

"Let our Just Conscience"

Attend the True Event."

BY JULIAN A. SELBY.

COLUMBIA, S. C., SUNDAY MORNING, APRIL 18, 1875.

VOLUME XI—NUMBER 22

In view of the approaching centennial celebration at Concord and Lexington, on the 19th instant, the rivalry between these two towns in contending for the honor of being the heroes of the first fight of the war of the revolution attracts general interest. Several letters are published on the subject. Frederick Hudson, a well known journalist, claims for Concord the honor of the first armed resistance. George Wm. Curtis also writes, giving Concord the honor of the first organized resistance, although a few Americans at Lexington returned the British fire. The interest in the centennial celebrations in these places is rapidly increasing, especially in New England, where it absorbs every other topic. The statues of John Hancock and John Adams are to be unveiled at Lexington.

A great reduction of wages has taken place in Germany this winter. Two thalers, or $1.50, has been the wages of city laborers since the war; before the war it was one thaler, but this winter it has been cut down to two-thirds of a thaler. Dull and stringent times are said to be prevailing throughout the empire, and if this be true, it will be impossible for the authorities to restrain emigration as soon as business revives in America.

A Brazil paper is responsible for a story that one Manual Jose Alfonso has just died in San Jose de Leonissa at the age of 150, and that he leaves a widow and sons from a marriage consummated when he was almost 100 years old. To the day of his death he saw and walked well, and retained his faculties unimpaired. Another man recently died in the same vicinity, aged 126, leaving a progeny of about 300.

The Parisians devour 100,000,000 apples every winter. An eminent French physician thinks that the decrease of dyspepsia and bilious affections in Paris is owing to increased consumption of this fruit, which he maintains, is an admirable prophylactic and tonic, as well as a very nourishing and easily digested article of food.

If there is one thing that makes home uncomfortable, it is the continued consciousness that one is living beyond one's means, that a reckoning day is sure to come. Yet the calls for expenditure are incessant, and each keeps on buying, with no calculation how matters are coming out, until the final crash settles the matter.

A Brooklyn lady, whose husband has an unpleasant habit of railing at her, has hit upon the plan of calling in her servant when he begins to let out his temper, and then turning to him and saying sweetly: "Now, my dear, please go on with your remarks." He doesn't go on, at least not as he began.

One of the evidences of a progress in civilization has shown itself at New Zealand, in the establishment of a newspaper printed in the native language, under the management of a Maori chief.

The average gorilla of Central Africa now points to Stanley and his band of explorers and pathetically reminds his grand-children that "it is what they may one day expect to come to."

Mr. P. A. Sanders, of Rafton Creek, Sumter County, shot an eagle last week, measuring seven and a half feet from wing to wing, and three feet from beak to tail.

United States Treasurer Spinner is the only man living whose photograph has been in possession of everybody in the country and is sought by all ages and sexes, without reference to color or previous condition of servitude.

Colonel Jefferson Davis and Captain Ulysses S. Grant are invited to a reunion of the officers in the Mexican war in Austin, Texas, on the 8th of May.

An old negro accused another of being so greedy, that he would run a mosquito a half mile to get the marrow out of his shin bones.

A young man learning to play the flute is like a spelling match—productive of some hard words.

The symptoms of Liver Complaint are uneasiness and pain in the side. Sometimes the pain is in the shoulder, and is mistaken for rheumatism. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, bowels in general constive, and sometimes alternating with lax. The head is troubled with pain, and dull, heavy sensation, considerable loss of memory, accompanied with painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. Often complaining of weakness, debility and low spirits. Sometimes many of the above symptoms attend the disease, and at other times, very few of them; but the Liver is generally the organ most involved.
