A LIONESS WHIPPED BY A DONKEY.
On Wednesday afternoon, while a boy was leading a donkey in front of the animal cage in the gardens of the Zoological Society, Cincinnati, Ohio, a two year-old lioness, in a fit of rage, bounded against the bars, which yielded and let it free. It immediately bounded on the donkey, which in the onset was thrown to the ground, the boy escaping with a slight scratch. The donkey was terribly lacerated about the neck and hinder parts with the claws and teeth of the lioness, but made quite a brave fight for life, displaying much of the stubbornness for which donkeys are proverbial. At first both rolled on the ground, the donkey underneath, but finally the weaker animal succeeded in temporarily freeing himself, and sinking his teeth in the back of the lioness, gave her a vigorous shaking. When released, the lioness gladly parted company with the donkey and bounded through the park, carrying consternation to the curiosity-seekers who were scattered through the garden. The animal was finally brought down with a load of buck-shot and died in a few minutes.

Pope Pius IX is a good man, and he ought to be. The six white silk capuchins he spoils in a year cost $80 apiece, his slippers are worth from $25 to $50 a pair, and a pair of his stockings never cost less than $5.

IN EXCHANGE GUANO FOR COTTON.
The Celebrated Fertilizers for Cotton, Corn, Wheat and Tobacco
REDUCED PRICES! LIBERAL TERMS!
Wilcox, Gibbs & Co.'s Manipulated Guano.
Prepared at Savannah, Ga., and Charleston, S. C., and PHOENIX GUANO,
Imported in bulk direct from Phoenix Islands, South Pacific Ocean.
We are offering the above celebrated FERTILIZERS, this season, at considerably reduced prices, and give purchasers the option of paying in cotton on the basis of 17 cents for middling, delivered at planters' nearest depot, by November 1, 1875, the cotton to be packed in good merchantable bales. By this arrangement the planter has a guarantee of realizing a good price for his cotton to pay for fertilizers. These GUANOS are too well known to require comment. Those who have used them know how to appreciate their value; those who have not, as yet, will find, on fair trial, that their liberal use will pay on present crops, besides being of future benefit to their lands. For further information, call on the undersigned for circulars, containing analysis, opinions of planters, &c.
