THO. J. WARREN, Editor.

Death of Dr. John McCaa, Sr.

We announce with regret the death of Dr. JOHN McCaa, Sr., which occurred on Sunday last, at his residence in Kirkwood, after a painful illness of several months. Dr. McCaa, had been a regular practitioner for the last forty-three years, having a large and extensive practice in town and country.

His illness was protracted and painful, but he bore it with patience and resignation, and died with the Christians hope in the faith and communion of the Episcopal Church.

He was in the 67th year of his age. His funeral took place yesterday morning at the Episcopal Church. A very large procession of friends and relatives followed his remains to their resting place.

Colonel of the 23d Regiment.

We learn from the Columbia papers that Lt. Col. S. LORING, was elected on Saturday last Colonel of the 23d Regiment—the Col. WILLIAM WALLACE elected Brigadier General.

Peace Concluded.

Every man with a human heart must rejoice at the prospect of peace between the conflicting elements in Europe. We learn this gratifying news from the daily Southern Guardian of yesterday, which reached us by the morning mail in advance of the Charleston papers.

Camp Meeting at Smyrna.

We have been requested to state that a Camp Meeting will commence at Smyrna Church in this District, on Friday evening next, embracing the last Sabbath in the month.

An Afflicted Brother.

We deeply regret the painful affliction which has recently befallen our friend and brother, E. H. BURROWS, of Charlotte, N. C. in the loss of his excellent wife. It seems to us that of all bereavements, such a loss must be the severest. He has our warmest sympathies in this painful visitation.

The Partington on the War.

"Ike" says he doesn't see the use of people in America making such a noisy noise about fairs and fetichers on the 4th. What odds to us if the Austrians do eat all the Sardinians? Who cares? Whoopee! Hyghra for the Star Bawled Spanner!—E. Thurbus Erit! Uam G Co Brough!

Pendleton Messenger.

We are gratified to see that the Pendleton Messenger is soon to be again revived. The Kennee Courier says: "Whatever inures to the benefit of this revered old village or its hospitable citizens, meets with our cordial approval. It is with pleasure, therefore, that we learn that the publication of a paper with the above title is to be commenced at this place at an early day. It will be of ample size, and a credit to the typographical art of the country."

Two Hours in Fairy Land.

We have been requested to state that Miss RAYMONA designs visiting Camden shortly, and will give one entertainment of "Two Hours in Fairy Land," or Mirth, Marvel and Miracles.

Our exchanges in Charleston and Columbia speak highly of her entertainments, as being intellectual, chaste, and amusing.

We have received from Messrs. J. B. LIPPINCOTT & Co., a copy of a Book, Forty-four Years of the Life of a Hunter, being reminiscences of MERRIAM BROWNING, a Maryland Hunter, roughly written down by himself, and revised and illustrated by C. STABLEY. For sale by J. A. YOUNG, Camden, S. C.

State Taxes of Kershaw District.

We are under obligations to Rev. THOMAS FREEN for the following statement, which shows a gratifying increase in the value of property for the past ten years in our district. This shows what Rail Roads can and will do.

To the Editor of the Camden Journal:— SIR:—With a view of furnishing evidence of the vast advantages derived from our Rail Road communications, I have imposed upon myself the pleasing duty of making out a tabular statement of the Tax Returns of the different districts of the Upper Division, for each decade of the last thirty years. These will fully demonstrate how much we are indebted to our Rail Roads for the universal improvements that everywhere needs our eyes.

EXTRACTS FROM THE TAX RETURNS OF KERSHAW DISTRICT FOR THE FOLLOWING YEARS, VIZ:

THOMAS FREEN, Deputy Treasurer. Treasury Office, Columbia, July 21, 1859.

Sunday School Pic Nic.

On Thursday afternoon last we attended a delightful gathering of the young folks of the Methodist Sunday School, at the Old DeKalb Factory. The afternoon was pleasant, and the occasion more than ordinarily interesting.

Exercises commenced with prayer by Rev. R. J. BOYD, followed by an appropriate ode, sung by the School,—"This Anniversary Day." The opening Address was handsomely delivered by Master JACOB DEPASS, who acquitted himself with considerable credit for one of his years.

Another ode—"Kind Words Can Never Die"—was sung charmingly by the children, at the conclusion of which Rev. T. E. WANAMAKER addressed the School in a most pleasing and appropriate manner, suited entirely to the comprehension and appreciation of their young and tender minds. He didn't "put the hay too high in the rack," as we heard a gentleman recently remark to another, who had tried to make a Sunday School Address to the children. All understood and appreciated what he said.

