bell rope; and, after an ineffectual effort to save the most valuable part of the mail, they both jumped off, and were afterwards picked up in a bruised condition. The fire was not discovered by those on the forward cars until the train had run several miles, and the car was burned down to the wheels. The origin of the fire is unknown.

The following official despatch was received to-day:

LONE TREE, NEBRASKA, July 9.—In consequence of the many depredations by the Sioux in the Wind River Valley, on the white settlers and the Shoshone Indians, one of the latest being the murder and horrible mutilation of two white women, Dr. Jim, agent for the Shoshones, made the request that the Sioux should be punished, if possible. On the morning of the 2d July, while Gen. Ord and myself were at Camp Brown, an opportunity presented itself, and Capt. Torry, of the 13th Infantry, commanding Camp Brown, was directed to send Capt. Bates and Lieut. Robinson, with Company B, 21 Cavalry, accompanied by twenty Indian scouts, under Lieut. Young, of the 4th Infantry, and about 150 Shoshones, under their chief, to attack a camp of the Sioux, lately established on the North side of the Owl Mountain range, where the Wind River breaks through, distant about 90 miles from Camp Brown. The attack was made at 3 A. M., Friday, July 3, the result being fifty Sioux killed and wounded and over 100 horses captured. Our loss was two men killed and Lieut. Young and three men wounded—Lieut. Young dangerously. Capt. Torry telegraphs that the result was not as satisfactory as desired, on account of the bad behavior of the Shoshones. Capt. Torry went out on the 5th, with ambulances and additional men, to meet Capt. Bates.

Accounts of Fourth-of-July fatalities and fires continue to reach us. Through a fire kindled by fire-crackers, Alleghany City, Pa., lost $300,000 worth of property. Pontiac, Ill., lost $200,000 worth by the same means. A fire-cracker at Clinton, Ill., caused the destruction of four buildings, and a fire-cracker at Circleville, Ohio, caused the burning of property valued at $25,000. In Chicago, four or five persons were killed in firing salutes. At Buffalo, four persons were drowned. On the Juniata River, in Pennsylvania, a bridge was blown down, killing seven persons and wounding five others. In Cincinnati, a son of John James Piatt, the poet, was fatally injured by an explosion of gun-powder in a vial. In Brooklyn, the bail from a Roman candle entered at the window of a house, upsetting a campfire lamp, and the building and a child were consumed.

ON THE WAR-PATH.—Our despatches to-day announce that the irrepressible Indians are again on the war-path. About 2,000 of them are represented as promiscuously slaying frontiersmen, and plundering or destroying property. The Indian agent in charge of the savages is an estimable and trusty Quaker, who has no doubt resorted to all manner of mild and peaceable measures to restrain the blood-thirsty red men. But his efforts having proved utterly unavailing, he has called for soldiers to protect the settlers—a resort that his religious scruples would forbid except in what must be extreme emergency. The Indian problem is one that seems to bid defiance to all normal rules. Its solution has long perplexed our Government, and we greatly fear that the recent outrage will tempt a resort to the only positive remedy—extermination of the hostile bands.

The Graniteville Manufacturing Company have declared a quarterly dividend of four per cent., payable on demand.

THE GREAT SAINT LOUIS BRIDGE.—The grandest pageant of the late 4th of July was the celebration of the completion of the great bridge that now spreads its spans across the mighty Mississippi at St. Louis, and overcomes what has been up to this time the only break in the line of communication between the Atlantic and the Pacific, the bridge forming, indeed, the great buckle in the iron belt from East to West. These spans are of steel and the piers of granite. They are higher than the tallest steeple of St. Louis, and planted in the deepest and most turbulent current of the Mississippi.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Mr. Solomon Quin, who lived near Bethany Church, in this city, on returning to his home from the field in which he had been working, late in the afternoon of Thursday last, while crossing a bridge over a small stream, fell from the bridge into the brook, and was taken up dead. He was eighty-four years of age and in feeble health, being subject to vertigo, an attack of which probably caused him to fall from the bridge.—Yorkville Enquirer.

BELLYMER.—An act of true heroism was recently performed by George Bellymer, on Red River. While he was lying on the hurricane deck in handcuffs, for an alleged larceny, a little girl fell from the deck of the boat into Goose Rapids. Bellymer immediately sprang overboard, swam to the girl, and after several attempts with his manacled hands, succeeded in holding the child until a boat came to their rescue.

All are requested to attend who favor the protection of property, the administration of justice, the cause of morality, and who have the manliness and virtue to make still another effort to rescue the State from those influences which have made its Government a mockery and a crime, and which, if unchecked, must inevitably reduce it to a condition of barbarism.

WM. WALLACE, Chairman Richland Delegation of Tax-Payers.

THE DISEASE OF CIVILIZATION.—Dr. Warren, author of the "Household Physician," tells us that dyspepsia is a disease of civilization—that savages know nothing of it. We do not believe the latter statement. Savages sometimes gorge themselves until they can scarcely move; and as they are human beings, and not anacondas, they must necessarily suffer the pangs of indigestion. Undoubtedly, however, in consequence of their luxurious habits, the civilized and enlightened portion of mankind are most subject to dyspepsia. This being the case, what are the civilized and enlightened dyspeptics going to do about it? What a large proportion of them are doing about it now is simply this: They are taking Hostetter's Stomach Bitters as a remedy, with unvarying and complete success. From all parts of the United States, from all the Spanish republics, from the West Indies, from various parts of Europe and from the antipodes, Australasia, evidences of its unrivalled properties as a specific for casual and chronic indigestion is continually being received. The result is, that the consumption of the great tonic and alterative is rapidly increasing throughout the civilized world. The nations, near and remote, as well as our own people, have discovered that as a preventive and remedy for diseases of the digestive organs, end all ailments of the liver, bowels, nerves and general system, which are generated or aggravated by imperfect digestion, it has no equal either among official or proprietary medicines.

SCHEENCK'S SEA WEED TONIC.—In the atmosphere experienced here during the summer months, the lethargy produced by the heat takes away the desire for wholesome food, and frequent perspirations reduce bodily energy, particularly those suffering from the effects of debilitating diseases. In order to keep a natural healthful activity of the system, we must resort to artificial means. For this purpose, Scheenck's Sea Weed Tonic is very effectual. A few doses will create an appetite and give fresh vigor to the enervated body. For dyspepsia, it is invaluable. Many eminent physicians have doubted whether dyspepsia can be permanently cured by the drugs which are generally employed for that purpose. The Sea Weed Tonic, in its nature, is totally different from such drugs. It contains no corrosive minerals or acids—in fact, it assists the regular operations of nature, and supplies her deficiencies. The Tonic, in its nature, so much resembles the gastric juice, that it is almost identical with that fluid. The gastric juice is the natural solvent which, in a healthy condition of the body, causes the food to be digested; and when this juice is not excreted in sufficient quantities, indigestion, with all its distressing symptoms, follows. The Sea Weed Tonic performs the duty of the gastric juice when the latter is deficient. Scheenck's Sea Weed Tonic is sold by all druggists.
