the Union, by relying upon legal redress alone, and by waiting the returning magnanimity of a State whose early and selfsacrificing vindication of the rights of man has ert tled her to enduring venera. tion and gratitude.

I submit, also, for your information, a correspondence between the Governor of Georgia and myself, which my respected contemporary has made a subject of some comment in communications to the Legislature of that State.

For the Farmers' Gazette.

THE NECESSITY OF REFLECTION ..-The habit of exercising the mind in the reflection upon the future, as well as the past and the present, is one of the most useful that can be formed. And yet it is one in regard to which the young are extremely liable to fail. The present French people were also much gratified. with its amusements and gaieties, absorbs the greater portion of their thoughts; and when they occasionally glance at the future, it is, too often, to dress it in the the bright attire of the imagination, in the blooming garland of life's sweetest pleasures. When the ship approaches a | Syn. dangerous coast, a "look out" is stationed to warn of the approach to reef or breaker. So the young; navigating the dangerous voyage of life, should establish reflection as the "look-out," to give timely notice of those fatal shoals of impradence and vice, upon which so many, originally possessing the brightest pros- during the present session, it was returned, pects, have been wrecked. Reflection is an important safe-guard in selecting associates forming habits, choosing occupations, and, in-leed in all that concern youth. The young man or woman who thinks deeply, will act wisely. They will be awar of the nature of the dangers which hover around their path, and therefore will act cautiously and They will be enabled to penetrate those specious appearances in which vice so frequently presents itself-they will look beneath the gaudy veil which so often covers the deformities of sin, and behold the native blackness of the monster. They will be aware that "all is not gold that glitters," and readily detect the gilded imitation when it would readily occupy the place of the pure metal. They will weigh well the influences and the he led astray by the deceitful devices of the transgressor.

NORTH-EASTERN BOUNDARY .- We learn from the Bangor Whig that Maj. Greeham has closed for the winter the survey on the North-eastern Boundary, and is now on his way to. Washington to report progress. He has had during the last summer about one hundred men in his employ. The trees upon the line have been removed, on the tops of the hills to a space of about one hundred feet, and lessening in width down to the valleys, and the whole line cleared and bushed ---The survey has been continued a few miles above the Grand Falls, very near which the line is found to run. The old line has been found very crooked, and the new running, with the straight line, takes in several houses in the country below Grand Falls, and in some instances portions of the cleared fields of the farmers there. Some of them would, at times, get exasperated at the proceedings, but most of them were rather calm. About sixty miles of the line, through an unbroken forest, still remains to be surveyed. N. Y. FASHIONABLE RASCALITY. -It is not to be concealed that this country is now honored with more than an ordinary number of the most accomplished foreign swindlers and knaves which ever escaped the gallows. The police in England have become exceedingly rigid. Hence ac -complished rogues prefer visiting this -country as fashionable gentlemen, to an dignominious transportation to Botany Bay. The American, in alluding to some 'fresh importations, remarks:-" They aamount to a very large number; most of them come poor, but the great chance, ffor plunder in New York and Padadelphia has enabled these adroit rascals to make unoney enough to assume the exterior of stravelling gentlemen, with large portmanteaus and bags, gold headed canes, gold whams and watches and a white servant, usually an occomplice. They are doing, nad-will continue to do, a fine hus ness. Some of this gang effected the last great robbery at Washington. Illinois Stocks .- Mr. Whitesides the Fund Commissioner of Libnois, gives notice that the loan of 8321,000, negotrated in June last with Manchester & Stehhins, for which $804 000 of State Bonds was lodged as collateral security has not been paid by said firm as agreed. and that " before any part of the stipulations made obligatory on the State were fulfilled, the trust alluded to had been violated by illegat hypothecation and sales." He therefore coutions the public from buying or selling these bonds, as the State of Illinois will not consider herself bound for them any further than for the amount of money actually received. He invites the holders of the stock to directed. meet at the Astor House, New York, for the purpose of a receiving a plan for an amicable settlement of this unfortunate transaction."

early next week. The Session will no doubt prove one of more than ordinary interest, and by its action, the credit of Pennsylvania will be either vindicated to some extent at least, or be still further weakened and dishonored. We are not sufficiently acquainted with the mass of gentlemen, elected, to enable us to form a definate opinion as to the general character of that body, as compared with former effects of every important step, and not Legislatures. But our Loco Foco breth ren assure us that their members are, in the mass, intelligent and upright; and that the disposition, is universal with them to do every thing in their power to relieve the State from its present degraded framcial condition. The difficulty, therefore, will not arise as to the disposition but the means. It is thought that the Governo: will recommend additional State taxation should that already in force prove inadequate. He may also venture to propose that the State Works be leased for a cer tain period; and that certain stocks be longing to the State be sold, and the funds applied to pay the debts of the Commonwealth. But, if these sugges tions should not be made by the Governor they will be made by some of the mem bers during the Session. Ly announcing to his numerous patrons and the pulpec at large shis arrangements for the year 1842, the proprietor of Godey's Lady's Book takes occasion to acknowledge the unparalleled and trumphant success of his Mag azine, which has now reached the extraordinary number of being a larger edition than has ever been ornied of any other work, of any description in America. This success he is aware ha been attained by the vast super ority which the Lady's Book has always maintained over the various contemporary may zines which have attempted to rival its inerits, a superiority which he is still determined to preserve, by reging it, in all its departments, Literary, intellectual and Moral, as well as Pictorial, Embiematic, Actistic and Mechanical.

That this is no idle-boast, he appeals to the xperience of the past twelve years, in all which time he has made no promise to the public that he has not fully performed, nor undertaken any thing which his means did not enable hun to occomplise to the uttermost.
