AN OPEN LETTER.

To those contemplating their purchases in the next few weeks, of clothing, shoes, hats, under-wear, shirts, collars, cravats eto., etc., Greeting: No doubt you are this moment considering the change in the weather. The cool nights and pleasant days indicate a change of gar-ments as well. It is now getting time for the fall dress suits to appear, as well as the new styles in hats cravats, and other articles looking to mens' and boys' outfits.

"Inye Ancient Times"

the better grades of clothing were made by hand, to order, and were very costly. "Trashy stuff' only was ready made; but now, what a change! We can fit you off in the finest textures, give you the most perfect fits and furnish you the latest styles in ready made garments which will surpass those made to order, and at very much lower pri-

Our success in handling the better grades of goods has been very marked, and to-day we have to offer a larger stock and greater variety than ever. The market has been ransacked for the best, and at the lowest prices in accordance with the grade. It is a stock which when seen will be appreciated.

It comprises all grades and especially strong in that class from which we can supply the sedate, good common sense people who want not display but excellent fitting, well made sensible raiment, and have a moderate amount of cash to expend therefor.

It bristles with such styles as will suit the gentry who desire to be up with the fashion and are willing to pay a proportionate price to value. It has a pleutiful sprinkling too of the cheapest grades, to suit those who have a small—yes, a very very small—amount with which to clothe themselves from the "cold chilly winds." It is a stock of which we are proud. It is a stock that will sell.

Mr. F. E. Mathis is having a cottage built on Lyttleton street, between Dekalb and Rutledge streets.

Mrs. V. S. Jordan has purchased a portion of the Corolle lot, on Broad street.

We hope to see each and all of you in our store, and we feel satisfied of our ability to please. Very Respectfully.

Some of our brethren of the press have recently been violating the postal laws, by enclosing in their papers alleged sup-plements or "extras." We think they do this under a misapprehension as to the terms of the law.

Religious Matters.

The synod of South Carolina will meet in the Presbyterian church at Chester on the 21st inst. Among the interesting matters will be the observance of Sunday, the 24th., of the centennial of Presbyterianism in this State, and the consideration of the Woodrow case. There were two accessions to the Presbyterian church in Camden last The State Baptist Convention will Thursday before the third

Cotton in Camden.

The sales of cotton in Camden thus far The sales of cotton in Cambell thus far this season have been much more than could possibly have been expected. Farmers from Sumter, Darlington, Chesterfield, Lancaster and Fairfield, who have not for the last four or five years brought cotton to this market, have frequently been seen on our streets. The truth of been seen on our streets. The troth of the whole thing is this: (amden is the best cotton market in the State, outside of Charleston, (and really is better than Charleston) and the farmers are begining to realize this fact, and bringing their cotton to Camden because they can get more money for it. That's the rea-son. Good middlings, today are worth 9 cents in Camden.
