The latest tidings from Nevada con-The latest tidings from Nevada confirm the earlier reports that the great Bonants is no longer the pride and glory of the Pacific slepe. The view of sudden riches which presented itself to avaricious thousands, has proved itself but a mirage, and of those led away by the entieing vision, many are said to have gone so fat that they will never find the path back to a competence again. In the entire history of speculative enterprise, there have been speculative enterprise, there have been few parallels to the skillfully developed mining excitament, which has proved itself an excitament and little more, and of the extent and complete abandon of which we in the East have but a faint idea. Speculators in San Francisco, especially, went mad with hopes and fears, as did the fat burghers of Amsterdam at the time of the great tnlip manis, when worthless balbs were sold for their weight in gold. Not only were the bulls and bears of the San Francisco Stock Board involved in the fierce struggle, but the insane desire to acquire stock in the mines pervaded all classes. Ladies sacrificed the money classes. Ladies sacrificed the money which would ordinarily deck their persons with finery and bought stock; school-mistresses expended their wages; poor people sold their homes and invested the proceeds; all who could beg or borrow bought stock, and by no means all of them bought it when it was low. San Francisco, for a time, danced to a very lively time, and inst

One cord of wood will make 85,000 cubic feet of good gas. The cost of making it is said to be 18 cents per 1,000 feet. As the Detroit Tribune says: "It is cheaper than daylight."
