A rebellious poet talks it out in this way in the New Orleans Bulletin: It is a hallowed custom with all nations of the earth To mark, with ceremony grand, each noble patriot's birth.

As a rebel (if successful) is his country's noble son—

We greet with joy the natal day of ly forty-eight.

Rebel Washington!

I may be wrong—'tis hard to tell— but still it seems to me That the one—the single—difference 'twixt Washington and Lee

Was this—the first succeeded—and the last was downward hurled,
But Washington fought Englishmen—while Lee fought all the world!

Courses.—The Norwich (Couned-tion) Fulletist says: Whatever dised-vaniages these may be about an im-peral Government, that regime certainly does not foster demagogues." There are courtiers of the King as well as courtiers of the people. Both are worshippers of power and servers of self. The most unscrupulous of American demagogues are the foremost apologists at this time of force most apologists at this time of force will be a server of the court of the co bills and all measures tending to imperialism.

If the French ever regain Straeburg, they will have to take one of the strongest fortifications in Europe. The Germans are adding immensely to its forts and lines of defence. And with all the other charts are defined in the new conquest. the other guards of the new conquest, the utmost endeavors are being used to render it impregnable. Obviously, Bismarck has no belief in any permanent peace except one that is compul-

The Chilicote family, of Fostoria, Ohio, should be a good one to marry into. The relationship number eighty persons, but even that large number is to be magnificently provided for to the last individual. A ninety-nine years' lease of 220 acres of land in Baltimore has just lapsed, and the Chilicotes are the owners of the fees. The property is said to be worth $70,000,000.

Decorations are plentiful in Berlin. The German Crown Prince has no less than filty-eight stars and crosses which he is entitled to wear; Prince Bismarck has no less than forty; Counts Moltke and Roon have thirtynine each. It is a little odd that really great men should care for such trash, and not leave it to the people of whose merit there is no other evidence.

The New York Herald says "the admission of New Mexico and Colorado as States is a mistake. The Senate has already too much preponderance, on account of so many rotten boroughs in the shape of wilderness States. We want commonwealths in the Union that represent men women, not In-dians, buffaloes and prairie wolves."

The English propose to move street cars by clock-work. The cars are to be of the lightest possible construc-tion, and are to be fitted with Shef-field springs, having a force of 900 pounds each, and wound up by sta-tionary engines.
