ATTEMPTED SUICIDE .- We have heard, but few have any conception of. No matter if the cannot say how reliable the information, that courts have declared the Gift enterprises to be an elderly gentleman, living a few miles be'ow lotteries; no matter if they are demoralizing Greenville, well known to our citizens by the to the community; the hope of getting that name of Cain Wells, attempted his own life by shooting himself on Sunday last. It seems watches," outweighs all the teachings of mo that he did not quite succeed, but it is sup posed that it will be impossible for him to live, get, by a lucky chance, some prize, is irresistias much of his brain was shot away. The canses of this unfortunate suicide we have not sufficiently learned to positively state, but this much we would repeat of what we have heard : On Wednesday or Thursday, of last week, he promised himself that unless it should rain upon his crops by Saturday he would kill himself, and it not having rained, it appears that he endeavored to put his awful threat into execution. We sincerely trust that this report is untrue, but if it be, it should prove a dreadful warning never to tempt the Almighty in the dispensations of his Providence. Greenville Enterprise.

A DANGEROUS FEAT .- Some time since the point of the lightning rod on the steeple of the First Congregational Church in New London, such a dangerous piece of work to replace it that the committee were anwilling to employ any one to perform the task. A Mr. De Wolf, however, volunteered to make the attempt which the committee permitted aften some hesitation, having promised him a handsome sum if he succeeded He did succeed, accomplishing the task without any apparent con sciousness of having done any thing extraor dinary. The New London Chronicle says the bly trust to see "the powers that be" point to which he ascended is very near two hundred feet, and for the last fifty feet he had to the American people on easier and ... to climb up a stone surface, with nothing to terms. This will do us more good than the hold on to but a small iron rod; and when he Nebraska legislation or Pacific Rail ords, reached the ball he was still some dozen feet from the end of his journey. This distance he had to shin up a single rod, a labor which In found so fatiguing that he became exhausted, drink the most liquor, nor those who turn for and was obliged to return and seat himself on most powder, nor those who get up the g c his the ball and recover breath. This he soon did, and fearlessly resumed his travels towards the parently of opinion that patriotism, would be · loud-, where he accomplished his object, and came down as we have already stated.

MISSISSIPPI .- The Aberdeen Conservative says independence," in the same category ; which that flour is selling in that town at $600 per hundred pounds-groceries of every description ore very scarce and very high, causing morality is indispensable. Our fathers, we many of the poorer families in the community fought and chied for the freedom we expo many of the poorer families in the community to suffer for the want of them. This state of things, we presume is owing to the early closing We presume they would have said that he of navigation on the Bighee." The Conservative is justly indignant at a fact which it states, that during the late temporary rise in the river, we say, - People & Organ the steamer Champion which was able, came to their landing, with a light freight, brought 300 barrels of whiskey and six barrels of flour.

ESCAPED .-. The accomplished scoundrel whose arest and lodgment in the jail at this place. we announced a week or two ago, broke jain and made off on Monday night last, ming a thunder shower which came up between midight and day. This feat was accomplished by

"house and lot," or even one of those "gold rality and conscience. The greedy desire to ble; and cunning gamblers, who play with these silly minnows, as they feel the nibble at their bait, laugh in their sleeves at the folly of their victims. People's Organ.

Hox. Journ McQUEEN.- We clip the fol-towing from the Marion Star :

" The greater part of our readers will, we have no doubt, he pleased to see in to-day's paper the formal announcement of Gen. McQueen as a candidate for re election to Congress. To his own constituents his services have been so ably, faithfully and successfully rendered, as to merit and secure their confidence. In fact none of his predecessors have done as much. We may instance the passage of the bill granting time to the Wilmington and Manchester Railroad to pay the duties on the iron imported for laying the road, the con-• tract for the payment of it in mail service; thus securing the transmission of the great northern mail on this route, which measure owed its success mainly to the exertions of tive to the Legislature at the ensuing her in Gen. McQueen, the number of new postroutes and post offices he has been successful in establishing throughout the Congressional dis trict, thus accommodating a large number of his constituents with greater mail facilities. -To add to these the estimable qualities of Gen. McQueen, as a high toned gentleman, and his business capacity, have earned for him a high reputation, both at Washington and throughout the State. A reputation founded on so solid a basis, which is capable of making General McQueen generally useful to the ted by his own immediate constituents."

THE GIFT SWINDLES .- We have been look ing to see what would be the effect of the judicial decision against the Gift Humbugs on the authors and abettors of these lottery pro jects, and we are not surprised to find that the brazen effrontery which first projected these swindles, is not all abashed, or discouraged, or alarmed. They flaunt their flaming promises in the face of a credulous public as confidently as ever, and the sale of tickets goes on as ac tively as before. These fellows understand the public, and give them the credit they deserve for unbounded guilfbility; and while they pocket the dollars poured into their treasury, are getting ready to withdraw from the operation under the plea that they dare not violate the law against lotteries, or some other equally transparent get off.

The people do love to be swindled ! There is no use in trying to open their eyes; they mean to go through with it. Hundreds of these Gift Schemes are receiving patronage in various parts of the country to an extent that
