CAMDEN, S. C.
SATURDAY, NOV. 14, 1818.

All the heads of department are now at Washington. Congress commences its session on Monday next.

The Phil. Franklin Gazette mentions, that in the late duel between com. Perry and capt. Heath, the distance at which they fired was but three paces.

A Stockholm article of the 7th August, says—"The ratification of the treaty of commerce between this court and that of the United States, has been received."

A London paper says, several new frigates on a large scale, are now building at the several Dock Yards. The Americans have led the way in constructing ships of war of that class, which have been found to be more useful, and nearly as formidable as some ships of the line.

Inventors of Steam Boats.
Mr. Chamont a naval Engineer at Paris, has published a large work, entitled the history of the rise and progress of Steam Boats in America, England and France. In this work he tells us that Doctor Franklin when in Paris suggested the idea of Steam Boats to several of his acquaintances.

Among the citizens spoken of as a secretary of the navy, we perceive an eastern paper mentions Jonathan Russell. Placing geographical distinctions out of view, which are, at best, but obstacles to a judicious choice, the appointment of Mr. Russell, on the score of talents and industry, would be generally approved. He is a complete merchant, a good seaman, and certainly an able man.

National Advocate.
We hear that John Anderson, of Congressional memory, has ordered a suit against Thomas Duen, sergeant at arms of the House of Representatives, for having unjustly held him in confinement during the last session of Congress, in obedience to an order of the House. The county court, before which this cause will be brought, meets in December next.

Washington City Gaz.
General Gaines, his lady and suit arrived in this place last Friday evening, and set off next day for Amelia Island. It was supposed that he will fix his head quarters at Fernandina for two or three months, and that two battalions of the United States troops are on the way to join him. This would seem to indicate something; and, if conjecture might be hazarded, we would say, he will, at that post, await the decision of Congress on the Floridas, and act accordingly.

Barten Gaz., Nov. 8.
The Times.—The unusual scarcity of money at the present time, and consequent depreciation of every kind of stocks, have produced a great sensation throughout this city. With the causes which have led to this embarrassing state of things, we are entirely unacquainted. The stock of the Bank of the United States, which some months since sold for more than 50 per cent advance, is now only at 12. Many of our city stocks have fallen 5 to 10 per cent in the course of one week. The brokers advertise for the purchase of half dollars, &c. at premium, and the scarcity of the precious metals has induced the Banks to curtail their discounts.

N. Y. Columbian.
It is said that "straws indicate which way the wind blows," and the late change of tone in the British writers, as clearly shews that how much soever our country may have been contemned, her growing prospe-city and strength, in the eyes of the British writers, are not quite so depreciable. The homage paid to our "fir built frigates" is enough to gratify our proudest national feelings. The allied sovereigns of Europe were to have assembled at Aix-la-Chapelle sometime in the beginning of the present month. It is hinted, that, among other subjects to which their attention will be called, the dispute between the United States and Spain will not be the least important. We can have no objection to the members of the holy alliance freely discussing the matters in controversy between us and Spain; but further they must not go. We can manage our own affairs in our own way, without the interference of mediators.

Savannah Rep.
We learn from a gentleman who lately arrived from Pensacola, (says a Mobile paper of the 20th ult.) that captain Enyles, to whom gen. Jackson gave the command of a company of Rangers, had another brush with the Indians, and has been wounded and brought to Pensacola, although his party had the advantage of the Indians. We learn, further, that part of the troops stationed at Pensacola, had commenced their march for Apalachicola, but on the arrival of a messenger with despatches for the commander at Pensacola, they were ordered to return to that place.

Notice

To the Widows and minor Children of deceased soldiers.

The widows and minor children of soldiers that died in the service of the United States, during the late war, are informed, that the law giving them communication, or five years' half pay pension, in lieu of land, expires on the sixteenth of February next, (1819.) Those persons that are entitled to the pension, amounting to 240 dollars, that do not apply for it before that period, will probably be forever after debarred from obtaining it. This notice, which is given by an agent in one of the Northern States, in the shape of an advertisement to claimants, inviting their application to him, we publish gratuitously; reminding them, at the same time that no agency is necessary in the case. Claimants who are ignorant of the mode of transacting the business, may avail themselves of the aid of the Representatives of their respective districts, in Congress, who will take the pleasure in affording it, at the approaching session, to make the necessary application, &c. at the public offices.

Kershaw District.

Jeremiah Parish tolls before me one sorrel Mare, supposed to be about five or six years old, no visible brand, two hind feet white, with glass eyes, a blaze down her face, about twelve and a half hands high; appraised at forty dollars.
