HAVANA, December 26.—The Diario says Senors Aldma and Aguilera have purchased two steamers for the purpose of bringing filibustering expeditions to Cuba. Gen. Jordan is to return to the Island, accompanied by Aguilera, and the former will assume the chief command of the insurgents. The Diario further states that Aldma and his companions intend to re-establish the Cuban Junta in New York, with the object of regaining the influence and power formerly held by that body, and creating a situation in Cuba similar to that existing in 1869, by the commission of all possible depredations by the insurgents. It says Captain-General Concha knows much more of the plans of the insurgents than what it now publishes. It gives publicity to the foregoing because Concha dislikes mysteries. Concha is resolved, as on former occasions, to combat the enemies of Spain everywhere. A letter to the Diario reports that strong efforts are being made in Washington to obtain the recognition of the Cubans as belligerents. The letter copies the names of Aldma and Collector Casey with these efforts, and says the object is to throw on the market the Cuban bonds held in Washington.

LONDON, December 28.—Three of the emigrant ship Copspatrick arrived at Madeira, and report the Copspatrick, from London for New York, burned off St. Helena. 463 persons lost.

LONDON, December 28.—The Times' Berlin correspondent says the question is being discussed at Berlin, whether it is possible to punish the Carlists for the outrage of seizure of the German ship Gustav. Advice from San Sebastian is to the effect that the Gustav is deeply imbedded in the mud, and that the Carlists were busily engaged in unloading her. The Captain of the Gustav was slightly wounded by the Carlists.

MADRID, December 28.—Food is reported to be very scarce at Pauplona. All known Carlist sympathizers are being expelled from that city.

LONDON, December 26.—A Berlin special says nothing has been made public during the last few days regarding the Von Arnim case which would lead to the impression that a remission of the sentence would be granted. It is known, however, that the Count's influential friends are at work in his behalf, and have yet hopes that their efforts may ultimately be crowned with success.

BERLIN, December 26.—The report that Queen Victoria had written Emperor William, urging him to adopt a more moderate policy with regard to the strife now in progress between the church and State, causes much comment here, and is regarded in Ultramontane circles with much favor.

HAVANA, December 28.—Captain-General Concha has issued orders to the officers commanding Spanish troops to act leniently towards captured or surrendered insurgents, but to execute all incendiaries and slanders who may be taken prisoners.

Telegraphic-American Matters.

NEW ORLEANS, December 23.—The sub-committee appointed by the Conservatives and Democratic party, to witness the canvassing and compiling of the returns by the Returning Board, to-day promulgated the returns of the election held November 2, for Congressmen, State Treasurer and members of the Legislature, certifying under oath that the statements and compilation were compiled by them from sworn duplicate returns in their possession, and have been by them compared with duplicates in the possession of said board and corrected thereby, and correspond to the compilation and canvass, poll by poll and parish by parish, made by said board; and, therefore, certify and declare the following named persons were duly and lawfully elected. Here follows a list of the names of those elected, showing the election of four Conservatives and two Republican Congressmen; the election of Monroe, Conservative, as State Treasurer, by 4,851 majority, and the election of 71 Conservatives and 37 Republicans to the Legislature. Carroll parish is excluded from the count of the Returning Board. The Conservative members to-day withdrew from the board because of its arbitrary ruling. Mr. Arroy also withdrew, and will give reasons to-morrow for his withdrawal. The returns, as compiled by the board to date, give the Conservatives forty-six and the Republicans forty-seven members of the House—one majority for the Republicans. The Conservatives are despondent and the Republicans jubilant over the result.