"Kind words can never die, Cherished and blest, God knows how deep they lie Stored in the breast."

The third ode—"We Love to Sing Together,"—was sung, followed by a sweet little Address from CARIE CAPERS, whose pronunciation was clear and distinct.

Our little orator, Master EDWIN CAPERS, was placed upon a chair, and made the closing Address, much to the delight and admiration of the School and larger guests.

"A Happy Greeting to All" was sung, and the company adjourned to the tables, which were filled with all sorts of good things.

Everything passed off delightfully, and to the ladies and gentlemen having the arrangements of the occasion in charge, are we indebted for a profitable and pleasant afternoon's entertainment.

Messrs. Allen & Dial.

We take much pleasure in asking the attention of our readers to the cards of these gentlemen in our paper to-day. We know them personally, and we know that all who wish articles in that line would do well to give them a call, as they have facilities for business which gives them decided advantages in selling goods at reasonable rates.

Hartwell Messenger.

We have received a number of this paper, recently established at Hartwell, Ga., by Mr. EDWARD SYMMES, late of the Pendleton Messenger, which paper he removed, as announced in his salutatory, to Hartwell, where the present Messenger is issued. It is a good paper, and we see that Col. WARREN D. WILKES continues as Associate Editor. With two capital Editors, such as Messrs. SYMMES & WILKES, the paper must succeed and prove highly interesting.

More Improvements.

We are gratified to learn that Dr. YOUNG has purchased the lot and buildings at present used by the Town Council as a Guard-house &c., on Broad-street, two doors below Rutledge, where he intends shortly to erect a commodious fire proof brick store, with iron front and modern improvements, for his own use. It will be when finished a handsome contribution to the general improvement of Camden. We should like to see several more of the same kind taking the places of the little wooden shanties along on Broad street.

The Catawba Journal.

We have received a number of this beautifully printed and well conducted weekly, published by Messrs. H. L. ALEXANDER & Co., of the Bellin office, Charlotte, N. C., and edited by Messrs. E. H. BURROWS & J. L. ALEXANDER.

It is an honor to the typographical art of the country, being one of the handsomest, best arranged and most interesting papers that we have seen. We make no exception, and would consider that we had reached the acme of our weekly productions, could we produce in typographical arrangements and appearance just such a paper. Friend BURROWS knows exactly how to do such things, and if he will only stick to this, we doubt not his friends and patrons will stick to him.

A Useful Book.

We have received from Mrs. ENCKEWORTH a copy of the Southern Gardener and Receipt Book, containing valuable information, original and otherwise, on all subjects connected with domestic and moral affairs, Gardening, Cookery, Beverages, Dairy, Medical, Veterinary and Miscellaneous. This is the third edition of a work originally published by the late Mr. P. THORNTON, of Camden, and to which is added many original receipts as well as some that have been carefully selected.

The volume is properly dedicated to Mrs. ELIZABETH THORNTON, of our town, as a mark of esteem for her exertions in all the relations of life.

We have the Book for sale at this office. Price $1.25. It is gotten up and published by Messrs. J. B. LIPPINCOTT & Co., of Philadelphia.

Glen Anna Seminary.

We take pleasure in asking attention to the notice of this excellent and flourishing Female Institution, situated in a delightful and healthy region of our sister State, on the North Carolina Rail Road, within two or three hours ride of Charlotte, and easily reached from this section of country by Rail Road. Its healthy location, moderate rate of board, (only six dollars per month,) competent corps of Teachers, (all ladies, qualified and carefully trained,) render it peculiarly desirable, as an

As we near the pleasure recently of meeting in Columbia, the excellent President of the Board of Trustees, Dr. THOMAS ESQ., from whom we learned many interesting facts in relation to this Seminary, and which we shall take pleasure in communicating to those who may wish to know more of its history, circumstances &c. The fall session of twenty-one weeks will open on the last Wednesday in the present month. A catalogue of the officers, students, course of Instruction, Rules Regulations, &c. May be obtained at this office.

Meeting of the Bible Society.

According to previous notice, a meeting of the Camden and Kershaw Bible Society was held at the Methodist Church on Sunday afternoon last. The President JAMES K. DOUGLAS, Esq., in the chair.

