

"Let our Just Censures

Attend the True Event."

BY JULIAN A. SELBY.

COLUMBIA, S. C., SUNDAY MORNING, MAY 16, 1875.

VOLUME XI—NUMBER 48.

STAY WHERE YOU ARE.—One of the greatest drawbacks to Southern prosperity is the restive, roving and unsettled spirit of the people; each one imagines that there is an El Dorado somewhere, or that some section is more prosperous than his own, and there he may accomplish almost anything. The idea unsettles him, and if he does not "pull up" and migrate at once, he is forever thinking about it, and neglects to improve his present home and farm. This delusion has been wide spread since the war, and much individual disaster has been the result. The curse of Reuben seems to rest upon the people. That terrible "Texas fever," which so raged a few years ago, caused untold family misfortune, and ruined many excellent farms and farmers. It is a great mistake. Contentment is the great secret of life. Old Horace struck the right key when he said: "Happiness depends not upon place nor climate, but upon the state of one's mind." "Rolling stones gather no moss," and the experiment of selling out and moving, in the hope of bettering the condition, often ends in bitter disappointment and irretrievable loss. Thousands in the South can testify, from experience, to the truth of this assertion. Better stay where you are. If you are in a good community, and your lands have bottom, drive down your pegs and locate. Remember that "there's more in the man than the land," as old Jones said on returning from Texas, after terrible failures, to the old worn-out homestead he had sold, and found it blooming like a garden. Right up the old dwellings, renew the out buildings, palings, fences, and barns; spend a few dollars in white paint, and give the premises an air of cheerfulness. Cultivate less ground and make it richer every year. Make plenty to eat, and some to sell, and let your cotton crop be clear profit. Plant fruit trees, have your rye, oats, barley, wheat and clover patches, fine horses, fat cows, and rich butter. Give your wives and daughters flower gardens, and assist them in collecting a good assortment of roots and cuttings. Do these simple things, and our word for it, your homes will take new hold upon your affections, and instead of the rickety, dilapidated establishments and solemn, hungry looking countenances so common in our country, we will find comfortable and inviting homes, where all is love, contentment, and happiness. It will be like a colchian enchantress, infusing new juices into the veins for the prolongation of life and youth. Turn over a new leaf and begin anew. Fear God, love your neighbors, your wives and children, and don't try to get rich in one year. Teach your little ones to love their homes. There is a world of melody and sentiment in that immortal old ballad,

"Mid pleasures and palaces, wh'er we may roam, Be it ever so humble, there's no place like home."

General Grant and the supporters of the Force Bill will please take notice that the "second rebellion" has commenced in dead earnest, and that they may proceed to spread the war paint and sharpen the scalping-knife as speedily as possible. That unhung traitor Jefferson Davis sounded the keynote of the new war in Houston, Texas, Friday, when he entreated the Texas veterans of the Mexican war "to be as loyal now to the stars and stripes as they were zealous and brave in defence of their first flag." Will some one have the goodness to lead out by the ear, for the contemplation of an admiring nation, those eminent war statesmen and apostles of strife, Generals Logan and Butler?

A correspondent of a San Francisco paper informs the world that Shaghnasty James, once an active assistant to the late unlamented Captain John, is an Irishman by descent. The name originally was O'Shaughnessy.

The symptoms of Liver Complaint are uneasiness and pain in the side. Sometimes the pain is in the shoulder, and is mistaken for rheumatism. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, bowels in general constive, and sometimes alternating with lax. The head is troubled with pain, and dull, heavy sensation, considerable loss of memory, accompanied with painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. Often complaining of weakness, debility and low spirits. Sometimes many of the above symptoms attend the disease, and at other times, very few of them; but the Liver is generally the organ most involved.