The Conservative sub-committee presented a protest to the Returning Board, in which, after renewing the arbitrary action taken, they say: The responsibility for such a step—striking at the root of our form of government, as it does—is a grave one, and such an usurpation has always reacted in a terrible manner wherever it has been adopted in America, and this committee trusts that its gravity has been well weighed by your body, as it alone must bear it, as this committee can share no part of the burden by either continuing its connection with your body and lending a seeming acquiescence by its continued presence. Having exhausted by this final protest the last means of resistance to this revolutionary decision, as we regard it, this committee now leaves the responsibility where it belongs, and completes its duty by surrendering its trusts to the constituency whom it represents and placing before the people of the State and Union, in its proper light, the action of the board and this committee, for them to pass on as a political court of last resort, to judge the cause of Louisiana, decide the question and decree the consequences thereof.

NEW YORK, December 26.—The following is the comparative cotton statement for the week ending December 26: Receipts at all United States ports for the week ending the 26, 162,594—same time last year, 215,594; total receipts to date, 1,980,647—same date last year, 1,763,587; exports for the week, 102,870—same week last year, 91,480; total exports to date, 994,378—same date last year, 796,826; stocks at all United States ports 789,060—same time last year, 734,681; stock at interior towns, 156,405—same time last year, 134,838; stock at Liverpool, 541,000—same time last year, 475,000; American float for Great Britain, 401,000—same time last year, 106,000. The market for cotton on spot has assumed a much firmer tone during the week, and prices show an improvement of $\frac{1}{16}$ ¢. This advance was established early in the week, and apparently was based on a decrease in receipts and free export movement, and many large receivers have withdrawn their stocks from market. This, however, is only true of better grades, which are really scarce and worth more money comparatively. The medium and lower qualities do not show any great strength, and improved prices now current are regarded as full figures. The export movement, though slightly in excess of last week, is not sufficient in extent to attract any great attention, as purchases apparently were merely of old lots, which were wanted to fill freight engagements. As to the spinning interest, these dealings were generally limited to such lots as could be used at once. So from general indications it does not appear that improvement can be very well supported unless foreign advices are more favorable than at present. For future delivery, the turn has again been in favor of the seller, but firmness in prices was mainly due to the purchasers of the short interest to cover. In fact, the entire upward movement appears to be a speculative one, as there were several large sales for later months, including lower ranges of prices. Closing dealings were very light. The total sales of the week were 201,947, of which 9,237 were on spot and balance for future delivery.

NEW ORLEANS, December 27.—Dan C. Byerly, who had a collision with Gov. Warmoth, is dead. Byerly was a printer. He came to New Orleans in 1845, and was forty-eight years old, and, at the time of the unfortunate occurrence, was managing editor of the Bulletin. A duel was pending between Mr. Jewell, of the Bulletin, and Gov. Warmoth, which was to have been fought to-morrow, in Alabama, with dueling pistols, at ten paces.

WASHINGTON, December 27.—It is positively stated that Sheridan will be in New Orleans on the 4th of January as a visitor, with orders in his pocket from the President to be promulgated at Gen. Sheridan's discretion, which will give him immediate sway in that section. This is probably true. The President shirks the responsibility of ordering Gen. Emory through Gen. McDowell in an emergency. He evidently wants a man there who will do the work without involving the President before the country.

The killing of Byerly by ex-Gov. Warmoth occasions much comment here to-day among all classes, and fears are expressed that it may lead to a general disturbance; but gentlemen from New Orleans don't apprehend such a result, while they admit that the quarrel between these parties increases the prevalent uneasiness.

There are no indications of a contemplated organized resistance to the decisions of the Returning Board. In fact, the more prominent Democrats in New Orleans have counseled a contrary course. There is fear, however, that rash conduct on the part of a few might precipitate a collision of arms among the many, and thus lead to active Federal interference. It is known that the Executive Department is closely watching the course of events in Louisiana, and has recently received much private information on the subject; and further, that the President has earnestly expressed his determination to preserve the peace.

The Legislature meets on the 4th of January, when it is expected that stern opposition will be made in the House of Representatives to the rulings of the Returning Board, and to this time prominent persons here are looking with much solicitude.