Religious exercises were conducted by Rev. R. J. BOYD, A. M. KENNEDY, Esq., was appointed Secretary, in the absence of the regular Secretary, who read the circular, addressed to Pastors and congregations, by the Committee on the part of the State Bible Society, asking that collections be taken up in order to raise the five thousand dollars pledged to the American Bible Society, for supplying the foreign demand for the Bible.

W. M. SHANNON, Esq., read several interesting extracts from the Annual Report of the American Bible Society at its late meeting in New York.

Rev. T. E. WANAMAKER, and Rev. S. H. HAY, delivered short and interesting addresses, which were followed by a few remarks from Mr. A. M. KENNEDY.

A collection was taken up in pursuance of the suggestion of the State Committee. The following gentlemen were appointed delegates to the State Bible Convention, which meets in Yorkville, Rev. R. J. BOYD, Rev. S. H. HAY, Rev. J. K. MENDENHALL, Rev. T. E. WANAMAKER, Messrs. W. M. SHANNON, A. M. KENNEDY, W. M. ANDERSON, and J. B. KERSHAW.

Home Production and Testimony.

Our esteemed friend, Dr. DENNIS, at Augusta, is too modest to do his own puffing, and were he to understand, or practice humbugging altitude more, some of our Southern friends who are used to it, would like him better, and buy his excellent medicines more freely.

Below we publish an article from the Edgewood Advertiser, entirely upon our own motion, without intimation from Dr. DENNIS, and the public may rest assured that there is nothing bogus in this "first rate notice."

"There is not perhaps in all the length and breadth of our advertising columns, a card, or a notice to the public, more deserving of attention, than the publications, by Dr. DENNIS, of his various medical preparations. If we are correctly informed, the regular medical practitioners of the country sanction and to some extent adopt a portion if not all of these preparations. They are known to be skillfully compounded of vegetable essences of great worth, and so compounded as to prevent deleterious influences altogether if the Directions are properly observed. Of course then we have heard individuals talk from experience in the strongest terms of approbation. Two or three in this very office are ready to do so at any moment. His Sarsaparilla Mixtures, his Anti-Spasmodic Preparation, and his Stimulating Bitters, we have heard spoken of in the highest terms. Dr. DENNIS is a neighbor, and well-known in Georgia as a conscientious man who studies and understands his business. You may see him and know for yourself by going to Augusta when he is there."

It is a delicate matter for one unlearned in the medical science to recommend medicines. But we will venture to say that on the list of Dr. DENNIS' sufferers from disease may find the means of speedy relief. Yet this also we would say: Take them under the advice of your physician."

The Bible Society of Sumter, as we learn from the Watchman, have appointed the following delegates to the Bible Convention at Yorkville on the 2d prox.

W. E. DICK, W. F. B. HAYNSWORTH, J. S. RICHARDSON, JR., G. S. D. DESCHAMPS, J. D. BLANDING, J. N. CORBETT, H. L. P. DUBOIS, J. H. WINGLE, A. A. GIBSON.

The True Doctrine.

We find in the Charleston Mercury an article from the Richmond Whig, upon the state of parties in Virginia, contesting claims for the next Presidential nomination, in which Messrs. HENRY A. WISE, and R. M. T. HUNTER, are prominently presented.

From that article we select the following extract, which, in our opinion, contains in a nutshell, the true doctrine and position which the South should hold and maintain in reference to what some, who oppose protection, are pleased to term "a slavery code." Certainly we of the South should not be willing to receive less than such acknowledgment of our constitutional rights.

Short of this, in our opinion, involves a dishonorable and contemptible acquiescence in the right of an unscrupulous majority to rule, to our detriment and ruin. Senator SULLIVAN, in the Senate several years ago, in answer to Mr. CLAY'S interrogatory, "What does the gentleman warrant?" replied "Protection, Sir, Protection!" The South must have protection—nothing less will do; she cannot, she must not, submit to less than "just and equal protection." But to the extract:—

"We believe that Congress is constitutionally bound to afford just and equal protection to all sorts and descriptions of property in the territories, slave property necessarily included. If the territorial authorities refuse to grant such protection, it is the duty of Congress to 'intervene' promptly and effectually, and see that no man's rights of property, in the territories of the Union, shall suffer any detriment in any respect, either by studied neglect or by 'unfriendly legislation' on the part of the territorial authorities, who are only the agents and subordinates of the Federal Government."

