

ropes-walk was 600 paces long, and was considered equal to any thing which England or France possess of this kind. The confuſion was so violent that the Isk of L. on which is separated from the Caracca by a large basin, was covered with flames.

In a few days the hay harvest will be over, and the fitness of the weather has produced every where a manifest improvement in the growing crops of all sorts; so that we have the prospect before us of an abundant harvest. Similar accounts arrive from France and from the continent generally.

Extrait of a letter from the Agents to Lloyd's at Buenos Ayres dated 25th March.

The Patriot ship (hacabuco and schr. San Martin (late American vessels, Clifton and Davie) are all ready for sea, and will sail in a few days on a cruise. The former mounts thirty four guns and 250 men, and the latter 18 guns and 150 men. It is said they are to proceed round the Cape, but we rather suspect their cruising ground will be off Cape St. Vincent. The San Martin is considered the latest sailing vessel of the U. States. The brig Saviour of 18 guns, which arrived here on the 18th inst. from Baltimore, is another of the squadron from America, and as she is nearly loaded with military stores, it is likely she will proceed to Valparaiso. The Conqueror and Independence have not yet sailed. A number of commissions for officers have lately been issued by the government, and forwarded by individuals to the U. States.

Letters received this morning from Bahia mention that a British ship laden with gun powder was captured off Pernambuco by the Portuguese squadron.

17th June 23r
His Excellency the Minister of Police has been very seriously indisposed, and an inflammation of the chest was apprehended. His Excellency however, is much better, and out of all danger.

Grain continues to fall in all the markets, and the rice harvest is begun.

An article from Nuremberg of the 30th inst. says the Duke of Saxe-Coburg, in consequence of going to London, will proceed direct to Madrid. The Earl of Aberdeen will succeed Lord Colchester at Petersburg.

A Mail from Brussels arrived this morning. It is reported in that City, and from experiences in the North, that in every other part, a decline in price. The weather is delightful, and the harvest promises to be abundant.

Brussels, June 20
By order of His Majesty King, the higher of this City was ordered to be put on active service; already at five o'clock this morning the select company of cavalry commenced active duty, and at noon the militia. The other companies. The guard are going to be organized.

The markets of to-day have fully confirmed the hopes of the public; they were abundantly supplied and the most perfect order was the result of the measures taken for this purpose. In the Corn Market Government had 1600 half hectolures of corn placed, the wheat was sold at 11 florins, and the rye at 8 florins.

June 21.
The most perfect calm and tranquillity has succeeded the agitations of which our City has been the theatre since the 18th. Order is wholly restored, and the alarms which are entertained by some persons, will be gradually dispelled by the prudent measures which the government has adopted. The circumstances are imperious—and on the other hand, the expectation of corn had lessened the quantity on the other, monopolists have speculated on the public distress; but if they do not make haste to sell the corn they have in their warehouses, the heat will soon cause it to show itself, which is at hand will banish all speculative.

ARRIVAL OF MR. ADAMS.
His excellency JOHN QUINCY ADAMS, late ambassador and Minister Plenipotentiary to the Court of St. James, (and recently appointed Secretary of State of the United States) and his Lady and Family arrived here yesterday morning, all in good health, on board the ship Washington, Capt. Forman, from London, and 48 days from Cowes.

Also came passengers in the Washington, Maj. Lamb and Lady, Dr. Tillery, George A. O. Esq. Daniel P. Cook, Esq. Mr. Fearron, Mr. Shields, Mr. W. L. Curting, Mr. Romanis, and four teen in the steerage.

We are happy to learn by this arrival that the health of the Rev. Dr. Mason was greatly improved, and that it was expected he would embark for home shortly after the sailing of the Washington.

A day or two before Mr. Adams left Cowes, which was on the 15th of June, he received the following important Circular, which it will be seen opens to all nations the importation of Bread Stuffs into Great Britain.

(COPY)
Treasury Chambers, 11th June.
GENTLEMEN—I am commanded by the lords commissioners of his majesty's treasury to signify to you their lordship's authority to permit the importation of corn, grain, meal, flour and rice, in any ship and from any country, until 14th Nov. 1817, inclusive, provided the importation of grain shall, during this period, continue legal, under the provisions of the Act. 55. Geo. 3. cap. 26. And I am to desire you will immediately cause public notice to be given hereof. I am, gentlemen,
Your most obedt. serv't.
S. K. LUSHINGTON,
To the Commrs. of the Customs.

By the arrival yesterday morning of the Schr. Evening Post, in 10 days from Port-au-Prince, we learn, that on the 22d of July, the U. S. frigate Congress, Capt. Morris, arrived there with an agent on board to demand satisfaction for the injuries received from the two sable chiefs, Petion and Christophe.

The President expressed the great pleasure he felt in beholding for the first time an American frigate in his port. Unfortunately the absence of Mr. Taylor, our late Consul prevented any definitive negotiation on the subject of the frigate's visit; but the marked attention of the President in small matters sufficiently shewed the value he placed on the friendship of the United States.

The officers of government that visited the frigate were greatly pleased with her appearance.

The frigate left there on the 27th July for the Cape, with Mr. Tyler, minister, on board, to make the necessary demands government may have thought were just of Christophe.
