

"Let our Just Censures"

Attend the True Event."

BY JULIAN A. SELBY.

COLUMBIA, S. C., SATURDAY MORNING, JUNE 12, 1875.

VOLUME XI—NUMBER 70

A lawyer of Louisville, a few days ago, found that a book full of valuable promissory notes, which had been stowed away for some years, had been so gnawed by rats, that the signatures had all been destroyed, while the remaining parts remained uninjured.

In the Court of Probate in London there has been tried a case in which two elderly maiden sisters made wills in each other's favor, but by some error one signed the will of the other, and vice versa. One of these wills was in dispute, and the court declined to grant probate.

It is proposed to spend some $11,000,000 to bring drinking water from the Calaveras River to San Francisco, and the tax-payers, in view of the present cheapness of whiskey and native wines, naturally complain of the unnecessary waste of money.

A woman in Manhattan, Kansas, wished to plaster a room, but she could buy only the lime and sand. Then she shared her dog to get the hair, put the plaster on herself, and papered the walls. That's the way grit wins in Kansas.

It is 1,000 years this year since the first naval victory of the English was gained by Alfred over the Danes.

The symptoms of Liver Complaint are uneasiness and pain in the side. Sometimes the pain is in the shoulder, and is mistaken for rheumatism. The stomach is affected with loss of appetite and sickness, bowels in general constive, and sometimes alternating with lax. The head is troubled with pain, and dull, heavy sensation, considerable loss of memory, accompanied with painful sensation of having left undone something which ought to have been done. Often complaining of weakness, debility and low spirits. Sometimes many of the above symptoms attend the disease, and at other times, very few of them; but the Liver is generally the organ most involved.
