CHICKEN CHOLERA.—A correspondent of a Virginia paper furnishes the following:

This disease, now so prevalent throughout this section of country, suggest many anxious inquiries as to its cause and treatment. We tender our information, not as mere hearsay, but from practical experiments made upon a number of affected fowls, from its incipency to its termination, and in every instance have the same cause presented themselves. We found in the crop and intestines of every bird examined several blades of grass, of a characteristic sporadic in its growth, with full evidence of congestion, abundant secretion of acrid mucus and an accumulation of offensive gases, particularly when the grass was present. And knowing that spring vegetation possesses laxative properties and very frequently drastic purgative effects, we concluded that a reasonable diagnosis had been reached and a clue to the real cause of chicken cholera had been determined. But presuming that we had mistaken the real source of the disease, the treatment adopted has in a very great measure convinced us that our opinion must be correct, as nearly all of the subsequent cases rapidly recovered by the following treatment: Prepared chalk and powdered charcoal equal parts, powdered gum camphor and assafoetida equal parts and pure carbolic acid. Mix all together and give one tea-spoon-ful morning and night to ten chickens, keeping them dry and warm and moderately well fed. We find this preparation to act as a thorough preventive and should be given about once or twice each week.

Ishlaroo Eberling, the adopted daughter of Esquimaux Joe and Hannah Eberling, died at Gorton, Conn., recently, aged nine years. Capt. Hall, the Arctic explorer, bought her of her parents when she was an infant, giving a snow sledge for her. She was on the ice with Tyson and his party 196 days, having experience which has probably never fallen to another of her years.

Interest Allowed. THE Mechanics and Farmers' Building and Loan Association, of Richland, is now receiving deposits of $1.00 and upwards, and allowing interest at the rate of 6 per cent. per annum on all amounts over $10.00, which remain 30 days or longer. Deposits received by T. H. Gibbes, Treasurer, at the Central National Bank, R. D. SENN, April 22, President.

The symptoms of Liver Complaint are uneasiness and pain in the side. Sometimes the pain is in the shoulder, and is mistaken for rheumatism. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, bowels in general costive, and sometimes alternating with lax. The head is troubled with pain, and dull, heavy sensation, considerable loss of memory, accompanied with painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. Often complaining of weakness, debility and low spirits. Sometimes many of the above symptoms attend the disease, and at other times, very few of them; but the Liver is generally the organ most involved.