ATLANTA, GA., December 28.—Two men were killed at Columbus. M. W. Murphey, Chief of Police, while attempting to arrest some drunken desperadoes from Cusseta, Ala., was mortally wounded. Milford Bagley, one of the desperadoes who attacked the police, died Sunday morning. The friends of the assailants having threatened to break open the jail and rescue Ben. Bagley, the outraged citizens determined to deal summarily with the surviving murderer. The Sheriff called on the military for assistance, and they responded, remaining on duty all Sunday night, thus preserving the peace. Marshal Murphey was buried Sunday afternoon; 6,000 people attended his funeral.

LOUISVILLE, December 23.—A special to the Courier-Journal gives an account of a fatal shooting affray in Mercer County, Kentucky, yesterday, in which two men were killed and one mortally wounded. A quarrel occurred in the morning about a dog, in which Isaiah Gobbert shot a man named Daniels in the leg, inflicting a flesh wound. In the afternoon, Joe Davenport, a town constable, assembled a posse and went to arrest Gobbert. Upon the approach of the posse, Gobbert and a man named Herring fired on Davenport, but without effect.

Davenport then struck Gobbert on the head with a shovel, and Herring shot Davenport through the body, killing him instantly. Garland Davenport, a brother of the constable, here interferred and was shot and killed by Herring, who then escaped, and is supposed to have come to Louisville. Gobbert's wound is mortal. Best, the man who murdered the postmaster at Lancaster, Kentucky, Monday night, is said to have previously killed six men. The quarrel in this instance arose out of a controversy in regard to the ownership of land. The murderer is still at large.

WASHINGTON, December 25.—Pinchback leaves to-night. He has assurances and feels assured that he will be seated, and that contingent questions will be considered afterwards.

An incendiary fire at Claremont, Arkansas, destroyed $50,000 worth of property.

Two negroes were killed in a row in New Orleans. In another row two soldiers were wounded severely.

NEW YORK, December 26.—A note press was entered in the case of Judge McCue vs. Dana, of the Sun, for libel. In the Beecher and Tilton cross suits, the twisted phrases used by the lawyers are unfit for the telegraph columns. Tilton, in a card, says he would not accept a penny, but complains that the manner in which the cross suits are engineered will not bring Beecher's guilt in question.

PHILADELPHIA, December 26.—710 Mennonites, who arrived yesterday in the Vaderland from Antwerp, are quartered at the new docks of the Red Star line, at Girard Point, and will leave for the West in a few days.

NEW YORK, December 26.—Gov. McEnery, in a despatch to the Herald dated the 25th, says: The wrong just perpetrated by the Returning Board against the people of Louisiana, and which vitally threatens the safety and integrity of republican institutions in the United States, is a more crowning infamy than the action of the Lynch Returning Board; surpasses even the midnight order of Durell, and would not be submitted to by any free people. Resistance to the national authority, represented here by a large portion of the army and a naval fleet sustaining a usurpation and stifling the voice of the people, has never been meditated.

(Signed) JOHN MCENERY. The Returning Board adjourned subject to the call of the President. The returns show three Democratic and three Republican members of Congress. The House is nearly a tie, as some Conservatives will probably be seated.

In a fight between Dan C. Byerly, manager of the Bulletin, and ex-Gov. Warmoth, to-day, on Canal street, Byerly knocked Warmoth down with a stick and jumped on him, when Warmoth, drawing his knife, stabbed Byerly several times in the abdomen. The wounds are dangerous. Warmoth was arrested.

WASHINGTON, December 26.—There is much idle gossip about Terry or Sheridan for New Orleans. General Emory is said to deserve the confidence of the President. He has been ordered to sustain and will sustain the Kellogg rule. It may be said, however, that General Emory's soldiers are not expected to interfere in street broils.

BOSTON, December 28.—G. W. Daring & Co. were robbed of $12,000 in watches, diamonds and other stock.

WASHINGTON, December 28.—Bristow has ordered the Solicitor of the Treasury to bring prompt action against the bondsmen of defaulting officers.

BALTIMORE, December 28.—James Webb, Director of the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad, died to-day; aged fifty.