A STIFF BLOW.—On Thursday afternoon, we had quite a stiff blow. Followed by a heavy and copious shower. The God Eolus appeared much incensed, perhaps at the exceedingly low water. At any rate, his windsily majesty scattered a great deal of rain, and light rain generally. Not satisfied with this, he tried his breath on Dr. Clarke's new house, and succeeded in capsizing a chimney, and tearing off a portion of the roofing.

The rain was most seasonable, but we regret to say was not general. We heard from several places, but a few miles north and northwest of our town, at which scarcely a drop fell. From the appearance and drift of the clouds, we are led to hope that the southern and eastern parts of the district were well watered. Each day of this dry weather diminishes materially the yield of corn.

P. S. Since writing the above, we learned from a friend that Ridgeway and its neighborhood, were visited with fine rains; this confirms our supposition. Winchester Register.

A MAN "MELTED" TO DEATH.—James Doyle, a blacksmith by trade, died in Chicago last Friday, under the following circumstances as detailed in the Times of that city:

He was an extremely athletic person in appearance, and was considered by his fellow workmen as possessing a remarkable degree of strength and bodily vigor. On Thursday he worked in the shop as usual until 6 o'clock, when he went to supper in good health as usual. After supper he complained of extreme heat, and continued to complain until 12 o'clock, when he went to bed. At three o'clock the morning his room mate awoke and found him breathing his last. A post mortem examination revealed no unusual appearance of the body, except a remarkable and unusual quantity of adipose matter. By the work and the heat of the day he was literally melted down. The coroner's jury found this to be the cause of his death.

FIRE AND ROBBERY.—A miserably living in the neighborhood of Barker's Mills informs us that the storehouse of Mr. JOHN PLATT, of this District, was robbed on the 1st of the present month, and then set fire to, and that the entire contents, including some $1000 worth of goods, and his books, notes, &c., amounting to $1500 were consumed. It was the work of an incendiary, and the loss falls heavily on Mr. PLATT, as there was not a dollar's worth of the property insured.—Barnwell Sentinel.

REVOLUTIONARY HISTORY.—We learn that Dr. J. H. Logan has in press the first part from the early of the upper portion of the Revolution in 1776. The history will present a number of interesting things and events in the history of the upper country, from primitive times to the commencement of the Cherokee war of 1760, embracing a field of much interest, and in great part unexplored by previous writers of Carolina history.—Abeville Banner.

SAD DEATH.—Mr. John Charles, of South Carolina, died in jail, suddenly in this city on Tuesday last, by taking a dose of morphia in mistake for quinine. It is said he lived about three hours after taking the fatal poison.—Montgomery Confederation.

RIGHTS OF NATURALIZED CITIZENS.—As much misconception prevails with regard to the views of government relative to the rights of naturalized citizens, the Secretary of State has transmitted a dispatch to the Minister of the United States at Berlin, in the case of a naturalized citizen of the United States, a native of Hanover, who was neither in actual service in the Hanoverian army, nor had been drafted to serve in it when he emigrated, but who was compelled upon his return to Hanover to do military duty. Gen. Cass, by direction of the President, has demanded the release of this man from the Hanoverian government.

In this dispatch the doctrine of perpetual allegiance is denied, and the right of expatriation recognized. The Constitution of the United States, it is affirmed, by conferring on Congress the power "to establish a uniform rule of naturalization," gives recognition to this right, and Congress has, in conformity thereto, exercised the power. The distinction is repeated and enforced in the dispatch between a present and future liability to serve in the army of his native country by the subject of a foreign State, the former being denied and the latter admitted. Charleston News.

DEATH OF COL. Z. P. HERNDON.—The remains of this gentleman, who died at Glenn Springs on Tuesday morning, were brought to this city yesterday afternoon. He had removed to Columbia last spring. Col. Herndon entered political life about the year 1830, and identified himself with the Nullification party, and in that year was chosen a delegate to the anti-Tariff Convention, and at the State election of 1832, was returned a member of the House of Representatives. He has served his District (Union) in the Legislature for three or four times, being last elected in 1844, since which time he declined to be a candidate. In 1846 he was a candidate for Congress, and although he headed the ticket in his own District, he was defeated in the Congressional District.

For many years he has stood at the head of the Bar in his District, and been quite successful in his profession. In every position and in every relation of life, Col. Herndon was an acceptable and useful citizen. He leaves a family—wife and five children—to mourn his loss. Columbia Guardian.

THE WEATHER.—Yesterday was another hot day the thermometer in some instances rising to 102 degrees. About 7 o'clock in the evening we had quite a gust accompanied by a smart shower which tended to cool the atmosphere and give us promise of a comfortable night sleeping, which few have enjoyed for the last two nights. The blow did considerable damage to the awnings in Main street, leaving few standing. Several trees were also blown down.—Guardian.

Latest from Europe.

PEACE CONCLUDED!

The steamship North Britain has arrived, with Liverpool dates to the 13th inst.

Sales of cotton for three days 32,960 bales; prices firm. Breadstuffs dull. Provisions declining. Consols quoted at 96. Money market unchanged. SPANISH DISPATCH.

All qualities had slightly advanced. Richardson, Spruce & Co., say that the weather is favorable for crops. Flour dull. Wheat dull. Corn dull and unchanged. Pork heavy. Bacon dull, sales unimportant. Lard dull, but steady. Rosin steady. Sugar firm. Rice quiet. Turpentine dull at 28s.

Cyrus Field came passenger, having accomplished the object of his visit. The Monitor explains the circumstances attending the armistice, and says that the great neutral powers had exchanged communications with the belligerents, offering mediation, but were unsuccessful, until the French fleet were about to commence hostilities against Napoleon, anxious to prevent further bloodshed, ascertained the disposition of the Emperor of Austria, and finding him willing, an armistice was agreed upon. After the armistice the two Emperors had an interview at Villa Franca.

The news by this arrival is most important. Peace has been concluded. There is to be an Italian Confederation, under the honorary Presidency of the Pope. Austria concedes Lombardy to France, and Napoleon gives it to Sardinia, while Austria reserves Venice. The steamer left before the effect of this news had time to be developed.

The Anglo Saxon arrived out on the 11th. Of the sales of cotton, speculators took 4000, and exporters 3000 bales. The advance reported by the Africa was fully maintained. Manchester advices favorable, and market buoyant. Southern Guardian.

A DULL DAY AT MOBILE.—The Mobile Advertiser of the 13th says: Not a single bale of cotton arrived down the Mobile and Ohio Railroad yesterday, and not a single steamer arrived from either of our rivers. Neither was there a single arrival of any kind of a craft from sea.

SPARTANBURG.—We understand that the crops in portions of our district are doing badly, but we yet hope for an average. The intensely hot weather of the past week has rendered a good deal of sickness, but perhaps not more than usual during the heat of summer. Spartan.

OBITUARY.

DIED, at his residence in Kirkwood, on Sunday, July 27, Dr. JOHN MCCAA, Sr., in the 67th year of his age.

He commenced the practice of medicine in Camden 1816. Warm and quick in his affections, and combining many pleasing and endearing social qualities, he, through life, attached to himself the strong affections of a large circle of friends. His unusually long and varied experience as a physician, united with a fine judgment and an admirable tact in the management, especially of delicate, complicated and chronic cases of disease, justly caused the most absolute and devoted reliance to be placed in his professional skill by those who, for a length of time, had availed themselves of his services. In the true spirit of his calling, he was ever willing to sacrifice himself for the good of his patients. Those in whose families he has passed sleepless nights, and anxious, watchful, weary days, (yet never apparently weary to him,) will remember him with the love and gratitude which he has merited from them, and will deeply and bitterly mourn his loss. He had, at certain periods during life, been brought under the influence of strong religious feeling, but it was reserved for his death-bed to finish this great spiritual work. Suffering for nearly six months from the repeated, intermitting attacks of a disease, in which mortals know none more painful, he was indeed "chosen in the furnace of affliction." From the first he never murmured, but confessed God's righteousness, his own unworthiness, and his desert of chastisement. He was engaged much in prayer during his illness, and seemed ever glad to have it pronounced upon him by others. He departed at last triumphantly, and happily. He was buried on Monday, July 28, at 10 o'clock, in the presence of a large and respectable congregation of the Church, and in an humble but steadfast and most comforting hope of pardon and salvation through an atoning Redeemer.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

SANDS' SARSAPARILLA.—This old standard medicine the original and genuine article continues to be the popular remedy for purifying the blood, for the cure of scrofula and all ulcers and eruptive diseases. Its wonderfully purifying and curative powers have been evidenced to the delight of those who have used it in the most distressing cases of scrofula of the worst kind. Be careful to ask for Sands' Sarsaparilla, and take no other, you will find it fully merits the enviable reputation it has acquired. Prepared and sold by A. B. & D.