CHICAGO, December 28.—General Sheridan, who is still here, yesterday informed an interviewer that he had no instructions about Louisiana. The story of his departure for New Orleans is unfounded.

WASHINGTON, December 28.—Congressman Crocker, of the Tenth Massachusetts, is dead; aged seventy-three.

NEW YORK, December 28.—Gerrit Smith is dying of apoplexy. Gerrit Smith is dead.

Rev. Mr. Glendenning declines to preach until his appeal from the Presidency has been heard by the Synod.

Gov. Chamberlain.—The Charleston correspondent of the Augusta Chronicle and Sentinel writes on the 24th instant that Governor Chamberlain has "acted with such general satisfaction that friends and foes alike not only commend his actions in the highest terms, but are ready and willing to unite with him to further so praiseworthy an undertaking. His attainments are rare and of the most polished order. His ability as a lawyer has undergone too many tests to be further questioned, and as a Republican he is probably one of the most influential in the South. Amid the frowns and sneers of designing colleagues, he stands firm and inflexible, and he has already been subjected to the threats of the bravo because he dared to put in practice the duties incumbent upon him.

A man was seen coming out of a Texas newspaper office with one eye gouged out, and his nose spread all over his face like a piece of raw beef, and one of his ears chewed off. To a policeman who interviewed him, he replied: "I didn't like an article that 'peared in the paper last week, and I went in to see the man who wrote it. He was that, stranger."

INCENDIARISM.—Besides the fires for which no origin can be traced, that have recently occurred in and near this city, our State exchanges give accounts of scores of others. We also notice that the same insecurity exists in other States, both North and West. The most rigid and lawful measures are being adopted to prevent the recurrence of these, and it is urged that one of the causes may be found in the number of the people thrown out of employment, some of whom may take this means of averting starvation by incendiarism and robbery.

ST. BERNARD.—Over 100 people are reported to be stopping at the hospice of St. Bernard in the Alps, unable to proceed into Italy or Switzerland on account of the recent heavy snow storms. Great fears are entertained that the provisions in the hospice have given out. Seven men were recently lost in the snow while making their way to the hospice, and a short time back a letter carrier, with letters and a large amount of money, was lost in the neighborhood of Andermatt, the nearest village to the hospice.

The Greenville News says: Judge Cooke yesterday ordered Dr. Latimer to be placed in jail and there kept confined until he complied with the order of the Court, which was issued the day previous, requiring him to turn over the tax duplicate of Greenville County to the proper officer. Dr. Latimer, under the advice of counsel, turned over the duplicate, but will carry the case to the higher courts.

The large and valuable sugar plantation formerly owned by Col. Foster Marshall, and situated about two miles from Silver Spring, and seven miles from Ocala, has been purchased by a number of gentlemen, who intend erecting large sugar mills and a refinery, and go into the culture of sugar on a very large scale. The purchasers are gentlemen of large means, and have been engaged in the business in Cuba for a number of years.

SUDDEN DEATH.—Daniel Man Gronig, for many years Consul Agent of the Italian Government in Richmond, died suddenly on the evening of the 20th instant of apoplexy, aged fifty-six years. He was a native of Bremen, Germany, and had been a resident of Richmond for over thirty years, during which time he was a prominent tobacco merchant, and made frequent purchases of tobacco for the French Government.

Mrs. Oren is a State librarian of Indiana, and by a law passed last winter is to perform at the opening of the legislative session all the duties heretofore performed by the respective door-keepers of both branches. She will have authority to serve processes, arrest Senators, and will be, in short, Sergeant-at-Arms of the Senate.

Building in Italy seems to be a peculiarly dangerous occupation. A new office is being erected in Rome for the Ministry of Finance. The other day a workman fell from the scaffolding and was killed, making the 100th victim of accidents upon the same building.

One County in Michigan actually gave a small majority in favor of female suffrage, being the only County in the State which did so. The joke of the matter is, however, that nine-tenths of the voters in the County are native American Indians.
